BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

The stage is set for the 12th and greatest Chicagoland Music Festival. The 13,000 members of the largest cast in festival history are ready. More than 85,000 reserved seat holders will hear their music and see their pageantry during an unforgettable night under the stars. The event is sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

For the first time in festival history, all reserved seats had been sold at noon yesterday. There have been sellouts before, but never until Saturday afternoon.

Starts at 7:30 P. M.

Because of numerous requests from out of towners and because of the great size of the cast, the Festival will start at 7:30 p. m., half an hour later than the hour announced previously. Those who wrote, telegraphed, and phoned, asking for the delay, explained that their work and the trip into Chicago had caused them to miss the first part of the show in previous years.

The Festival, as always, will present a world renowned musical figure. He is Giovanni Martinelli, who since 1910 has been charming audiences here and abroad. But there will be many other events that can be seen only at the Chicagoland Music Festival.

There will be the Festival chorus of 3,000 voices, the Festival Negro chorus of 1,000, and the Illinois Rural chorus of 400. Then all will sing together in the Festival finale under the direction of Dr. Edgar Nelson.

Other Unique Spectacles.

Among the other spectacles that will be unique or remarkable are the world's largest marimba symphony orchestra of 150 massive instruments, the world's largest plectrophonic band of 3,000 instruments, and the mammoth accordion massed band of 1,500. In addition, the massed brass bands will number 3,000 players.

In massed pageantry the festival holds a place of its own. This year 1,000 boys and girls will dramatize the celebrated Injun Summer cartoon of John T. McCutcheon. Mr. McCutcheon, himself, will receive the tribute of the vast audience when he rides down a field of corn shocks and Indian teepees in a carriage drawn by white horses.

There will be a touching memorial service for Ignace Jan Paderewski, during which will be heard the "Minuet," as it was played by the master on a recording piano several years ago. The audience will stand in silent tribute as taps is blown.

Bengal Guards Are Back.

The pageantry and stirring music of the evening will begin with field maneuvers by two nationally known marching bands; those of the Wewoka, Okla., High school, and the Bengal Guards of the Orange [Tex.] High school.

The Bengal Guards, with their precision drills and amazing formations, captivated the 1940 festival audience. This year their maneuvers will be new.

As in many festivals of years past the voices of the massed choirs will be borne on the music of the 100 piece symphony orchestra, under the direction of Henry Weber.

SEEKS TO SLASH USE OF PRIVATE CARS BY 20 PCT.

Edict Is Proclaimed by Henderson.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—A sweeping gasoline rationing system for the east, which means a cut of about 20 per cent in the fuel available for autos for pleasure or "nonessential" purposes, was established today by the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply, effective immediately. The rationing was proclaimed by Leon Henderson, head of the OPACS, at the request of Harold L. Ickes, petroleum coordinator.

Harold L. Ickes [top] and Leon Henderson.

The action, unprecedented in peace time, did not involve the issuance of ration cards to individual automobile operators, but slashed by 10 per cent the supplies delivered to service stations.

It was estimated, however, that the decrease would be approximately 20 per cent as applied to "nonessential" motor cars because it was announced supplies for fire department vehicles, ambulances, commercial and agricultural activities, and other essential services would not be reduced at all.

More Severe Cut in Prospect.

"It is expected more severe curtailments will be necessary in the future," the announcement said.

The rationing will affect 17 states and the District of Columbia. States affected are Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and a portion of Florida.

The announcement said the action was taken as an "emergency" measure to bring consumption of gasoline in the affected area into line with transport facilities. These facilities have been reduced by transfer of petroleum carrying ships from the coastwise service to the British.

[Fifty tankers were transferred to Britain before Ickes started on his campaign to cut gasoline consumption in the east so 100 more might be transferred. How many of these have been turned over has not been revealed, altho last week Ickes said he was assigning three tankers to take gasoline to Russia.]

Calls for No Discrimination.

After stipulating that no gasoline dealer deliver for monthly consumption more than 90 per cent of the amount delivered during July and ordering that there be no discrimination in sales to consumers, the order sets up preferences for deliveries. These are as follows:

[A] Operation of commercial vehicles so classified by law.

[B] Operation of vehicles necessary for the public health and safety, including ambulances and vehicles operated by doctors.

[C] Operation of farm machinery and motor trucks for farm purposes.

Ickes Explains Purpose.

"The purpose is to maintain a full 100 per cent supply of gasoline for designated essential services such as health and safety, and for commercial and agricultural activities, and for the man whose livelihood depends upon the use of his automobile," Ickes said in an announcement accompanying the order.

"However, the allocation order reduces by 10 per cent the amount of gasoline that the primary suppliers will hereafter provide for all purposes. It follows, therefore, that the amount of gasoline that will hereafter be available for purposes other than the designated essential ones will be curtailed. This curtailment in the amount that will be available for nonessential uses will approximate, we believe, 20 per cent."

Who Pays for War?

(An Editorial)

A grim picture of the life of the civilian under total war was presented to the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations on Tuesday by Geoffrey Crowther, editor of the authoritative London weekly, the Economist. The ordinary citizen in his country, even in the lower brackets, pays half his income to the government, the British editor said. To the ordinary income tax rate of 50 per cent a surtax is added, so that nobody has more than $20,000 a year left, and fewer than 100 in the whole country have that much.

Besides the income tax there are various excises, license fees, and sales taxes. The tax on gasoline is 25 cents a gallon. The license fee on a small automobile is $150 a year. We have become accustomed to a sales tax of 2 or 3 per cent in the United States. The British sales tax is 12 per cent on the necessities of life and 24 per cent on luxuries.

If all of these taxes do not provide a sufficient deterrent to him who would spend some of his money to obtain comforts, many things, including food and clothing, are rationed, and there is pressure upon him to purchase the government's bonds.

All this would indicate that the cost of the war in Great Britain largely is obtained by reducing the standard of living of the common people. Mr. Crowther said that this was really true, and used some figures to emphasize the point. Taking 100 as the total amount of goods and services purchased in Great Britain in 1938, he said that this consisted of 16 by the government and 84 by the people. The corresponding figures for last year were 68 for the government and 58 for the people. The total for 1940 was 126, or 26 per cent more than in 1938.

While the amount of purchases by the people was being cut from 84 to 58, the purchases of the government went from 16 to 68. This increase of 52 from 16 to 68 came from three sources, Mr. Crowther said. Only 6 was the result of an increase in production. A much larger share, 20, came from the using up of capital, in which he included the sale of American securities and gold in the United States. The remaining 26, the largest of all, came from the cutting down of consumption by the people. The British people are having their incomes taken away from them and their standard of living severely reduced, not as a result of an enemy's blockade, but by their own government in financing itself.

All of this without the British taking the offensive anywhere, or fighting even defensively on, say, the German-Russian scale!

Does this not suggest what the situation of the average American will be if we get into the war as a belligerent, not sitting on the sidelines watching the Reds wage their fight, but carrying the battle to the Nazis on their own continent?

PLEDGE TO REDS SIGNED BY U. S., BRITISH CHIEFS

Roosevelt, Churchill Ask for Parley.

Back in U.S. Today

Swampscott, Mass., Aug. 15.—President Roosevelt will return to the United States from his dramatic sea conference with Prime Minister Winston Churchill tomorrow afternoon. He will step from the Presidential yacht Potomac at Rockland, Me., and board his special train for Washington, where he expects to arrive Sunday. This announcement was made here tonight by Acting White House Secretary William D. Hassett, where a White House staff has been awaiting the President's return. Hassett said that Mr. Roosevelt probably will hold a press conference aboard the yacht and give the nation his version of the conference. A radio message, relayed from Washington, D. C., said the Potomac is anchored near Deer Island, Me.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain, while conferring on the British battleship Prince of Wales, addressed a joint message to the third member of the new triple alliance, Dictator Joe Stalin of Russia, promising maximum aid to defeat Hitler.

Calling "the brave and steadfast resistance" of Russia "vitally important to the defeat of Hitlerism," the American and British chiefs of state proposed to send missions to Moscow to plan an "apportionment of our joint resources" to the soviets.

[Associated Press dispatches from Moscow last night quoted Stalin as saying he is ready to "take all necessary steps" for the conference.]

The joint note was delivered to Stalin today by the American and British ambassadors in Moscow and was made public by the state department tonight.

Text of Arms Offer.

The text follows:

"We have taken the opportunity afforded by the consideration of the report of Mr. Harry Hopkins on his return from Moscow to consult together as to how best our two countries can help your country in the splendid defense that you are making against the Nazi attack. We are at the moment coöperating to provide you with the very maximum of supplies that you most urgently need. Already many shiploads have left our shores and more will leave in the immediate future.

"We must now turn our minds to the consideration of a more long term policy, since there still is a long and hard path to be traversed before there can be won that complete victory without which our efforts and sacrifices would be wasted.

"The war goes on upon many fronts and before it is over there may be further fighting fronts that will be developed. Our resources, tho immense, are limited, and it must become a question as to where and when those resources can best be used to further to the greatest extent our common effort. This applies equally to manufactured war supplies and to raw materials.

Would Determine Needs.

"The needs and demands of your and our armed services can only be determined in the light of the full knowledge of the many factors which must be taken into consideration in the decisions that we make. In order that all of us may be in a position to arrive at speedy decisions as to the apportionment of our joint resources, we suggest that we prepare for a meeting to be held at Moscow, to which we would send high representatives who could discuss these matters directly with you.

"If this conference appeals to you, we want you to know that pending the decisions of that conference we shall continue to send supplies and materials as rapidly as possible.

"We realize fully how vitally important to the defeat of Hitlerism is the brave and steadfast resistance of the soviet union, and we feel therefore that we must not in any circumstances fail to act quickly and immediately in this matter on planning

WHEN HORSES SPY 32 MATRONS IN SLACKS, THE HAYRIDE IS OFF!

Belleville, Ill., Aug. 15 [Special].—The unsuitability of slacks for women whose silhouettes indicate a carelessness about calories was demonstrated here today when 32 matrons climbed into a hayrack for a merry outing. They wore slacks as conducive to comfort.

Altho the horses wore blinkers, there were enough bulges within view when they cocked their heads around to discover why the wagon springs were complaining to cause them to turn conscientious objectors. Obviously, the day's pleasures were to be one sided.

"Giddap!" cried the driver. The horses responded with a token shrug. The wagon lurched forward an inch, then eased back. The driver cracked his whip. The white horse in the off position sat down. The driver got out and tugged at his head. The horse regarded him unblinkingly.

The 32 passengers responded to a suggestion that they get out. The horse then stood up. Cackling with glee, the women in pants climbed back. The white horse sat down again. The horse won. The hayrack party was transferred to automobiles, which have no will of their own.

AFL WARNS NEW UNEMPLOYMENT CRISIS IS NEAR

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—The American Federation of Labor today said labor faces a new unemployment crisis within the next 60 days because of contemplated reductions in the production of consumer goods and because the supply of certain raw materials for nondefense plants is being cut off.

The AFL monthly survey of economic conditions said defense officials had estimated that from 5,000 to 6,000 plants may be forced to close, leaving between 1,000,000 and 2,000,000 workers without employment.

"The only hope for such plants and their workers," the survey said, "is to change to defense work as quickly as possible. If this can not be done, workers must look for jobs elsewhere."

Chiefly affected by production cuts, the survey said, will be nondefense industries using aluminum, iron, steel, copper, zinc, brass, nickel, tin, rubber, silk, and cork.

3 Goons Fined Limit in Dairy Slugging Case

The three labor goons who beat Fred Twietmeyer, Homewood dairy operator, near Joliet on Aug. 8 pleaded guilty to charges of assault and battery and were given maximum penalties yesterday.

The sluggers—business agents of the Teamsters' and Chauffeurs' union in Joliet—are Howard and Elrie [Husky] Floyd and Jerry Dodge. Since the attack, they had been fishing in northern Wisconsin while Twietmeyer nursed a broken nose and Sheriff Joseph O'Neill's deputies searched much of Will county for them.

Early yesterday, Chief Deputy Hilbert Knater was tipped off that the trio was headed homeward. For an hour or two he waited on a likely road leading into Joliet. Shortly before noon up drove the goons, and Knater served each with a warrant charging assault and battery.

Fifteen Minutes of Action.

In the next 15 minutes the case was cleaned up. The goons summoned their attorney, Frank Jones. Knater called State's Attorney James E. Burke of Will county, who came running to the courtroom of Justice of the Peace John J. Egan of Joliet, ready to demand a high bond for the prisoners.

To Burke's surprise, Attorney Jones, after a 10 second parley with his clients, announced, "We want this case tried now. My clients plead guilty."

"If that's the case," Burke cried, "I demand that these men be given the fullest penalty for their crime. The minimum for assault and battery in our county is $3; the maximum is $100 and costs. I demand, judge, that these men be given the maximum penalty."

Goons Say Nothing.

There was no murmur of opposition from either the goons or their attorney. Justice of the Peace Egan nodded and fined each of the defendants $100 and $15 costs. The goons dug into their pockets, flipped over the stated amounts, and began to walk from the courtroom.

Before they left, tho, they heard Burke declare: "I'm only sorry the law doesn't provide a heavier penalty for what these men did. This community has no place for goon tactics.'

So swift were the developments that the goons' victim and accuser could not be notified in time to appear at the hearing. Informed of the developments, he said he was happy.

4TH NAZI DRIVE HAS LENINGRAD AS TARGET: REDS

Germany's fourth grand offensive was striking heavily from three sides at Leningrad, Moscow reported yesterday. Battles were raging on the Karelian isthmus, along the Estonian border, and 150 miles south of Russia's second largest city. In the Ukraine, Reds claimed the Nazi offensive had been checked.

Destruction of three encircled Red battalions on the Karelian front was claimed by the Finns in conjunction with German forces. These northern armies, they said, also menaced the railroad line running to Leningrad. Germany reported increased pressure on Odessa and Nikolaev, Black sea ports, and said its air force was hammering retreating Russian armies in the Ukraine.

Wire Churchill to Curb British Propagandists

The people of Arlington Heights last night sent a cable to Winston Churchill asking him to keep British propagandists at home. They told the English prime minister that, contrary to reports he may have had, 80 per cent of the American people oppose war, and they urged him to keep his pledge of Feb. 9 that England does not need American boys.

The message was proposed by the Rev. John A. O'Brien, professor in the graduate school at the University of Notre Dame and speaker at an America First anti-war rally in the new Arlington Heights park fieldhouse. The crowd which filled the meeting hall to overflowing accepted the idea with eager applause.

Copy to Mr. Roosevelt.

The listeners crowded forward to affix signatures to the cable and on a shouted suggestion from the audience, a copy was sent to President Roosevelt. Expenses of the message were defrayed by a collection taken in the hall. The cable read:

"Honorable Winston Churchill, 10 Downing street, London, England.

"We who address you are American residents of a midwestern community. We send Great Britain our prayers for her triumph.

"We are helping to send her mighty implements of war. We admire the great leadership you are giving Great Britain.

"We abhor Hitler. We abhor Stalin. We hate Nazism. We hate communism. But we have no fear for our country if we arm ourselves and stay out of European and Asiatic conflicts.

80 Per Cent Oppose War.

"We plead with you, Mr. Churchill, to refrain from further statements that our country is on the verge of war. We beg that you refrain from sending your envoys and law makers thru our great country on war propaganda missions.

"Contrary to what you may have heard, 80 per cent of our people oppose America entering this European and Asiatic war.

"We depend upon you to keep your pledge of last Feb. 9, concerning the armies of America, 'We do not need them this year, nor next year, nor any year that I can foresee.'

"[Signed] American Citizens of Illinois assembled at Arlington Heights."

Anthem Tells Creed.

The audience listened quietly when Father O'Brien read the first and third verses of America, which he said was the creed of America First, stated far better than he could state it. Then they joined him in singing the song.

The listeners applauded the speaker when he warned that the joint statement issued by Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt may be another step in the attempt to drag the United States into war. He drew special attention to a phrase in point six of the statement which read: "After the final destruction of the Nazi tyranny."

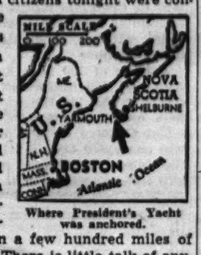
"There is a phrase significant and ominous," the speaker said. "It commits us by the same form of subtle indirection which has characterized the administration all along the line.

"Step by step, by subterfuge, indirection, and implication, we are being pulled willy-nilly into actual war against the wishes and without the knowledge of the vast majority of American people."

HINT CHURCHILL, F.D.R. HAD CONFERENCE OFF COAST OF NOVA SCOTIA

[Copyright: 1941: By the New York Times.]

YARMOUTH, Nova Scotia, Aug. 15.—Yarmouth citizens tonight were convinced the meetings between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill were held on British and American warships within a few hundred miles of this coast. There is little talk of anything else in Yarmouth tonight now that there is no need for censorship.



Where President's Yacht was anchored.

The Presidential yacht Potomac lay in Yarmouth harbor Wednesday. It left Wednesday evening and returned before dawn Thursday. The Potomac lay at Shelburne during the early days of the week, within sight of the huge naval defense base being constructed there.

Altho evidently only waiting for the American President, the Potomac attracted scores of interested yachtsmen. Scores of small craft circled the large yacht. Hundreds of persons lined the cliffs at Chebouge point to view the yacht. Many told of having seen Mr. Churchill as he paced the deck, smoking a big cigar. Few persons, however, believe either Mr. Churchill or Mr. Roosevelt were on the yacht while it was in any port. They do believe, tho, the sea rendezvous was not many miles from here.

HEWITT CALLS IN GARBAGE MEN TO ANSWER DOUGLAS

Checkers Tell How High It's Piled in Cars.

Ald. Paul H. Douglas [5th], who is chairman of a committee investigating the city's garbage problem, faced four of Commissioner of Public Works Oscar Hewitt's shock troopers yesterday. They left their garbage to come to the alderman with facts.

Douglas, who doubles as a professor of economics at the University of Chicago, has at several committee hearings questioned Hewitt's figures on refuse disposal.

The alderman has made no charges against any one but has said he was either [1] dubious, [2] puzzled, [3] astonished, or [4] surprised, when told disposal contractors who receive refuse at railroad loading stations are able to load flat cars with garbage to more than double their normal capacity.

Hewitt Makes His Reply.

Yesterday Commissioner Hewitt made his reply. He took before the committee Jerry Padula, who checks garbage loads at the station at McCormick road and Touhy avenue; Jack O'Shay from the station at 26th street and the Illinois Central, Jim Gillespie from the East South Water street and I. C. station, and Bob Wilcox from the station at 40th street and Ashland avenue.

Padula told Douglas he had measured several loaded freight cars yesterday.

"A gondola car was loaded with garbage 4 feet 8 inches above the top of the car walls," he said.

Ald. Douglas smiled at Padula.

"By a curious coincidence," said the alderman, "I was at McCormick and Touhy last night. I did not have a tape measure but I took a careful look. The top of the garbage did not seem to be more than three feet above the top of the car."

"Eyes are deceiving, alderman. I used a ruler," said Padula.

Another Checker Testifies.

Jack O'Shay was next. He said the garbage was piled 5 feet 6 inches above the tops of the cars at his station. He said he measured them.

"Again by a curious coincidence," said Douglas, "I went to that station last night and saw several cars. I would be greatly in error in my judgment if the tops were that high."

"I don't know what cars you looked at, alderman," responded O'Shay.

The same type of testimony was given by the two other checkers.

When they finished Douglas leaned across the committee table and searched the garbage checkers' faces.

"Are you sure," he asked, "that the loads were not particularly heavy yesterday? That they were not above the average?"

Gets Note from Office.

Jerry Padula spoke up.

"Last night," he said, "I quit work at 4 p. m. I drove right out to Round Lake to be with my family. The office never called me. I didn't see any one.

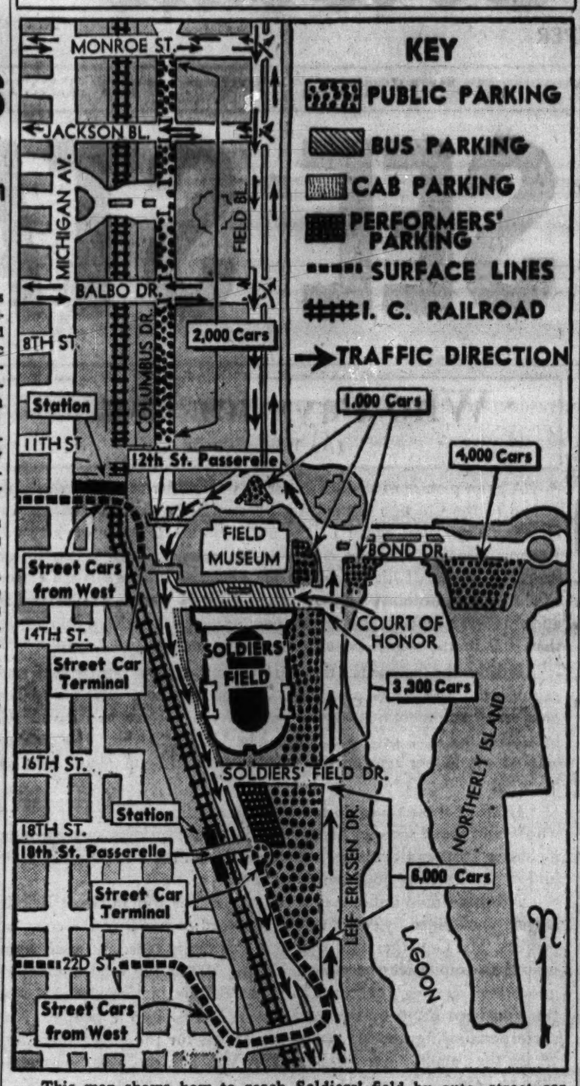
"I came to work at 10:30 this morning. There was a note to measure two cars and come down town. That's the way it was."

Hewitt beamed at that, and remarked:

"I also had a checker check the checkers. Are you satisfied, alderman, or do you want to hear from him?"

Douglas said he did not wish to hear the last witness. He adjourned the meeting.

How to Get to Soldiers' Field



This map shows how to reach Soldiers' field by auto, street car, bus, and train for the Chicagoland Music Festival to be held there tonight.

Parking space for more than 16,000 cars has been prepared in the vicinity of Soldiers' field to accommodate the thousands of persons expected to travel by automobile to the Chicagoland Music Festival tonight.

Otto K. Jelinek, chief traffic engineer of the Chicago park district, predicted that 12,000 to 13,000 cars will be driven to Soldiers' field.

"Cars from the south, west, and north sides will be segregated into sectional parking lots," Jelinek said. "This should do away with much of the delay experienced by motorists at previous large gatherings on the lake front."

The first 2,300 cars from the south side will be shunted into the parking area directly east of Soldiers' field. Later cars will be guided to the 4,500 car parking space on Northerly Island.

West side motorists will park in Columbus drive between 11th and Monroe streets. This section of the drive will accommodate 3,500 machines.

North side drivers will park in the 4,500 car area south of 16th drive.

Emergency parking lots on the east side of the Field museum and in the triangular area just north of the museum will accommodate 1,600 overflow machines.

A force of 100 park district policemen and 100 uniformed guards will direct traffic in the vicinity of the field and aid motorists in parking.

The Chicago Motor Coach company will run extra thru services on all its lines direct to Soldiers' field and also will run a special shuttle service from Randolph street and Michigan avenue beginning at 5 p. m.

The Illinois Central railroad will run special trains to its 18th street terminal beginning at 4 p. m.

Persons traveling by street car may take any eastbound car line terminating in Grant or Burnham parks. Rapid Transit officials reported that additional elevated trains will be put on to carry festivalgoers to the Roosevelt road station, from which they may transfer free to any street car or motor coach.

FARMERS TO GET MORE FOR JULY MILK DELIVERIES

Milk producers in the Chicago area are to receive 21 cents more per hundredweight [46.5 quarts] of 3.5 per cent test milk delivered in July than they received for milk delivered in June, according to price figures issued yesterday by A. W. Colebank, acting administrator of the federal milk marketing area.

The July blending price was fixed at $2.14 as against the June price of $1.93. This was described as the highest blended price since September, 1939. It is 44 cents more than the July, 1940, price.

Cash income of dairy farmers thruout the country for the first six months of 1941 totaled 888 million dollars, an increase of nearly 19 per cent over the first half of 1940, and the highest in more than 10 years, according to the Milk Industry Foundation.

NYE DECLARES BRITAIN WANTS SEA SOVEREIGNTY

Beloit, Wis., Aug. 15 [Special].—Declaring that he did not see in the Roosevelt-Churchill conference on the high seas "any particular threat of larger involvement in the European war for the American people," Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] tonight told 3,000 persons at an America First rally here "what Great Britain wants now is precisely what she wanted in 1919—not freedom of the seas but sovereignty of the seas by and for Great Britain."

"I am inclined to look upon the language which Roosevelt and Churchill saw fit to submit to the public following their conference as an evidence of a will to ease people—particularly the British people—into a position of readiness for a negotiated peace," the senator said.

"The 'Eight Points' to which they referred," he continued, "are as empty as paragraphs could be of substantial sense or meaning. It was a good sales talk, but in the light of what we know to be true, pretty much what Wendell Willkie would call campaign oratory," Nye declared.

Six Seized in Handbook Raids on Near South Side

Six men were arrested yesterday in raids made on alleged handbook resorts on the near south side. A squad from the morals division of the police seized one man at 632 South Wabash avenue. Capt. Thomas J. Duffy of the central district led the other raids; one at 120 East Cermak road, where three alleged operators were arrested, and one at 29 East Roosevelt road, where two were taken into custody.

Here's List of Choruses and Major Bands.

Festival Photos

As the festival throng begins to gather tonight in Soldiers' field, a corps of Tribune camera men will make about 100 photos of the early comers. These will appear in editions of THE TRIBUNE which will be on sale at the gates when the festival is over.

The great massed choruses and bands that are the most spectacular part, perhaps of the Chicagoland Music Festival are brought together for a single night each year—festival night. They can be seen only at the festival.

Dr. Edgar Nelson.

The remainder of the year they are scattered thru many states. Dozens of choruses, choirs, and bands and thousands of individual singers and instrumentalists make up these festival organizations. There is a particularly large percentage of unattached singers in the Festival chorus of 3,000 voices, which is conducted by Dr. Edgar Nelson, president of the Chicago Conservatory of Music.

And the percentage of individual instrumentalists is unusually high in the plectrophonic and accordion bands, which are recruited and rehearsed by Capt. Howard Stube, president of the Chicago Public Schools Band association.

Choral Organizations.

The organizations that make up the great massed chorus are listed here with the cities from which they come:

Meistersinger's Guild, Two Rivers, Wis.; Public Service Male chorus, Hammond; Southwestern Michigan Male chorus, Coloma, Mich.; Waukesha Motor Glee club, Waukesha, Wis.; Y. M. C. A. Glee club of Michigan City; Arioso Women's chorus, Chicago; Centralia Alma Methodist choral club Salem, Ill.; Delaware County Rural Women's chorus, Hopkinton, Ia.; Indianapolis Matinee Musicale; Linn County Women's Rural chorus, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; MacDowell club of Mount Vernon, Ill.; Pontiac Women's chorus, Pontiac, Ill.

Mother Singers' chorus, Springfield, Ill.; Royal Neighbor Supreme Office chorus, Rock Island, Ill.; Scott County Farm bureau chorus, Davenport, Ia.; Tippecanoe Home Economics chorus, West Lafayette, Ind.; Alice Stephens singers, Chicago; Egyptian Choral club, West Frankfort, Ill.; College Summer chorus, Carbondale, Ill.; First Christian church choir, Davenport, Ia.; Kalamazoo Women's Choral club, Kalamazoo, Mich.

La Salle County Rural chorus, La Salle, Ill.; Moline Youth choir, Moline, Ill.; Motet choir, Goshen, Ind.; Turner Glee Club, Moline, Ill.; Chicago Lithuanian chorus, Chicago; Hartnell Young People's choir, Chicago; Chicago Radio ensemble; Canticle singers, Chicago, and St. Agnes mixed chorus of Chicago Heights.

Massed Band Units.

The units of the mammoth brass bands, with the cities from which they come, follow:

Carillon band, Gary, Ind.; Chicago Boys' Club Concert band, Chicago; Maywood Concert band, Elmwood Park, Ill.; Monmouth Municipal band, Monmouth, Ill.; Durant Concert band, Davenport, Ia.; Cudahy Municipal Legion band, Cudahy, Wis.; Muscatine Boys and Girls band, Muscatine, Ia.; Netcher's Boston Store Concert band, Chicago; Palatine Township High school band; Wauwatosa Recreation band, West Allis, Wis.; U. N. I. A. Star Temple band, Chicago.

Catholic Youth Organization band, Chicago; Charleston High school band, Charleston, Ill.; Davenport High School Summer band, Davenport, Ia.; DuQuoin Township High school band, DuQuoin, Ill.; Flora Young People's band, Flora, Ill.; Largent's Concert band, Aurora, Ill.; Peru Junior Legion band, Peru, Ill.; Wewoka High school band, Wewoka, Okla.; Wurlitzer Concert band, Chicago; Aledo School band, Muscatine, Ia.; Benedict's Juvenile band, Galesburg, Ill.

Beverly Hills Community band, Chicago; Edward S. Tobin band, Oak Lawn, Ill.; Hurst Community band, Hurst, Ill.; Marengo Community High school band, Marengo, Ill.; Minonk School band, Minonk, Ill.

Oregon Junior Municipal band, Oregon, Ill.; Parker Juvenile band, Peoria, Ill.; Paul Stone Military band, Melrose Park, Ill.; St. Joseph Municipal band, St. Joseph, Mich.; St. Mary's Training school band, Des Plaines, Ill.; Sesser High school band, Sesser, Ill.; Sherrard High school band, Sherrard, Ill.; Waldron High school band, Waldron, Mich. Aledo Community band, Muscatine, Ia.; Milwaukee Kilties band, Milwaukee, Wis.; Benzal Guards, Orange, Tex.; Sea Scout Ship Yankee Clipper band, Elgin, Ill.; Minnetonka Camp Fire Girls, Chicago; Cadian Ensemble, Geneseo, Ill.; Central Drum and Bugle corps, Chicago; Sons of Legion band, Kenosha, Wis.; Sons of American Legion Drum and Bugle corps, Chicago.

Stringed Organizations.

Among the organizations that go to make up the vast plectrophonic band are:

Chicago School of Music String orchestra, Chicago; Chicago Plectrophonic orchestra, Chicago; Detroit YMCA Banjo orchestra, Detroit, Mich.; Elgin Hawaiian Guitar band, Elgin, Ill.; Geraldine Ellis Electric Hawaiian Guitar band, South Bend, Ind.; Gould Banjo band, Minneapolis, Minn.; Gold Mandolin orchestra, Minneapolis; Guszardo Stringphonic band, Rockford, Ill.; Hanover Oahu Guitar band, Hanover, Pa.

Honolulu Harmony orchestra, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Honolulu Guitar club, Altoona, Pa.; Honolulu Troubadors, Kankakee, Ill.; Nellie N. Walt's Oahu Guitarists, La Salle, Ill.; Oahu Hawaiian Guitar band, Cedar Rapids, Ia.; Waikiki String Ensemble, Muncie, Ind.

Accordion Bands.

Among the organizations that will help make up the accordion massed band are:

Borell's Accordion band, Spring Valley, Ill.; Chicago School of Music Accordion band, Chicago; Eichar's Accordion band, Springfield, Ill.; Holy Mount Accordion Band of Cicero, Berwyn, Ill.; Joy's Accordion band, Aurora, Ill.; Largent's Concert Accordion band, Aurora, Ill., and the Little Flower Accordion band, Chicago.

In addition to the plectrophonic and accordion units listed here, sections of many other organizations will play in the massed ensembles. Other groups notified the Festival management only of the leader's name and neglected to give the organization name.

WOMAN, 68, HUNTS IN CITY FOR TWO LOST BROTHERS

Mrs. Mina Hartley Baker, 68 years old, of Flourtown, Pa., was walking the streets of Chicago yesterday questioning strangers in the hope of locating two brothers of whom she has had no knowledge in more than 25 years. She said she will continue her search until she finds them. She and her husband, Silas, are growing old, she said, and she wants to find her kin so that she can leave them the family property.

One of the brothers, William H. Hartley, who would now be about 66, had a tailoring business at 76 South La Salle street, while the other, James, who would now be 62, lived at 4522 Princeton avenue around 1909 and had four children, two of them were William and Myrtle. Inquiries at these addresses disclosed no one who had any recollection of either brother.

"It's my fault I lost track of them," Mrs. Baker told Sergt. Joseph Starshak of the missing persons bureau. "I just kept putting off answering their letters too long."

Hearing Set for Aug. 22 on Esquire Bar License

The state liquor control commission yesterday set Aug. 22 for a hearing on revocation of the liquor license of the Esquire club, a gambling casino on Waukegan road north of Lake avenue, in Northfield township, 11 of whose employés were fined after a recent raid. John J. Walsh, investigator for the county liquor control commission, reported that he had found the bar and casino closed on several inspections since the raid.

2,200 HAVE FUN AT LUNCHEON OF MUSIC FESTIVAL

Also Feasting, Pageantry, Sentiment and Song.

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Two and one-half hours of humor, sentiment, feasting, pageantry, and music were enjoyed by more than 2,200 persons yesterday at the fifth annual Chicagoland Music Festival luncheon. The grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel was filled to the bursting point, and there were other tables outside in the lobby. The luncheon served as a preliminary to the 12th annual Chicagoland Music Festival, which is to be held tonight in Soldiers' field.

The guest of honor and principal speaker was the dean of American cartoonists, John T. McCutcheon of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. In a speech full of quiet Hoosier charm he acceded to a request to explain how he came to draw his most famous cartoon, "Injun Summer," which is to be presented in pageant form at Soldiers' field tonight.

Some Boyhood Memories.

"The farmhouse in which I was born was surrounded by corn fields," McCutcheon said. "Not far away was the site of the Indian village of Ouiatenon and the battlefield of Tippecanoe. The early fall saw tasseled rows of corn like the waving spears of Indians, and a little later came the corn shocks, so much like tepees in the smoky haze of Indian summer.

"Many years later, seated at a drawing board, I wondered what I could draw for the next day's TRIBUNE. Out of the deep past came the images that resulted in the cartoon you see nearly every autumn here in the middle west. The character of Injun Joe was a vivid memory from my 'Tom Sawyer' days, so I captioned the drawing 'Injun Summer' instead of the more formal Indian Summer."

Because "Injun Summer" is timeless, and therefore always seems contemporary, the date of its creation came as a surprise. It was drawn nearly 34 years ago—on Sept. 29, 1907.

Tradition Arises.

The day after the cartoon appeared, McCutcheon said, his friend, Howard Gillette, asked for the original, which 20 years later he presented to the Chicago Historical society, where it now hangs. Requests from readers the year after its first publication and every year since have resulted in the tradition of reproducing "Injun Summer" each fall in THE TRIBUNE.

"'Injun Summer' was born in a brief period of tranquility between two wars," McCutcheon said, "and I like to think of it as a symbol of peace and plenty. All the Indians in it are good Indians."

McCutcheon was introduced by his long time friend, the renowned Indiana humorist, George Ade, thus reversing the procedure of two years ago, when McCutcheon introduced Ade.

Tribute from Indian.

Before the end of the luncheon, McCutcheon was honored by Chief Daybreak, from the Wisconsin Dells. McCutcheon was presented with a peace pipe and given the name Wa-Cho-Su-Ka, which means "leader." The ceremony was preceded by an Indian dance given by Elgin, Ill., Boy Scouts under the direction of Carl Pariasca.

Another speaker was that born cut-up, Billy Bryant of showboat fame.

Most of the pageantry of the afternoon was provided by the colorful Bengal Guards of Orange, Tex. These 136 comely girls, who were brought to the festival this year, as they were last, by H. J. Lutcher Stark, marched about in their splendid uniforms, played their instruments lustily, and punctuated their activities with songs, pistol shots, and shrill whistles.

Other Musical Features.

Sharing the balcony with them for a part of the afternoon was the championship high school band of Wewoka, Okla. Other music was provided by the Chicago Firemen's ensemble, Tony Corcoran directing [theme song —"Smoke Gets in Your Eyes"]; the Wing chorus [35 men from Chanute flying field, Rantoul, Ill.], and the two winners of the solo contests of last year's festival—Irma Cooper, soprano, and William Strom, tenor.

Members of the audience themselves sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and "Auld Lang Syne," directed by Frank Bennett and Carl Craven, respectively.

The invocation was given by Albert Cotsworth, beloved Chicago music critic and editor emeritus of Music News.

A fashion show in which the mannequins turned out to be, of all things, Evanston Boy Scouts, was presented by Rea Seeger, fashion editor of THE TRIBUNE.

GIRL, 8, HURT IN FALL.

Joan Carey, 8 years old, 1517 West 14th place, suffered a possible skull fracture last night when she fell from the second story front porch of her home. She was taken to the county hospital.

W-G-N TO PUT MUSIC FESTIVAL ON AIR TONIGHT

Col. McCormick to Give Weekly Address.

Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, will present his regular weekly talk over W-G-N and the coast to coast Mutual network from 9 to 9:15 tonight.

Then, in place of the regular Chicagoland Hour broadcast, W-G-N and the Mutual network will broadcast the 12th annual Chicagoland Music Festival in Soldiers' Field from 9:15 to 10:45 p. m. Thru this broadcast millions of listeners thruout the United States will join with more than 85,000 spectators in enjoying the music, color, and pageantry of this festival presented each year by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE with the coöperation of musical organizations in many states.

Use 28 Microphones.

A special corps of eight engineers has worked for weeks to arrange the Music Festival broadcast. Twenty-eight microphones placed at many points in the field will be utilized so that the radio listeners will not miss one note of the festival's attractions.

Pierre Andre will be the announcer describing the scene for more than 100 Mutual stations. Lou Jackobson will be the producer in charge of the Festival broadcast.

Three Broadcasts Given.

The broadcast from Soldiers' field will be one of three which W-G-N will have presented to give complete coverage to Music Festival proceedings. Yesterday the station broadcast a description of the Festival luncheon in the grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel. The second broadcast will be this afternoon at 5:30 and will present semifinalists in men and women's vocal groups, as well as winners in the choral and solo instrumentalist groupings.

FORT DEARBORN 1812 MASSACRE DATE OBSERVED

Ceremonies commemorating the 129th anniversary of the Fort Dearborn masacre, were held yesterday at the southwest tower of the Michigan avenue bridge, near the site of the old fort.

While hundreds of spectators looked on, and motor traffic halted or slowed, a squad of soldiers from Fort Sheridan fired a volley. Wreaths were placed at the Fort Dearborn plaque. Maj. Harry Musham, chairman of the Fort Dearborn commission, had charge of the ceremony.

The massacre took place on Aug. 15, 1812. Ninety-nine soldiers, civilians, and Indians, including women and children, were attacked along the lake front between 18th and old 22d street by a band of 500 Indians. Seventy-four were slain.

In another ceremony, members of the junior chapter of the Park Ridge America First committee, paid tribute to the memory of Billy Caldwell, Indian hero, by planting a new elm and placing a wreath in Sauganash, Rogers, Kilbourn, and Caldwell avenues. Caldwell traveled by foot and canoe from Detroit to Fort Dearborn to try to prevent the massacre, but arrived 24 hours late.

FESTIVAL WEEKS BEGINNING TODAY HAILED BY MAYOR

Mayor Kelly has designated the period beginning today and ending with Labor day as "Chicago Festival weeks" and has urged that all Chicagoans join with the Chicago Association of Commerce in telling outsiders of the great recreational and entertainment features crowded into the 17 days.

Among the events the mayor mentioned the Chicagoland Music Festival, the All-Star football game, the amateur golf championship, and the Negro Music festival. The festival weeks, he said, would afford Chicagoans a chance to become reacquainted with their own home town attractions.

10,000 FESTIVAL TICKETS LEFT; NONE RESERVED

Ten thousand general admission tickets—the only tickets available for the 12th Chicagoland Music Festival—will go on sale at Soldiers' field at 8 p .m. tonight, festival authorities announced last night.

The first 5,000 persons to buy the general admission tickets, which will sell for 25 cents, will receive seats. The remaining 5,000 will be for standing room only. Officials explained that the general admission tickets cannot be placed on sale before 8 p. m. because ushers in the stands cannot direct non-reserved seat patrons while assisting the reserved seat holders in finding their places.

Tickets will be on sale at booths near gates 15 and 16. The non-reserved ticket holders will enter at gates 11 and 12.

U. S. TO REQUIRE ENTRY AND EXIT TRAVEL PERMITS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—All American citizens and aliens desiring to enter or leave the United States after Sept. 1, will be required to secure entry or exit permits or their equivalent under new regulations under preparation by the state and justice departments. This does not apply to American citizens going to Canada or Mexico.

President Roosevelt is expected to announce the new policy in the interests of national preparedness thru a proclamation to be issued soon after his return to Washington.

The new regulations are designed particularly to curb the movements of spies, propagandists, fifth columnists or other travelers whose activities would be detrimental to the interests of the United States.

11 U. C. TEACHERS WANT U. S. TO GO TO WAR AT ONCE

Urge Entire Faculty to Sign Petition.

Eleven members of the University of Chicago faculty are collecting signatures of fellow faculty members for a petition to the President and congress urging immediate action by the navy to destroy all enemy vessels and aircraft which threaten vital United States sea lanes, and all other action necessary to assure the defeat of Nazi Germany.

Bernadotte Schmitt, professor of modern history, revealed yesterday that copies of the petition and return postcards had been mailed eight days ago to all regular faculty members, but declined to say how many signatures have been obtained.

Disagree with Hutchins.

Another member of the committee circulating the petition is William H. Spencer, dean of the business school. He and Schmitt were two of the five faculty members who last April publicly disavowed the counsel of Dr. Robert M. Hutchins, president of the university, after he warned in a nation-wide broadcast against American involvement in the war.

The average age of the petitioners is 50 years. The youngest is 43. Schmitt, 55 years old, went to Oxford university, England, as a Rhodes scholar from Tennessee in 1905, and remained at the British university until 1913, taking two degrees.

Working for Britain.

Other petitioners included:

Bessie Louise Pierce, 51 years old, associate professor of American history, now on a year's leave of absence to stump the country for aid to Britain and a member of the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library commission; Quincy Wright, 50, professor of international law, director of the Foreign Bondholders Protective council, which is interested largely in protecting South American investments; William F. Edgerton, 48, professor of Egyptology, nominal chairman of the committee; Canadian born and educated Ernest J. Chave, 55, associate professor of religious education, who was naturalized in 1928; Louis Wirth, 44, associate dean of the social science division; George G. Bogert, 57, professor of law; John M. Beal, 53, professor of botany; Charles Hartshorne, 44, assistant professor of philosophy; and W. Lloyd Warner, 43, associate professor of anthropology and sociology.

The petition states the belief of the signers that the President and especially congress have been behind the trend of public opinion, and that the American people are prepared to accept vigorous leadership and go forward.

U. S. AND BRITISH JOINT PLEDGE IS SENT TO STALIN

Roosevelt and Churchill Ask Parley in Moscow.

the program for the future allocation of our joint resources."

Administration officials today were awaiting the return of President Roosevelt to Washington for disclosure of the war measures agreed upon in the conference aboard the British battleship in the North Atlantic.

In a general way it is known that these measures include the employment of the armed forces of the United States in coöperation with the British in both the trans-Atlantic and the trans-Pacific theaters of war.

The joint declaration subscribed to by Messrs. Roosevelt and Churchill generally is regarded as a further step by the President to commit the United States to a fighting war.

Lacks Congressional Approval.

In the lend-lease act the President procured the sanction of congress indirectly to a defensive alliance with the British empire. In the joint declaration, he purposes to transform the defensive alliance into an offensive alliance for the destruction of the axis powers.

For this further step, however, he lacks the sanction of congress. It is for this reason that Senator David I. Walsh [D., Mass.] and others are charging that the President exceeded his constitutional authority in entering into the agreement, virtually a treaty, with the British chief of state.

Representative Lewis D. Thill [D., Wis.] expressed doubt today that President Roosevelt had acted within his capacity as chief executive in his conference with Prime Minister Churchill.

Cites Wilson Parallel.

Thill declared that a special congressional resolution was passed to empower President Wilson to act in an official capacity at the European peace conference following the World war.

"If the Roosevelt-Churchill conference occurred outside of the United States territorial limits, the President may not have been acting officially," Thill said.

He submitted as a comparable case an Oklahoma state court ruling that the state's governor could not act in his official capacity when outside the state's boundaries.

In carrying the offensive alliance into effect, the President finds himself in a difficult position between the British on the one hand, who are asking for the assignment of American warships to coöperate with British forces, and on the other hand the American people who are overwhelmingly opposed to the dispatch of our armed forces to fight overseas.

Radio Broadcast Expected.

Mr. Roosevelt is up against the proposition of selling the offensive alliance to his countrymen. For that reason it is expected that the President will seize an early opportunity to give the country another fireside chat on the radio, possibly on the occasion when he takes the first definite step to implement the offensive alliance.

Representative Roy O. Woodruff [R., Mich.] charged that "ways and means of luring the American people into this war undoubtedly were discussed" in President Roosevelt's conferences with Prime Minister Churchill.

"Within 30 days," Woodruff predicted, "a new wave of propaganda will begin in the United States, the theme song of which will be that Britain is so near exhaustion that if we do not rush over more supplies, and if we do not get into the fight with our navy, Britain will have to quit and we will see Hitler's shells falling on New York City."

Awaits London's Message.

Woodruff termed the eight-point war aim statement a "weak paraphrase of Woodrow Wilson's 14 points" and predicted "the real details will come—as they always do—not frankly from the White House at Washington, but bluntly from London."

Woodruff declared that inclusion of high ranking military and naval officials in the conferences indicated that "more than the eight point program" was decided upon.

Representative Harold Knutson [R., Minn.] asserted in the house that the country should be given a full explanation as to why no American newsmen were permitted to accompany President Roosevelt to his meeting with Prime Minister Churchill.

Knutson noted that London papers had been able to reveal a good many details of the meeting that could not be learned in this country. [London dispatches have reported that representatives of the British ministry of information accompanied Churchill to the meeting.]

British Press Respected.

"All of this would indicate," Knutson said, "that the British prime minister did not ignore the right of the British press to be present on this historic occasion, as did President Roosevelt.

"The President's deparature for the rendezvous was shrouded in deepest mystery. Not a single American newspaper man was permitted to accompany him. The first report that we received of the meeting came from London, and for a number of days it was treated as a mere rumor. It wasn't until yesterday morning that the American people learned definitely that such a meeting had been held.

"Naturally, those Americans who yet do their own thinking and have a regard for the future of their own country are asking why the British press was permitted to get the biggest 'scoop' of the year while the American press was utterly ignored.

Churchill Afraid of Public.

"It is probable that Mr. Churchill would have left the newsboys at home had he dared to do so, but the Englishman is a peculiar chap. He demands to be kept fully informed of what is going on in his government, and Churchill evidently did not deem it advisable to completely ignore his countrymen in connection with such a historic meeting. Therefore, he took representatives of the press with him that the British people might be kept fully informed.

"The President loves publicity. This is the first time any one can recall the President shunning publicity. Usually he dotes on it. There must have been a very good reason for him leaving the newsboys and photographers at home.

"What are those reasons? Has he entered into commitments of which we know nothing, and which might arouse the American people were they made public?

"It is to be hoped that the President will see fit to take the American people into his confidence upon his return to Washington. The American people are not children and they do not like to be treated as such. After all, this is their country and they have every right to know what steps the President has taken that may affect vitally the future of our country."

VATICAN PRESSES FIGHT OVER ITALY'S OUSTER OF JUGO-SLAV ENVOY

[Copyright: 1941: By the New York Times.]

ROME, Aug. 15.—The incident provoked by the expulsion from Italy on July 28 of the Jugo-Slav minister to the Holy See is not closed, sources close to the Vatican secretariat of state disclosed today. The envoy, Niko Mirosevitch, was ordered out of Italy by the Fascist authorities on the charge he was making political propaganda.

The Holy See, it was learned, is insisting on the Vatican's right as a sovereign state to recognize any diplomatic representative accredited to it. According to the terms of the Lateran treaty, Italy is obliged to maintain such diplomats on its territory or at least to place no obstacle in the way of their passage into Vatican territory.

Neither side is showing signs of relenting in the controversy.

HOUSE APPROVES 245 MILLION FOR NAVY LAND WORK

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—The house completed congressional action today on legislation authorizing $244,929,800 worth of naval shore facilities.

The measure authorized a submarine base at Wake Island to cost $4,679,000; a $10,250,000 ammunition depot at Burns City, Ind.; a naval air station at Barbers Point, Hawaii, $18,605,000; a naval air station at Cavite, Philippine islands, $5,570,000; additional aviation facilities at Corpus Christi, Tex., $8,522,500; a $3,790,000 air station at Whidy Island, Wash.; development of additional underground fuel storage at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, at a cost of $16,000,000; and additional fleet supply facilities at Bayonne, N. J., $7,300,000.

Also authorized in the bill is $14,500,000 for development of flood lighting and other safety measures at navy yards and naval stations, and $12,000,000 to develop storage facilities for fuel and Diesel oil.

SHELTER MAY BE CLOSED, FUNDS GOING ABROAD

New York, Aug. 15 [Special].—The mushroom growth of relief agencies formed to help warring countries abroad was cited today by Mrs. Louise Goldberg, executive director of the Children's shelter of Manhattan, as one of the principal reasons the shelter may be forced to close, after 30 years of service, unless further funds can be raised.

The shelter, where children from 2 weeks to 6 years of age are cared for when their mothers are unable to give them attention, operates on an annual budget of $15,000. President S. A. Reinach Jr. reported $5,000 could be raised from the membership of 600, but that $10,000 must be obtained from other sources. The institution is the oldest temporary shelter here for children of the poor.

NAZIS WARN F.D.R. AIM WOULD 'PLOW UNDER U. S. BOYS'

Say Disarming of Reich Would Be Costly.

BERLIN, Aug. 15 (AP).—Deutsche Diplomatisch Politische Korrespondenz, mouthpiece of the German foreign office, issued a warning tonight of the "dangers" connected with any attempt to eliminate Nazism and disarm Germany.

In its second sharp attack on the Roosevelt-Churchill war aims program the publication said:

"Whoever purposes to eliminate National Socialism and its Fuehrer in the reich, whoever dares wish again to disarm the German people, thoughtlessly occasions danger for his nation. A man such as Roosevelt really ought to know the extent of such dangers."

It said such an attempt would "plow under many hundreds of thousands of young Americans with the sole result that the German nation, in victoriously warding off an unprovoked attack, would more than ever hold fast to what is the best guarantee for its greatness and at the same time for the security of the European continent."

Call Parley "100 Per Cent Flop."

The meeting of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill was characterized by authorized German sources as "a 100 per cent flop." The meeting, these sources claimed, gave Germany "the most favorable diplomatic position possible."

"The President of the United States and the British prime minister are in a bad situation," they said. "Ever since Sumner Welles [American undersecretary of state] formulated ideas concerning a new postwar order including a new league of nations and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden replied with a demand for one authoritative power to police Europe, we have noticed a discrepancy between the aims of the two countries, but we didn't dream the divergence was so great as has now been revealed."

"Battle Lost; Seek Goat."

These sources remarked that it was significant the British kept emphasizing that it was President Roosevelt who took the initiative for the meeting.

"It is an old accepted fact that when the battle is won everybody claims the credit, but when it is lost one looks for a goat. It would be undignified ever to discuss the Roosevelt-Churchill eight points. We know but one offensive and that is military. We have but one aim and that is the annihilation of the enemy. We have but one task and that is victory. If the so-called democracies want Germany disarmed, let them come and get our arms."

F. D. R. in War Already—Rome.

ROME, Aug. 15 (AP).—Fascist observers said today they accepted the joint declaration by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill as indicating the President considers the United States already in the "war" whatever may be the opinion of the American people and congress."

Cuba Orders 6 Nazi Consuls and One Italian to Depart

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 15 (AP).—The Cuban state department today ordered the departure by Sept. 1 of six German consuls whose consulates have been closed for alleged improper activities. The Italian minister also was told that the Italian consul in Havana should leave by Sept. 1. This consul, Amadeo Barletta, headed an automobile agency which is on the United States blacklist.

U.S.-BRITISH-RED WAR FRONT MOVE SEEN BY LONDON

Say F. D. R. Plea to Stalin Puts Entry Nearer.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 16 [Saturday].—Russia, Great Britain, and the United States are forming a common front against Germany. This was the concensus of opinion here today following publication of the Roosevelt-Churchill joint proposal to Russian Dictator Josef Stalin for a three-power conference in Moscow.

The chief importance, of course, is attached to the fact that the proposed tripartite discussions are expected to cover not merely war supplies, but obviously war strategy, also. This is interpreted here directly as meaning that Roosevelt intends to put American military forces into the battle for a new Moscow-London-Washington world order.

See More Active U. S. Rôle.

The News-Chronicle informs its readers on the front page that "America has made up its mind on two things: One, the United States is committed to a far more active and direct rôle than hitherto played in the British war effort, and [2] the real results of the Roosevelt-Churchill conference have not been revealed, but they certainly are not contained in the eight point postwar peace aim declaration."

After citing the imposing list of British-American naval chiefs present at the ocean meeting, the News-Chronicle says, "All of them, of course, would be glad to see the Stars and Stripes sailing nearer the British isles and patrolling even a greater part of the Atlantic than now. Experts consider that the admirals of both countries must have seen many ways in which the United States navy could help the admiralty in the vital task of getting more and more supplies to Britain and its Russian ally."

Call Red Aid Main Topic.

Minister of Supply Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express describes the message to Stalin as "part of the business end of the conference." Naval coöperation with Russia was one of the main topics of the discussion between Churchill and Roosevelt, according to the Daily Herald, others being the far east and the position of Dakar, and the south Atlantic.

Well informed sources here suggest that Beaverbrook or Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden will be the British delegate to the Moscow conference. It is expected that Harry Hopkins, President Roosevelt's personal lend-lease coördinator, will represent America, since he already has talked with Stalin and is admittedly responsible for urging Roosevelt and Churchill to propose the conference.

Exile Regimes to Act.

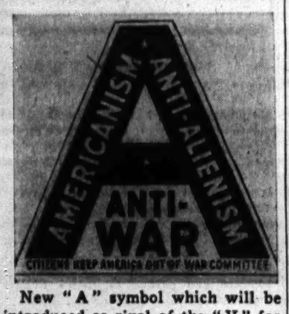
All occupied countries in Europe whose governments are now exiled in London will be consulted on new developments resulting from the Roosevelt-Churchill meeting, according to the News-Chronicle. They will meet in London soon as an interallied council to make plans for the economic reconstruction envisaged in the peace aims declaration.

With Britain still waiting to learn whether Prime Minister Churchill has returned to London, the first immediate decision, according to reports from Washington, was Roosevelt's promise to obtain from congress another 1,500 million pounds [about 6,000 million dollars] to add to the original lend-lease fund.

Newspapers predict that Churchill, who fancies himself in the role of a reporter, will elaborate on the meeting with Roosevelt, probably in a worldwide broadcast.

That the conviction that America will not keep out of the war has become general here was shown in a speech by Field Marshal Lord Ironside. Inaugurating a war savings drive at St. Edmunds yesterday, Ironside said, "The joint British-American declaration means that our two countries are now together to the finish in this war and will not listen to any specious arguments in favor of peace."

Americanism Symbol



New "A" symbol which will be introduced as rival of the "V" for victory campaign.

William J. Grace, director of the Citizens Keep America Out of War committee, introduced at a meeting in the La Salle hotel last night a new symbol, the letter "A," with which he said the committee is to flood the country in a campaign against the "V" for victory symbol of the British. Grace asserted the "V" is a communistic symbol of internationalism, and of British hopes for Union Now. The blue "A" on a white background bears the word "Americanism" on one side, "anti-alienism" on the other, and across the middle, in red, "antiwar."

The committee adopted a resolution expressing "deep concern" over the President's meeting at sea with Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain. The resolution demanded "in the name of the dead who were betrayed by our leaders in the last war," that the President cancel war agreements which he made with Britain and Russia.

Spanish Volunteers Join Nazis on Russian Front

GIBRALTAR, Aug. 15. — Spain's "Blue division" under Gen. Augustin Munoz Grande has arrived on the Russian front and has been formally incorporated into the German army, it was reported here today. The newspaper Informaciones of Madrid wrote that "Once again Spanish troops are firmly treading foreign land for the faith of Christ and the honor of our country."

BRITAIN CLAIMS GAINS IN BATTLE OF THE ATLANTIC

LONDON, Aug. 15 (AP).—Britain's position in the battle of the Atlantic is "very much better" than in the early summer because of widening operations against German submarines and "most valuable" United States assistance, authoritative sources declared today.

Altho the scale of attacks has remained about the same and increased in some areas, these sources said British aircraft and surface units have "done very well in recent weeks." The axis has "suffered very heavily" in the Mediterranean, they added, the British there attacking enemy convoys successfully.

Patrols by American-made Catalina aircraft have forced German submarines to operate farther westward, it was said, thereby forcing the U-boats to use more fuel, shortening their period of offensive operations. Strong patrols of the coastal command have kept Britain's coasts relatively free of German bombers.

CONGRESS VOTES ARMS MEASURE OF 4,254 MILLION

Stimson Letter Admits Lack Despite Billions Spent.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—Congress today voted to give the war department 4,254 million dollars after receiving a letter from Secretary Henry L. Stimson admitting that 20,000 million dollars heretofore appropriated for the army will leave it short of modern weapons.

The war department appropriation was contained in the 7,588 million dollar first supplemental bill of the new fiscal year, which also included additional funds for the shipbuilding programs of the navy and the maritime commission. A conference agreement on the measure was approved by both houses of congress and sent to the White House.

Yesterday the senate rejected, without objection, a war department request for an appropriation of 1,347 million dollars for special ordnance items. As a result of Stimson's urgent appeal, the conferees restored 750 million dollars to the disputed item today.

Varies with Testimony.

Stimson's letter to the senate and house conferees told a story altogether different from the testimony of war department officials which prompted the senate appropriations committee and the senate itself to reject the 1,347 million dollar special ordnance item unanimously.

War department officials repeatedly testified before the appropriations committee that the 1,347 million dollars was required for a reserve ordnance pool "over and above" the requirements to equip a force of 3 million men completely and maintain it on combat status for a year.

Secretary Stimson's letter admitted that the testimony of "certain witnesses" supported the statement in the committee's report that the 1,347 million dollar item "represents requests made by the department over and above the requirement to equip and maintain an army of 3 million men." But the statement, Stimson said, was "not wholly accurate."

Explains Purpose of Fund.

Stimson's letter then explains, in great detail, that the army wanted the money for modern armament to equip the force of 1,727,000 which it soon will have in existence and the augmented force of 3 million that would be mobilized in the event of war.

Stimson's letter said the request for 1,347 million dollars covered the following items:

Light tanks with armament.
Medium tanks with armament.
Gyrostabilizer units for light and medium tanks.
Power traversing mechanisms for light tanks.
90 mm. anti-aircraft guns, complete with fire control and accessories.
4.7 inch anti-aircraft guns, complete with fire control and accessories.

.50 Caliber Guns Included.

.50 caliber machine guns, anti-aircraft, water cooled, complete with fire control.
40 mm. anti-aircraft guns, Bofors, complete with fire control.
37 mm. anti-tank guns.
3 inch anti-tank guns, wheeled.
4.5 inch anti-tank guns, with self-propelled mount.
155 mm. guns [self-propelled mount only].
75 mm. guns to be supplied with anti-tank carriages.
Shell, high explosive, 90 mm., complete round.
Shell, high explosive, 4.7 inch complete round.
Machine tools.

Only Few Gyrostabilizers.

"A portion of the items included . . . are within the requirements for the 3 million man army," Stimson's letter said. "For example, gyrostabilizers and power traversing mechanisms for light tanks. Indeed, there are few, if any, of these weapons which would not, under certain conditions, be required for an army of 3 million men or even less.

"The gyrostabilizers which are requested are required for tanks for the armored divisions and separate tank battalions now included in the 3 million man troop basis as well as for the additional tanks provided in these estimates.

"This device makes a stable firing platform of the tank which, without the device, is a very poor firing platform. It will enable tanks, which must now stop to secure any reasonable accuracy of fire, to fire accurately while in motion, will reduce the vulnerability of the tank to enemy fire, and will greatly increase the effectiveness of tank fire."

Would Increase Fire Speed.

Stimson said the power traversing mechanisms for light tanks would enable the guns of the tanks to be trained by power rather than by hand and permit more rapid and more accurate firing.

"The lessons of the present war have indicated that the density of anti-aircraft guns must be increased beyond that now provided for units within the troop basis for 3 million men," Stimson's letter said.

"It is useless to organize new anti-aircraft units until equipment becomes available for their training. At the present time the number of anti-aircraft units organized requires every available resource in anti-aircraft equipment for training."

The letter said that "one of the most important lessons in protection against aircraft learned in the current hostilities is that anti-aircraft guns must have the highest possible ceiling."

For this reason, Stimson continued, the department desired to "take advantage of the efficiency of the recently developed 4.7 inch anti-aircraft gun, which has a range beyond any similar gun now available," by procuring the weapon in sufficient quantities.

Stimson denied that the adoption of the 4.7 inch anti-aircraft gun renders obsolescent the 90 mm. and 3 inch anti-aircraft guns which the war department has ordered in quantities.

"There are suitable tactical employments for each, based largely on the fact that mobility decreases as the caliber increases," Stimson continued. "For the most mobile situation the 3 inch and the 90 mm. guns remain the most practicable and the most effective for anti-aircraft use."

Stimson said the continued employment of dive bombers against ground troops made necessary an increased proportion of weapons of smaller caliber to employ against them. For this purpose he mentioned the .50 caliber machine gun and the new 40 mm. anti-aircraft gun.

"The 40 mm. is an improvement on the 37 mm. gun now under production," he said. "It represents a decided advance in effectiveness, both as to accuracy of fire and effect at the target."

Must Increase Density of Guns.

Stimson also said the war experience abroad had indicated that "the density of anti-tank guns in all organizations and echelons must be increased."

"The items of anti-tank guns requested in this act," he continued, "namely, the 37 mm., the 3 inch, the 77 mm., the 4.5 inch, and the 155 mm., have been determined as necessary for thickening the quantity of proper anti-tank weapons within all organizations and thus providing the necessary defense in depth against hostile tank penetration.

"A large part, if not all, of these weapons will quite possibly be absorbed in the requirements for an army of 3 million men. With the exception of the 37 mm. and the 75 mm. guns listed above, all of these weapons are of the latest design based on the lessons of the present war, and none are on hand at the present time."

Actress Marlene Dietrich with Baby X, young film player.

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 15 (AP).—Hollywood has a real mystery girl—an 11 month old starlet whose parents insist she be billed simply as Baby X because they don't want publicity.

Mitchell Leisen, producer-director, chanced upon Baby X after he had looked at some 900 children and tested several dozen of them.

"I was ready to settle for an animated doll," he recalls. "Then a friend told me about this baby. She lived next door to him in Pasadena. He obtained a couple of snapshots showing the youngster in her play pen. I knew we'd found an actress. The child is marvelous for reactions."

Baby X is playing with Marlene Dietrich and Fred MacMurray in Columbia's "Miss Madden Is Willing." But she probably never will be able to boast of the fact.

"When the picture is over, her interest in films will be, too," said her mother. "It's simply a case of my husband and I both being professional people in a field where clients might not like it if they thought we were trying to advance a child's acting career. We see the whole thing as only a passing experience in our baby's life."

BYRD DEMANDS ACCOUNTING ON LEASE-LEND AID

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—An accounting of lease-lend expenditures to date was demanded today by Senator Harry F. Byrd [D., Va.] in anticipation of an administration request—expected by congress next week—for approximately 7,000 million dollars additional to aid the countries fighting Nazi Germany.

In asking the lease-lend division headed by Harry Hopkins for a report on actual disbursements from the 7,000 million dollars previously made available, Byrd said he believed congress ought to have that information before it considered increasing the amount.

"Congress is perfectly willing to provide any additional money that is needed," Byrd said "but it hardly seems possible that more than a billion dollars could have been spent thus far of the seven billion that we already have voted."

Byrd recalled that a report made in June showed only approximately 75 million dollars actually spent up to that time, altho the President had allocated all of the funds. Under the lease-lend act the President is required to provide congress with progress reports at least every 90 days. President Roosevelt made his first report June 11. His second report would not be due until Sept. 9.

CHINESE RETAKE TOWN HELD BY JAPS 3½ YEARS

CHUNGKING, China, Aug. 15 (AP).—Chinese capture of the town of Hsiaoyi, Shansi province, held by the Japanese for three and a half years, was claimed today in a Central news agency dispatch.

The Chinese started attacks on Hsiaoyi last month, the dispatch said, and entered it Tuesday. The town is on the Tungpu railway about 70 miles southwest of Taiyuan, the Japanese-occupied provincial capital.

Canada Spending 4 Million a Day for War, Editors Told

QUEBEC, Aug. 15 (AP).—Finance Minister J. L. Ilsley disclosed today that Canadian war expenditures in July were about $108,000,000. Addressing the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' association convention, he said expenditures now were about $4,000,000 per day.

NO CONQUEST

In a speech on Oct. 23, 1940, President Roosevelt said:

"To Republicans and Democrats, to every man, woman and child in the nation I say:

"Your President and your great secretary of state are following the road to peace.

"We are arming ourselves not for any foreign war.

"We are arming ourselves not for any purposes of conquest or intervention in foreign disputes.

"It is for peace I have labored; and it is for peace I shall labor all the days of my life."

Former British War Chief Confers with Irish Premier

DUBLIN, Ireland, Aug. 15 (AP).—Leslie Hore-Belisha, former British war minister, had a two hour talk with Premier Eamon de Valera today during a holiday visit to Ireland. Hore-Belisha, who has been a persistent political foe of Prime Minister Churchill, said after the conference: "I have been privileged to meet a great man. We had a highly interesting conversation, but of course it was purely private."

JAPAN SEES HOPE OF U. S. ACCORD IN F. D. R.'S 8 POINTS

Far East's Omission from Peace Aims Cited.

BY KIMPEI SHEBA.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Japan, Aug. 15.—Altho official spokesmen continue to refrain from commenting on the talk at sea between President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill, government circles consider it highly significant that the far east was not mentioned among the eight points they laid down as their peace aims. The Japanese see room for readjustment of American-Japanese relations in this ommission.

However, leaders loudly proclaim that Washington has erred sadly if it hopes to make Japan give up its plans for a new order in East Asia as the price for revival of normal trade and political relations with America. Under no circumstances, these leaders point out, will Japan budge an inch from its present policy.

Eight Points Laid to F. D. R.

Tokio interprets the eight points as almost entirely Roosevelt's work and considers it likely that Britain expected more and must feel unsatisfied.

The British-American offensive against the axis powers will be strengthened further as a result of the Roosevelt-Churchill talk, Kokumin, which is considered to be the newspaper closest to the army, declared today.

"The folly of the United States playing into Britain's hands should be laughed at," says Kokumin, adding that it is clear that the British-American plots against Japan will become further intensified. It boasts that Japan is prepared to meet such a situation and admonishes the people to become more courageous and work harder in the face of the increasing hardships.

Silent on Oil for Russia.

Official quarters would not comment on American Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes' announcement that petroleum is being shipped to Russia. It is expected that the matter will be discussed by the cabinet early next week.

As far as the government is concerned, there has been no change in the friendship with the soviets, at least on the surface, and the spokesman of the information board declared that he expects satisfactory results to be announced soon by the Manchukuo-soviet border demarcation commission. This surprised foreign observers, as few realized that, in view of the tense atmosphere in the north, the commission had been functioning.

Andes Candies

What is it that a girl does about a daisy?

She's supposed to pull off the petals, saying, "He loves me—he loves me not!"

And the last petal tells the tale?

Yes—but so does a box of ANDES CANDIES. At least it says he thinks she's pretty nice, or he wouldn't give her such wonderful candy.

(N. B. We know it's a sunflower—but it's a daisy of a sunflower!)

NAZIS OPEN 4TH BIG PUSH; AIM AT LENINGRAD: REDS

Moscow Reports Heavy Fighting on Long Front.

MOSCOW, Aug. 16 [Saturday] (AP).—With the fourth grand German offensive striking heavily toward Leningrad and the Red army defenses pictured unofficially as holding in the critical Ukraine sector, the soviets tersely announced today that fierce fighting was continuing on the long front.

The Russian communique reverted to the broadcast of generalities and for the third time this week failed to mention a specific sector. The German drive on Leningrad was from three directions, from the north on the Karelian isthmus, from the south around Staraya Russa, and from Estonia on the west.

Of the Ukrainian theater, where the Germans have made their deepest gains since the invasion began on June 22, and where the Russians previously have acknowledged withdrawals from Kirovograd and Pervomaisk, the soviet command made no mention either in its communiques of yesterday afternoon or of today.

Claim Nazis Checked.

But other Russian sources insisted that the loss of two towns admitted, lying about 100 to 115 miles above the Black sea port of Nikolaev, implied no disaster.

Actually, they said, these and other retirements were occasioned by a Nazi offensive which has been checked with enormous losses for the invaders and today was relatively inactive.

German planes attempted to raid Moscow during the night, but an official announcement said all craft of the small attacking force were dispersed and prevented from reaching the city.

During the day the soviet army organ Red Star cited the month long defense of Smolensk, which now is conceded to be in German hands, as having been so costly to the invaders as to destroy their plans for a quick victory and as illustrating a method of Red resistance declared now to be exhausting the German offensive sweep.

Other soviet informants declared in fact that the Germans now have abandoned their attempts to make spectacular advances and instead are attempting no more than gradual advances to nip out only small bits of territory, keeping their front line as straight as possible by dropping the audacious tactic of long salients and sweeping thrusts.

Warns of Nazi Force.

The communist party newspaper Pravda said that smaller German tank units, now reinforced by artillery and infantry, still are trying to snip the Red army rear, and that parachutes again were being used to drop men, light tanks, and armored cars.

"We should not underestimate the force and capacity of the enemy," said Pravda, "altho Hitler's army already has suffered great losses, it may once again throw large tank masses into the attack."

Pravda estimated that the Germans started the war with a total of 170 divisions, including 60 mobile units of which 25 were tank divisions. In the first six weeks of battle, the paper calculated, the Germans lost 15 tank divisions.

300 PLANES RAIN BOMBS ON REICH, BRITAIN REVEALS

LONDON, Aug. 15 (AP).—The air ministry, hitherto chary of revealing the number of planes participating in raids on Germany, announced today that more than 300 royal air force bombers had flown over the reich last night in heavy attacks on Hanover, Brunswick, and Magdeburg. Loss of 12 British planes was acknowledged.

Besides the attacks on Germany there were raids on the docks at Rotterdam and Boulogne.

The government said German planes caused slight damage and few casualties in bombing of northeastern and eastern Scotland, and that 14 German planes were shot down and five British were missing after yesterday's daylight operations.

10 Planes Downed, Say Nazis.

BERLIN, Aug. 15 (AP).—The German high command communique today said 10 British bombers were shot down when they dropped incendiaries and explosives at "various places" in northwestern and northern Germany.

Three merchantmen totaling 20,000 tons were reported sunk off England and Scotland and five damaged.

HOUSE PUTS ASIDE BUSINESS CARES UNTIL SEPT. 15

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—Speaker Sam Rayburn, homesick and desirous of "sniffing another atmosphere," told the house today he was going to the end of the narrowest road he knows and take a vacation where there is no telephone.

A moment later the house elected Rep. Clifton A. Woodrum [D., Va.] to act as speaker pro tem while Rayburn is away. The house started a series of three-day recesses this afternoon which will extend until Sept. 15. No controversial business is to be considered until Sept. 22, unless an emergency arises.

Expressing hope that his colleagues would enjoy their vacation, Rayburn said that he himself was going a Texas ranch.

HAY FOOT, STRAW FOOT! NAZIS HAVE WOMEN DOING IT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 15.—Straw may play a large part as a substitute for leather in German shoe production this winter. The increasing scarcity of leather has led to the development of smart straw models for women. The brightly colored footwear, with uppers, heels, and soles of straw is said to be easy on the most delicate feet.

The gay summer models, frequently seen in Berlin boulevards, are to be supplanted by heavier and warmer models for winter wear, with uppers covering the whole foot.

BIGGEST CONVOY OF WAR ADDS TO SINGAPORE ARMY

SINGAPORE, Aug. 15 (AP).—Slouch hatted Australian fighting men marched singing and cheering from the piers of this Gibraltar of the east today after their arrival in what authorities said was the largest convoy to reach Malaya since the European war began.

The large contingent represented all branches of the army. Much of their tanks and artillery arrived ahead of the from Britain and Australia.

A spokesman said that with the formidable reinforcements from Britain and India which reached here two weeks ago, Air Chief Marshal Sir Robert Brooke-Popham, imperial commander in chief of far east forces, had an army considered sufficiently numerous and powerful to make any potential invader think 10 times before attempting to strike.

AFRICANS TOLD ALL RACES WILL SHARE IN PEACE

LONDON, Aug. 15 (AP).—Maj. Clement R. Attlee, lord privy seal, told west African students in London today that the Roosevelt-Churchill principles applied to all races.

"I look forward," he said, "to an ever increasing measure of self-government in Africa and for an ever rising standard of life for all the people of Africa.

"We in the Labor party have always been conscious of the wrongs done by the white races to races with darker skins. We have been glad to see how with the passing years the old conception of colonies as places inhabited by inferior people whose only function was to serve and produce wealth for the benefit of other people has made way for more just and nobler ideas."

NORMAN THOMAS AND T. V. SMITH DEBATE ON WAR

The United States should not get into the European war just to find a seat at a peace table, Norman Thomas, Socialist leader, said last night in a debate with T. V. Smith, professor of philosophy at the University of Chicago. The debate—on the question of sending an American expeditionary force abroad—was held before 1,500 persons in Mandel hall on the university campus.

"Stalinism is so similar to Nazism," Thomas said, in opposing an AEF, "that it is not worth the blood of our sons. This will probably be an indecisive war, ending in exhaustion and stalemate with the finish of all dictators."

Smith, while not stating flatly that he favored an AEF, said he had more faith in the politicians running the country to decide on the war question than in Thomas or Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, a leading nonintervention-ist.

'FREEZE' ORDERS MAKE JAPS SELL OUT IN HONGKONG

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HONGKONG, Aug. 15.—The British freezing order and Japan's export restrictions are wiping out Japanese business in Hongkong, from which it is estimated 100 residents already have returned to Japan. Consul General Kano revealed that 30 women and children and "some men" left yesterday and said the remaining 400 are selling out their businesses preparatory to returning to Japan. When conditions return to normality the Japanese merchants hope to come back to Hongkong, he added.

180 Japs Leave Australia.

[Copyright: 1941: By the New York Times.]

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 15.—The Kasima Maru, last shipping link with Japan, sailed for Tokio today with 130 Japanese business men who are leaving because of the freezing of credits. The vessel also carried 3,000 bales of wool purchased before the freezing order went into effect.

FINNS CLAIM 3 ENCIRCLED RED UNITS WIPED OUT

Menace Rail Connection with Leningrad.

BULLETIN.

BERLIN, Aug. 16 (Saturday), (AP).—Red air fleet bombers sent residents of Berlin to shelters last night during an air attack on the capital and communities in northeastern and eastern Germany.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Aug. 16 [Saturday] (AP).—Finnish troops, reinforced by Germans, destroyed three encircled soviet battalions [a total of about 3,000 men] at Toivajarvi and Aglajarvi after fierce battles in that wild swampy region 50 miles north of Lake Ladoga, Finnish war correspondents reported today.

Last night, in a new push toward Leningrad, Finnish army correspondents reported capture of Karelian isthmus towns partly encircling Kakisalmi and of Russian withdrawals.

The Finns reported seizure of Kaukola, 10 miles west of Kakisalmi; Hiitola, 18 miles north of that Lake Ladoga city, and the railway towns of Elisenvaara and Kirvu, on the isthmus between Viipuri and Kakisalmi.

Thus, the Finns said, they had brought Kakisalmi into range of their artillery and expected the early capture of large sections of the railroad running to Leningrad, Russia's second city.

All points listed as captured are in the territory which Finland was forced to cede to Russia in March, 1940.

Hammer Reds from Air.

BERLIN, Aug. 15 (AP).—German military reports tonight described increasing German pressure on the ports of Odessa and Nikolaev, with greater use of the air force and "the inevitable closing of numerous pincers" in the great struggle for the Russian Ukraine.

The air force was portrayed in a dual rôle, harassing Red army troops with whom the Germans were in contact and ranging far ahead to destroy communications and delay Russian retreat. Bombers claimed extensive damage to a Russian destroyer which was assumed to be preparing to convoy transports off Odessa.

Other concentrated air attacks were reported north of Nikolaev on the estuary of the Bug river, where the Germans said tons of bombs wrecked rail lines on both sides of six soviet troop trains, marooning them.

Zone of Encirclement.

Dienst Aus Deutschland, authoritative German commentary, declared all the Ukraine west of the broad Dnieper river was one vast zone of encirclement in which large sections of the southern Red army appeared effectively trapped.

It asserted the German military operations now were proceeding in the usual manner—minor encirclement movements within the larger arena, with the German forces cutting out and dealing with successive small groups of Russians. The German high command would give no details of the procedure, however.

Elsewhere on the broad German-Russian front, military reports indicated a livening of activity in the Leningrad sector, with the air force again in the spotlight.

Rail lines between Leningrad and Luga and Novgorod were reported bombed, with seven trains smashed and four complete batteries of Russian cannon—26 guns—destroyed. In the course of these operations, 16 Russian planes were reported destroyed.

RED ACTIVITIES TO MEAN DEATH, FRENCH WARNED

Nazi Army Leader Acts to Spike Rioting.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, Aug. 15.—As a sequel to communist demonstrations in Paris early this week, the entire Paris press today published, under a compulsory four column headline, a warning signed by Gen. Heinrich von Stuelpnagel, military commander in France. It said that any person taking part in communist activity or supporting them in any way is subject to the death penalty after trial by court martial as an enemy of Germany.

Gen. H. von Stuelpnagel.

Whole Populace Cautioned.

The notice states that, as the communist party has been dissolved, all communist activity is forbidden in France. It also warns of the grave consequences which would result, not only for the guilty parties but also for the entire population of the occupied territories, from a hostile attitude in communist centers.

In Paris, also, the government administrator for the leather and garment trades, De La Marre, was arrested on charges of attempting to blackmail three Jewish merchants on penalty of "Aryanizing" their stores.

34 Tradesmen Interned.

Meanwhile, 34 more persons were ordered interned here in an effort to curb black [illegal] markets and other profiteering practices from which consumers have been suffering.

Among those detained are the heads of important wholesaler bodies, including one Fougerat, president of the Villeneuve-sur-Saone Chamber of Commerce; Jon Capgras, president of the Syndicate of Importers of Fruits and Vegetables, and M. Ensaleff, manager of the Marseilles slaughter houses. Several members of important textile and lingerie firms also are known to have been interned after the seizure of hidden stocks worth millions of francs.

800 CLERKS' UNION REBELS VOTE TO GET CIO CHARTER

About 800 former members of local 1248 of the Retail Clerks International Protective association met last night in the Midland hotel and voted to accept a charter for a local of the Grocery and Produce Clerks union [CIO]. Most of those voting are employees of the Hillman stores and were the first group to demand the ouster of Max Caldwell, racketeering ex-bootlegger, as czar of local 1248, an AFL affiliate.

Speakers at the meeting said they were disgusted with the dilatory tactics of the Retail Clerks international and of the AFL officials who are attempting to reorganize the old Caldwell local. They promised an energetic campaign to get all the 5,300 members of the old local into the CIO.

Caldwell was ousted early in June and State's Attorney Courtney has ordered a full investigation of his reign, with a view to having him indicted for embezzlement. It has been alleged in a suit for accounting that Caldwell and his aids wrung $910,000 from the low paid members in four years.

VIALS OF BLOOD SERUM STUDIED FOR U. S. SOLDIERS

Baton Rouge, La., Aug. 15 (AP).—Every United States soldier eventually may carry a vial of his own blood serum tucked away in his knapsack for immediate transfusion in case he is wounded on the battlefield. It would be taken from his veins beforehand, turned into a light brown powder at Louisiana State university's proposed drying plant, and given back to him in a form weighing only a few ounces.

"Every soldier might be his own donor, inasmuch as his blood, after drying, could be given him to carry in a small container," commented Dr. Urban Maes, director of the L. S. U. medical school's surgery department. "In this way the wounded man could be given not only his own blood serum, but also that of his unwounded comrades."

The dried product, reported by Dr. Maes as equally effective as natural blood, is obtained by drying serum separated from blood cells. Cheaper because it lasts indefinitely, the powder merely requires dissolving in sterile water before transfusion.

DECIDE TO BUILD ORDNANCE PLANT AT CRAB ORCHARD

Marion, Ill., Aug. 15 [Special].—Gen. C. T. Harris, chief of army ordnance telephoned the Marion Chamber of Commerce today that following investigation of another site north of Marion, the war department definitely had decided to locate the $40,000,000 ordnance plant on the banks of Crab Orchard lake as originally announced Aug. 1. Another site was rejected because it was undermined by coal and covered with oil leases.

Gen. Harris said the plant would be erected on the south bank of the lake and will extend east to within four miles of Marion and north across the lake toward Carterville.

While the contracts have not been signed, the Sherwin-Williams Paint company of Cleveland recently announced that it would build and operate the plant, surveys for which have been under way for weeks.

3D BIG VICTORY OVER REDS NEAR, GERMANS CLAIM

Encirclement Strategy Wins in Ukraine.

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 15. — Germany's third great victory over Russia's mighty military machine now is entering its final stages in the Ukraine, it was said in military circles today.

Only a few comparatively weak remnants of Marshal Semeon Budenny's forces were believed to have escaped capture or destruction by the hard hitting Nazi armored divisions as they rolled over the rich grain and mineral land of southwest Russia.

Under Marshal Gerd von Rundstedt, the battle for the Ukraine was waged along the familiar lines of German encirclement strategy as was the first big Nazi victory at Bialystok and Minsk, where it was claimed a million men were rounded up, and the second conquest at Smolensk, where soviet losses were estimated to have been almost as high.

Call Red Claims Absurd.

"Soviet claims that the western Ukraine was evacuated according to plan are absurd," it was said. Marshal Budenny's forces west of the Dnieper [river] were split up and encircled and surviving units now face destruction."

In the first stage of the Ukraine conflict, the Germans claimed, 25 Russian divisions were trapped at Uman, southwest of Kiev, with other forces subsequently surrounded or captured between there and the Black sea ports of Odessa and Nikolaev.

Thru these encirclement tactics, it was said, German army chiefs are confident they will be able to wear down the huge reserves of men and material which Moscow still is able to put into the field.

Russians Use Old Tactics.

"The soviet command tried to imitate Germany strategy and tactics," it was asserted, "but this effort remains only a copy without the Russians' own ideas. In practice the soviet tactics resembled the Russian 'steamroller' tactics of world war days—to wear down the enemy by incessant mass attacks regardless of losses."

German losses of men and material were said to be "amazingly low" compared with the soviet losses. Retreating armies, it was said, are at a disadvantage compared to advancing forces. In all three battles, reports from the front said, the Reds frequently were forced to abandon tanks with only minor motor defects due to the speedy advance of German motorized forces.

Find Super Soviet Tank.

The heavy and superheavy soviet tanks, altho strongly armed and heavily protected with armor plate, were said to be too unwieldy for modern warfare. They often got stuck in the mud or in marshy ground.

German troops encountered soviet tanks exceeding in size the well known 52 ton tanks of the soviet army, it was said. These supertanks were protected by twin armor—the outside armor plate being separated from the inside armor. An armor piercing shell able to penetrate the outer plate of 60 millimeters [about 2.36 inches] exploded within the separating hollow space without damaging the second armor protecting the guns and crew.

While normal tank weapons were unable to pierce both plates, the Germans reported they overpowered the supertanks because of their unwieldiness. In one case a German sapper was said to have destroyed one of these tanks by dragging a land mine into its path and exploding it as the tank passed.

SEEK 50,000 FOR 'DEFENSE' POSTS; ONLY 100 ANSWER

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 15 [Special].—A campaign to enroll 50,000 volunteers for "civilian defense" duty opened here today, but only 100 men and women showed up at the registration stations established thruout the city.

Dr. Hubley R. Owen, chairman of the Philadelphia defense council, made no attempt to conceal his disappointment. "Apparently a lot of people are not alive to the situation," he said, "and refuse to recognize the need for this work until a bomb drops on them."

Dr. Owen directed that the registration remain open until further notice, imploring civilians to register for such posts as air raid wardens, auxiliary police, and aircraft spotters.

FEARS NEW DOCKS IN N. Y. HARBOR MAY BE FOR A. E. F.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 [Special].—Representative Paul W. Shafer [R., Mich.] warned before congress today that plans of the army to build new dock facilities at Carven Point, N. J., New York harbor, may be a further indication of administration efforts to plunge this nation into all out participation in a European war with another expeditionary force.

The docks, according to the war department, are to be used as "terminal facilities for lease-lend supplies." Experts insist, however, that the construction details indicate their use need not necessarily be limited to freight. They are to be of timber pile with a superstructure of reinforced concrete.

"Is it that we know where we stand, now that President Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill have conferred?" Shafer asked. "Are these docks going to be necessary for this country to carry out whatever secret commitments the President has made to Great Britain. Probably the mothers of America will watch with interest the construction of these docks—the need for which the army says is urgent—as it may give them some idea of when their boys will be on the way."

LANDON ASSAILS EFFORTS TO HIDE SEA PARLEY AIMS

Topeka, Kas., Aug. 15 (AP).—Alf M. Landon said today "it is evident from the way the Roosevelt-Churchill momentous meeting and statement were handled that there was a well-staged effort to mislead the American people as to the purpose of this meeting."

Presence of naval and military high commands instead of the secretary of state, "Gives weight to grave misgivings that this long conference dealt with military and naval collaboration, rather than collaboration with Britain by peaceful means," the 1936 Republican Presidential nominee said in a statement.

"It is rather strange that the heads of the two greatest countries in the world met and issued a statement fostering freedom of the seas, freedom of governments and other freedoms without mentioning freedom of worship. Could it be that this omission was caused by a desire not to offend atheist, communistic Russia?"

Britain to Send Legless Ace New Artificial Limbs

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 15.—A new pair of artificial legs is being sent from Britain to Wing Commander Douglas R. Rader, legless fighter ace now a prisoner of war in German hands. Rader's artificial legs are believed to have been broken when he bailed out of his burning airplane over enemy territory. Today Sir Bernard Docker, chairman of the British Hospitals association, offered to buy a new pair. The Red Cross war organization accepted the offer and is sending the new legs to Rader as soon as possible.

BRITISH CLAIM BOMBERS WRECK CORINTH CANAL

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 15 (AP).—British bombing planes in two recent attacks have wrecked the Corinth canal, strategic waterway between the Peloponnessus and the mainland of Greece, the RAF middle east command announced today.

It was announced also that the air arm of the British fleet had attacked the axis submarine base at Augusta, Sicily, and started fires in a raid on the Sicilian city of Syracuse.

A whole axis garrison on the siege ring around Tobruk has been wiped out by a British fighting patrol from the Libyan port, British army headquarters reported.

Edwardsville, Ill., Aug. 15 [Special].—The body of Albert Thomas Yates, 32 years old, former manager of a grocery here, was found in the Illinois Terminal railroad yards here today. No one saw the train strike him. He is survived by his widow and three small children.

NOT A SHOT FIRED IN ICELAND AREA, SECRETARY SAYS

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—Navy Secretary Frank Knox said today that "not a shot" had been fired by the United States navy in carrying out President Roosevelt's order to keep clear the sealanes to Iceland.

Questioned as to whether the navy had been forced to do any shooting in patroling waters between America and Lceland, Knox said: "no, not a shot has been fired. Not an axis flag has been sighted. They're keeping out of our way apparently. And the sinking of ships in that area has stopped for some reason or other."

Knox made the statement at a press conference in the office Gov. J. M. Broughton. He was en route to Durham to speak at the convention of the North Carolina League of Municipalities.

ASKS U. S. TREAT MEN FOUND UNFIT BY DRAFT BOARDS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, today recommended that medical treatment be provided at government expense for selective service registrants rejected for army service.

The attempted physical rehabilitation would be limited to those who requested it and whose defects could be corrected with relatively little treatment. If such a voluntary program is unsuccessful, McNutt said, it might be necessary to lower physical standards of eligibility for selective service and undertake compulsory physical rehabilitation after induction into the army. Steps are being taken to seek a congressional appropriation of undetermined size to finance the program.

THE TRIBUNE'S PLATFORM FOR ILLINOIS AND CHICAGO

Save Our Republic

WE ACCEPT THE CHALLENGE.

The communist party has started a boycott of THE TRIBUNE, and these little friends of freedom have been joined by some of the local élite war pushers who dislike this newspaper because it represents the sentiment of 80 per cent of the people and opposes the conscription of American man power for other people's wars. The boycotters are using various methods of conducting their campaign, including the mails and two announced public meetings. THE TRIBUNE is receiving responses from some of the people who have been asked not to buy it. Some of our readers tell us they are going to increase their purchases.

Frankly, we think the commies are making a wise move. The communist party can never succeed in the United States while THE TRIBUNE lasts. This paper, therefore, is a natural objective for attack in the revolution which is being started here under the auspices of the personal alliance of Mr. Roosevelt and Joe Stalin.

So long as Herr Hitler and Joe Stalin were buddies and were making war together on oppressed peoples the American communists were for keeping the United States out of the war, which was then an imperialistic struggle. When Hitler attacked his fellow thug the situation changed. It knocked the breath out of our commies, but as soon as they could fill their lungs they began yelling for war.

So far as THE TRIBUNE is concerned Joe Stalin does not persuade it to change its opinion. He doesn't offer an additional reason for conscripting the man power of the United States. He supplies us with no convincing arguments that we and the 80 per cent who vote against war were wrong and that the crusade is a necessary and holy one. An alliance with an Asiatic butcher and his godless crew does not convince THE TRIBUNE of error or induce it to recant.

The British accept the Russian alliance of necessity. They were beaten without it. They must risk its consequences. We are under no such compulsion. We can resist the filthy disease.

The communists in this country now think that their great chance has come. They are whooping it up for war and they can observe with bright eyes the communistic programs which the war making New Dealers are spreading out over the industries and finances of the country. Their day seems to be approaching and, seeing what they see, they feel justified in thinking what they think. Their apparatus is the apparatus which is at work. However, we do not think that they have much chance of success.

There can't be many communists among 20 per cent of the population of the middle west which supports THE TRIBUNE in its defense of America and in its endeavor to keep this country from becoming involved in foreign wars. Be that as it may, we accept the challenge. We shall be glad to be the first to go up under the standard of a free and independent America or to go down under the rule of communistic Russia.

FASCIST FRANCE.

Marshal Petain announces the end of the third French republic. Napoleon I. put the first out of business and Napoleon III. did for the second. France is not unaccustomed to variations in political behavior or to mutations in forms of government. The old marshal asks the American friends of France in adjusting themselves to his scheme for a Fascist state in the new order of Europe to remember that France never was a true republic in the American understanding of the word.

Most of Petain's announcement had been discounted in advance. It confirmed what had been understood. France, a conquered country, is to accept under its present government the type and leadership of the Hitler régime. It will go along with the Nazis. That is the dictate of its present rulers.

The plight of France is the plight of a country which goes to war, whether it wins or loses. Liberties these days are not won on the battlefield. They are lost there.

ENOUGH IS ENUF.

The dictionary permits you to make your choice between "enough" and "enuf." The Anglo-Saxon ancestor was "genoh" or "genog." Even the Anglo-Saxons apparently couldn't make up their minds. From the dictionary we also learn that the word has been spelled "enoff." But we don't seem to be dealing with one and the same language when the word can be composed in separate instances of so many different letters and have such a dissimilarity of appearance to the eye.

We all know what enough is. It is something you don't have enough of or something you already have too much of. We try both to get it and avoid it. The person who has had enough of that has had too much, and the person who feels a lack hasn't had as much as he wants. When he's had enough it doesn't mean that he's satisfied. It doesn't even mean that he's satiated. It may mean that he feels that he has had it poured on him and refuses to take any more of it. It is a term of rebellion as well as one of ambition. It may indicate that a person has had all he is going to stand or it may reveal him as an underprivileged character.

It is one of the odd words which keep the English language the interesting means of communication it is. But why bring this word up? Well, for one thing, it is expressive of a great deal of what many of us think these days. We have had enough.

THE ARMS SCANDAL BREAKS.

The scandal over waste and mismanagement in the nation's armament program has broken in congress. The first disclosures touch what has been an open secret for months—the tremendous extravagance in building the training camps; but in refusing a 1,347 million dollar ordnance appropriation the senate indicated its members' belief that there has been similar incompetence in the procurement of weapons.

Such a scandal was inevitable from the day the first rearmament appropriations were voted. THE TRIBUNE predicted it more than a year ago. The Roosevelt administration notoriously has had a stock cure for every difficulty it encountered. The cure was the appropriation of vast sums of money. It has never been capable of getting results for the money it spent, unless the bribery of various sections of the electorate can be called results. The rearmament task was not so simple as this. It could not be solved by throwing money out the window. Industrial production cannot be increased by working the check-writing machines a double shift.

Senator Truman, a Democrat, told the senate Thursday that the general staff is running the army on Civil war lines. For that the political administration is to blame fully as much as the army. Mr. Roosevelt put two old men in charge of the armed services. He was seeking political advantage when he did so, not administrative efficiency. Whether he got the political advantage is doubtful, but he certainly didn't get efficiency.

The chief bottleneck of the rearmament program, Senator Truman agreed, is the lack of adequate organization and coördination. The responsibility for that rests in only one spot, he said, and that is the White House.

Mr. Roosevelt's egotism is the bottleneck. Seeking vast powers for himself, he has consistently refused to delegate those powers. Thousands of details must flow across his desk. A superb administrator could not deal efficiently with this mass of detail and Mr. Roosevelt, by the admission of his own friends, is not even a good administrator.

Senator Truman's investigating committee has reported to date only on the waste in the camp construction. It is to be feared, when it gets into the procurement of weapons, it will find that in its anxiety to make a showing of production results the army is using bad designs and turning out weapons that will be useless when the troops get them.

According to such authoritative technical publications as the Field Artillery Journal, the Germans used no cannon of a bore less than 105 mm., aside from anti-tank guns, in their destruction of the French and allied armies in the west. Yet our war department is still making 75 mm. guns.

Calibers by which cannon are commonly designated tend to confuse laymen. There is a difference of a little over an inch between the bore of the obsolete 75 mm. gun and the modern 105 mm. howitzer, but in destructive power, measured by the explosive charge in their shells, the 105 has three and a half times the power of the 75.

As THE TRIBUNE called attention to the deficiencies of the 75, it also remarked on the extremely high silhouette of the medium tank being built in this country, as compared with similar German and British models. Not only does the high silhouette make the tank a more vulnerable target, but the greater surface area of the American weapon means that for vehicles of the same weight the armor on the American tank will be thinner than on British or German models.

Every campaign in Europe has shown what happened to the army with the second best weapons. The French, for example, had thousands of the obsolete 75 guns, but they proved worthless against the heavier German artillery. It is a criminal mistake to equip an army with weapons the inadequacy of which has already been proved in other fields. The national safety demands that the Truman committee spare no one, however highly placed, in its further investigations.

GOVERNMENT IN BERMUDA.

The British government has decided, to avoid "possible friction" due to the establishment of the American naval base in the Bermuda Islands, to substitute civilians for the military governors who have ruled that colony for hundreds of years.

To the Bermuda assembly this change carries suspicion of further and more radical changes to come. The assembly has adopted a resolution addressed to the governor, as representative of the British crown, asking "renewed assurances that no change of sovereignty is contemplated."

Bermuda has had limited and not too representative local self-government for very many years. So long as the inhabitants are satisfied with that form of government, there should be no disposition on the part of the United States, which has become the paramount military power on the islands, to change it. However, since the political importances of the islands is derived solely from their position as an outpost guarding the approach to America, their foreign affairs are of vital importance to this nation, and the conduct of them will in time be subject to our direction.

THERAPEUTIC PHILATELY.

[Birmingham Age-Herald.]

A school attendance officer in St. Louis has cured a bad truancy situation by enticing a number of the worst offenders to start stamp collections. Prizes of a packet of desirable stamps are given for regular attendance and good school work. Sixteen truants have organized a stamp club.

This experience is cumulative evidence of the conviction long held by child psychologists that the chief need among so-called wild or mischievous youths is to find something to keep them busy. Even a casual trip to the Alabama Boys' Industrial school here in Birmingham will convince a person of the value in giving a boy plenty to occupy his mind and his hands.

There are a million stamp collectors in this country, so the collectors themselves like to claim. The number includes President Roosevelt, who finds relief from the constant strain of his job in getting out his stamps occasionally and himself sticking in some recent acquisitions.

The collectors like to justify their hobby on the ground that they are learning geography and history, as well as something of art and literature. No doubt those boys in St. Louis will know their geography a bit better by reason of having only that day traded for a stamp from Nyassa or the Falkland Islands. Maybe those boys are learning something, too, in how to keep their albums neat and orderly. There may be lessons, too, in thrift and acumen in trading.

But let not stamp collecting be spoiled by trying to give it a materialistic value. The collective instinct is sufficient excuse for the hobby.

What the experience in St. Louis proves is that boys like to keep busy, and that their energies can be diverted into harmless, if not helpful, channels by understanding leadership.

MR. PEPYS COUNTS THE DAYS.

15th Aug.—Am counting the days until Arch Ward's college All-Stars meet the professional champions, for it is always a noble spectacle seen by a mighty crowd. Have been thinking I should invite Arch to meet me in a rowboat in the middle of Lake Michigan, where we could arrange a plan for the triumph of virtue over greed on the football field at least, and announce to the world that the All-Stars would settle for eight points in their favor. Of course, we would have to vanish for a few days, and worry everybody by our mysterious absence, but when people read our eloquent statement of aims they would say, "It's a great scheme, if it works."

Have been doing little this week but enjoy the cool weather, with rains and northeast winds, which have made me think summer is ending. And high time, too, for this year summer began in the middle of May and I have had enough of it. But my little dog does not like the thunderstorms, and runs under beds and into closets trying to escape, which is the only sign of fright she ever gives, for she is courageous about everything else, even when getting her teeth pulled. Most dogs fear thunder, I have found, and perhaps it is because their hearing is sharper than ours and the noise pains their ears.

My cronies are beginning to come back to the club after their vacations, and whenever they see me they say, "I hear you went off on a big trip." Then they begin to talk about their own travels and I cannot get a word in edgewise.

Today is the anniversary of the massacre of the Fort Dearborn garrison, which reminds me: When the Michigan avenue bridge was built, in digging the approaches, they found the shaft of the fort's well. Now, into that well before the garrison set out on its retreat the fort's cannons were dumped. But they never thought to excavate the well and find the cannons, and what is more, they covered up the well and forgot its location. So I say, what this town needs is bigger and better antiquarians.

"C'EST LA GUERRE."

("U. S. army has a trained hawk."—News item.)

The falcon, spiraling on high,
Saw a pigeon winging by.
"Yoicks," he cried, and with a glide
Coasted to the carrier's side.

"Be ye friend or be ye foe?"
Quoth the falcon, "I don't know.
What's the password, pretty bird?"
This is what the falcon heard:

"The word is War, and one thing more—
If you up in the blue would soar,
Don't halt this message on your life
From Captain Elliott to his wife."

The falcon proud then gravely bowed;
"Pass, brave recruit!" he cried aloud;
"Speed on your route," and with a hoot
He flew to peck a parachute.

"Where the Woodbine Twineth": Why?

Grandpaw had a faithful old strawberry roan. A hard puller but an easy keeper. He had a nice fat back to ride on, coming in from the cornfield. When I was 7, Prince was 22. I came down to the farm next summer and Prince was gone. All I could get out of Grandpaw was that he'd "gone where the woodbine twineth." I hunted the place high and low. Clinging to the trunks of the tall trees in the creek bottoms, I found woodbine—but no Prince.

Just the other day I heard a fella use that expression. Like me, he knew, now, what it meant but not where it came from. Buckshot, O. R. S.

NEURITIC LAMENT.

I cannot say why 'tis
I laughed at neuritis
In days before I had grown older;
My only delight is
I don't have St. Vitus
When I have an ouch in my shoulder!
For I have an ouch in my shoulder, you see,
A move of my arm I view with alarm;
That pesky neuritis has caught up with me,
I find it lacks humor or charm!
I often appear to be fresh out of cheer;
It hurts when I move;
When I don't, it feels queer;
So if you're a critic
Of victims neuritic,
Be kind and indulgent, I pray;
Go easy, don't tease 'em,
And try hard to please 'em—
Neuritis may get you some day!

Excitement in the Back Yard.

Our magnolia, purchased in the spring of '39, bloomed for the first time last spring. It was covered with large, pale pink flowers and we were thrilled because our "white elephant of the back yard" had actually burst into bloom after two years.

Now, in this month of August, 1941, our pet has again decided to bloom, and it has at least four white buds. We are amazed! In fact, we feel as if something is going to happen—something uncanny or of a sinister nature. It almost gives me the willies! B. of Western Springs.

Tonight's music festival suggests that Chicago lacks a good popular theme song. But don't try to write one, for these things spring up spontaneously. For the time being, this column votes for "Wave the Flag for Old Chicago," with altered words. CHARLES COLLINS.

WHEN ALCOHOL BECOMES A POISON.

THE excessive use of alcohol frequently contributes to a marked reduction in the power of the physical body. Some of our medical notions concerning this drug may be of interest particularly to those who believe that large doses may be taken with impunity over long periods of time.

What is the effect upon certain of our vital organs? Strangely enough the kidneys suffer less than most of us have been led to believe. In fact, these structures seem to tolerate huge quantities quite satisfactorily. Many a confirmed toper will not show the slightest sign of irritation. Even tho a small amount of albumin is observed occasionally, the finding rarely signifies permanent damage. Not so the liver, however. The structure—moderately durable—appears to resent persistent dosing. This is apparent when worthless filling material [connective tissue] replaces delicate bile secreting cells.

Then, too, the circulation is quite another matter. Any one who is severely poisoned to the point of insensibility may experience an abrupt fall in blood pressure, which may be so extreme as to endanger life. This explains why death may occur, in apparently an otherwise strong individual, as a result of a prolonged debauch.

Digestion suffers all sorts of derangements, varying from acute gastritis to food deficiency which characterizes the chronic addict. Following a spree of two or three days, the tongue appears red and beefy, which means that the individual has been drawing upon his vitamin reserves. After a time, however, the color and consistency of the part changes markedly. When it becomes pale and smooth we may know that nutrition is at a very low ebb.

In delirium tremens, however, the blood pressure may rise to dangerous heights. Prior to such an episode we usually have warning signs of sleeplessness, lack of appetite, nervous instability, apprehension, and restlessness. The heart may race far beyond its ability to function and, with recovery, the rapid beats may persist for some time. Should this galaxy of symptoms mount to a climax, the victim may exhibit hallucinations and delusions with pink elephants and multicolored lizards.

About 10 per cent of our chronic alcoholics will suffer attacks which simulate epilepsy. They are called "whisky fits." All manifestations of this character must be regarded as of real consequence. The assumption is that the patients possess a dormant tendency to these seizures and that under the influence of alcohol, they blossom into actuality.

Most victims of acute intoxication, after a time, pass from the pugnacious stage, where they can whip the world, into a maudlin weeping depression wherein the sense of self-respect disappears. At such moments thoughts of suicide may so fill the mind that the impulse may grow until it becomes reality. In the city of Cincinnati 15 per cent of all attempts at self-destruction were made by those who were deeply under the influence of liquor. The tendency to homicide is not nearly so strong.

Finally, we must not forget the toll of human life taken by intoxicated drivers. What happens to the alcoholic who is in control of a motor car—a weapon of destructiveness—is of relatively minor importance when compared to the wholesale slaughter which may follow his meandering thru crowded traffic. Just why our courts extend leniency to these "bad actors" passes understanding.

NO MAGIC.

P. C. writes: Is there such a thing as 24 shots to cure ulcers?

REPLY.

The management of a peptic ulcer depends upon the size, duration, and location of the lesion. Furthermore, the general physical condition of the patient must be taken into consideration. In addition, individual response varies widely. There is no royal road to healing, altho many methods are well established. You probably refer to histamine injections.

HAIR EATER.

Mrs. L. writes: What can be done about a little girl who pulls out her hair and eats it? Her locks were cut, but she yanks out what is left.

REPLY.

Extreme measures should be adopted to break this habit. Hair has a tendency to form a ball within the stomach, which may become so large that it cannot pass into the bowel.

PREFERS LIVES TO MARKETS.

Berwyn, Ill., Aug. 14.—During the University of Chicago Round Table discussion last Sunday one of the professors remarked that "We all ride on rubber" and that if Japan were to control the rubber market we would have to pay much more for our tires and "we wouldn't like that very well."

Well, I would rather pay $100 per tire for the rest of my life than to have one drop of blood of our American boys shed on the battlefields of Europe or Asia. How many agree with me?

EDWIN C. REYNOLDS, M. D.

COULD HEAR AN EARFUL.

Champaign, Ill., Aug. 14.—Note your editorial, "Names to Remember." We have them listed and shall not forget them next year when they come up yelling for our support for reelection. They don't even permit us to speak to the ladies when the old man is around [yoo-hoo]; but they cannot stop our fathers, mothers, and sweethearts from voting—that is unless the good senator from Florida introduces a bill to stop all Americans from voting. If you think that "80 per cent" of us want to serve 2½ years you should visit any barracks at Chanute field any day after supper and get an earful. CHANUTE.

SIZE OF BRITAIN'S ARMY.

Riverside, Ill., Aug. 13.—An article in an evening paper says England has only 59 divisions as against 280 German; therefore it's up to the United States to send five or six million men over while Hitler is engaged with Brother Joe.

Ain't dat sumepin? Now, by the last account England had 4,300,000 under arms instead of the one million that would comprise 59 divisions, and what is needed is for Albion to do a Dunkirk in reverse or we should cancel the lend-lease act. SCEPTIC.

NOISY CHILDREN.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Isn't it about time something were done about the noise of other people's children? We've had to move after 23 years in one apartment. Can't children be prevented from making apartment building courts a playground—yelling, quarreling, bouncing balls until you can't hear yourself think? It seems that those who complain of other people's radios are the mothers of children who are thrown into courts or on the sidewalks to annoy every one within hearing distance. MRS. JAY C. TAYLOR.

INTIMIDATION.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—This should come to the attention of the people: The doctor in charge of the laboratory at the county hospital sent around a circular smearing Lindbergh. All who refused to sign were told that they would be considered fifth columnists. The employés were intimidated and signed under duress. One technician who refused, lost her job a few days later. M. A. B.

RAILWAY MEN'S PAY.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—As a daily reader I am writing in behalf of our husbands and sons, railroad workers. Others get increases in wages, why not our railroad men? They are out in all kinds of weather with danger the year around. Cost of food, clothing, and rents going up, why not a raise in pay?

ELSIE BOY WAGNER,
Secretary No. 338, Ladies' Auxiliary B. R. T.

IN THE MILITARY ERA.

Chicago, Aug. 8.—By what right can an arrogant cigar-in-the-mouth army officer stop traffic on the Skokie highway for a matter of 15 minutes to a half hour to allow army trucks thru to Fort Sheridan, thus preventing civilians from arriving at work on time [defense work, at that]?

These army trucks were strung out at intervals of a quarter to a half mile apart, allowing plenty of time for northbound traffic to filter thru, but this high and mighty top sergeant [movie version] had the gall to threaten to "lock me up" because I dared to ask permission to get thru and to work on time at the American Steel and Wire plant at Waukegan.

Are we going to have to tolerate storm troopers next?

What was the rush? Was it so important that those troops get back to Fort Sheridan that they had to tie up a hundred cars? To top it off, they were moving in some cases as slowly as five miles an hour.

I hope this is no criterion of what we are to endure for the next couple of years, but perhaps I shouldn't kick because Ickes will probably have me riding a bicycle to work one of these days, anyway. R. J. TRAYNOR.

NEW STYLE YOUTH GROUP.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—The youth of the south end of Austin have opened headquarters at 5510 West Harrison street for all young men of 18 to 21 years to establish an organization known as Youth and America. Its primary function is to coöperate with any body that has as its purpose the defense of our country and not offense.

Since we, the youth of today, will become the soldiers of tomorrow, we must study the policies of our national administration. Every mother and father should take an active interest in our organization. Let us learn to defend America and not be duped into fighting the battles of England. THOMAS GILROY.

LOOKS FOR HIKING CLUBS.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Ever since I arrived in this city I have tried to find out if there were any hiking clubs where one can enjoy your parks and forests in groups for both young and old. But so far I haven't had any results. Are there such clubs? JOSEPH GREEN.

AN INSULTING CARD.

Oak Park, Ill., Aug. 14.—As descendants of Mollie Pitcher Wood and Ethan Allen, American patriots, my father [aged 89] and I took exception to the Defend America by Aiding the Allies literature which was being sent to us. It was scurrilous and we asked them in a gentlemanly way to take our names off their mailing list as we were fully in sympathy with America First aims.

A few days later father got a notice from the postoffice that a piece of mail was held for 1 cent postage—I forwarded a stamp and he received the enclosed piece of insulting mail:

[The enclosure was a printed card—"Der Fuehrer thanks you for your expression of loyalty."] CHET G. WOOD.

Letters to this department must be signed with names and addresses of writers.

PROPERTY PURCHASE.

Evanston, Ill., Aug. 7.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Five years ago I purchased from a bank some property and made monthly payments until it was half paid for. Then the bank took a first lien mortgage for the remaining amount, payments to be made semi-annually. Then I received a trustee's deed and title guaranty policy from the title company. The property is insured against fire, tornado, etc. All payments have been made altho the bank holds this policy. I expect to make the final payment soon. Just what papers should be turned over to me? R. M. J.

It is nearly always advisable for a purchaser of real estate to employ an attorney thruout, and we advise you to employ one now.

If the papers are of the usual form of notes secured by a trust deed, you should, at the time of your final payment, secure from the holder the last coupon and principal note, the trust deed, the guaranty policy or other evidence of title, and fire insurance policies. You should take these papers to the trustee named in the trust deed and secure from him a release deed which you should record. You should also have him indorse on the mortgage rider on the fire insurance policies the words "My interest in this policy has ceased," with his name.

You are in a better position than we are to estimate your capacity for handling such steps for yourself. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

Test Your Horse Sense

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE.

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 21.

1. Which one of these animals is commonly known as a Wapiti?
   Moose Deer Antelope Elk.
2. The approximate air pressure per square inch at sea level is 0.08 lbs. 0.9 lbs. 7.4 lbs. 14.7 lbs.
3. In the arrangement of the continents in order of size, from largest to smallest, Africa should be placed 1st 2nd 4th 6th.
4. Which one of the following is extracted from seaweed?
   Iodine Hydrogen peroxide Alcohol Sodium bicarbonate.
5. In traveling straight south from which one of these states is it impossible to strike Texas?
   Minnesota Utah Arkansas Colorado
6. Below are listed the names of five large American cities with their mayors in the righthand column. You deserve one point for each correct matching of these cities with their own mayors.

[a] New York	[v] Edward J. Kelly
[b] Milwaukee	[w] Frank Hague
[c] Jersey City	[x] C. D. Scully
[d] Chicago	[y] Carl F. Ziedler
[e] Pittsburgh	[z] Fiorello H. La Guardia

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-5, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

STIMSON WARNS ARMY U. S. FACES INVASION THREAT

Holds Conditions Demand 30 Month Service.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—In a radio broadcast to the soldiers of the army tonight to explain why their term of service has been extended 18 months Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson said that America faces a grave possibility of invasion by the axis powers.

Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson.

It was to get an army sufficiently trained to repel any attempted invasion, said the secretary, that congress passed the legislation to retain soldiers in service up to 30 months.

The crisis that makes necessary our present defense program was caused, Mr. Stimson recounted, by Germany, Italy, and Japan which in 7 years have conquered 16 nations. He pictured our thinly populated hemisphere, the richest in natural resources, as "an inevitable ultimate target for these marauder nations."

Sees Danger from South.

The bombing plane and the fifth column, according to the war department head, have destroyed the efficacy of isolation as a defense principle. To meet this new situation we have been compelled to build a two ocean navy, establish far flung bases, and aid the British to maintain their navy as our first line of defense.

We are most vulnerable, said the secretary, to the south where unarmed Latin America is honeycombed with fifth columnists and within easy reach from Dakar, the seizure of which by the Nazis appears to impend.

"If, by combining an air attack with a fifth column revolution, an axis power should succeed in making a lodgment upon the coast of South America, we should have a real task indeed—for it would not be difficult for an enemy lodged there to get within easy bombing distance of the Panama canal," said Stimson.

Points to Modern Weapons.

The secretary assailed those who argue that we do not need so large an army as is being trained, that an enemy would be unable to get across either ocean and get past our navy.

"Such critics," he said, "apparently have not studied the development of modern weapons; nor have they shown sufficient vision to realize the possible military and political changes which are trembling in the balance in the world around us.

"Our army and its air force must be prepared to meet enemies coming from the north, from the east, from the south, and from the west. It must be prepared to fight on the icebound coasts of the North Atlantic and of the North Pacific as well as in the tropic heat of Panama or South America."

SEEK CONVICTED ABORTIONIST TO START HIS TERM

Deputy sheriffs last night were searching for Dr. Peter B. Schyman, a physician, to take him into custody to start serving a one to 10 year prison sentence for abortion. Dr. Schyman and Dr. Horace B. Hannon, now dead, were convicted in 1938 on a charge of performing an abortion which almost cost the life of a young woman.

Altho the conviction was upheld more than a year ago, numerous legal maneuvers kept Dr. Schyman out of prison. Yesterday Thomas J. Bowler, clerk of the Criminal court, was notified by the Illinois Supreme court that a final 90 day stay for the physician had expired. The high court ordered the doctor taken into custody on his sentence.

Criminal court records show that Dr. Schyman is scheduled to appear Sept. 24 before Judge U. S. Schwartz in the Criminal court on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Dr. Schyman is accused of obtaining burial insurance thru fraud in connection with the death of his mother.

Seismograph at Fordham U. Records Two Earth Shocks

New York, Aug. 15 (AP).—The Fordham university seismograph recorded two strong earth shocks early today, the center of which was approximately 3,080 miles from New York in an undetermined direction.

Two Hour Quake Recorded.

Weston, Mass., Aug. 15 (AP).—Seismologists at Weston college reported that a strong earthquake occurred at 1:09 a. m. today approximately 3,000 miles east or west from Weston. The Rev. James J. Devlin, S. J., said the shock lasted for two hours.

NEGRO OFFICER EXONERATED IN FATAL SHOOTING

A coroner's jury at the county morgue yesterday returned a verdict of justifiable homicide at the close of an inquest into the shooting early Aug. 1 by Policeman Sylvester Washington, colored, of William L. Matthews, 33 years old, a colored bellboy.

The small inquest room, crowded with Negroes, was thrown into an uproar when Attorney Herman Aschin asked Washington how many persons he had killed during his eight years as a policeman. Two women present, one of whom was later ejected, cried that Washington had killed their husbands. According to witnesses, Washington is known in the Wabash avenue district as "Two-Gun Pete."

Washington testified that Matthews attacked him when they collided in a narrow passageway near Garfield boulevard and Calumet avenue, and that he shot in self defense as Matthews grappled with him for one of the guns he carried. Matthews had been employed for 12 years at the Gracell hotel, 6410 Kenwood avenue.

MYSTERY VEILS LOSS OF 3 HUGE LUMBER CARGOES

Cathlamet, Wash., Aug. 15 (AP).—The strange destruction of three log rafts, containing 15 million board feet of lumber for military purposes, has given rise to ominous suspicions in this little Columbia river city.

The rafts burned or disintegrated at sea within the past year in a way still unexplained. The Benson Lumber company has announced discontinuance of its 35 year old practice of having the huge, cigar shaped rafts towed 1,200 miles to its mill in San Diego, Cal.

Last September, fire broke out on a raft off the California coast. Only part of it ever reached the mill. Last July a raft broke up off the Golden Gate. Early this month the third raft caught fire and burned 90 per cent of the timber. It is believed a chemical was deposited on the rafts to be ignited either by the sun or contact with water.

BRITAIN TO PROBE 2D FERRY PLANE CRASH; 22 DEAD

11 American Flyers Lost with High British Aid.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 15.—Capt. Harold Balfour, parliamentary undersecretary for air, accompanied by the air ministry's chief inspector of accidents, today flew to the scene of the crash of a transatlantic ferry plane in which Arthur B. Purvis, director of the British purchasing mission in the United States, 11 American officers and 10 British and Canadian flyers were killed last night. They will investigate causes of the disaster.

The crash was the second within four days involving a transoceanic ferry plane in which 22 persons were killed. Both crashes occurred shortly after the takeoff. In the first crash, on Sunday night, 7 Americans were among the 22 victims.

Tell of Plane's Long Run.

Witnesses of last night's crash said the plane took an unusually long run before leaving the ground, dropped, hit a roadbank, somersaulted, and burst into flames.

Rumors in the press that the crashes may have been due to sabotage have been authoritatively denied, but the newspapers are demanding a searching investigation into the disasters. The News-Chronicle charges there has been recent criticism concerning overloading of the planes used to carry bomber ferry pilots back to Canada. Both planes which crashed were engaged in this operation.

American Victims of Crash.

At first 12 Americans were listed among the dead in today's crash. Tonight, however, it was said that Capt. Joseph C. Mackey of Columbus, O., had not been aboard, he having been confused with a Canadian radio officer, G. W. Mackay, who was killed. Capt. Mackey was the only survivor of a Newfoundland plane crash last February in which Sir Frederick Banting, co-discoverer of insulin, and two other persons were killed.

The American victims of yesterday's crash were:

Capt. A. C. Earl, Huntingdon, W. Va.
Capt. M. D. Dilley, Kansas City, Kas.
Capt. J. J. Kerwin, Oakland, Cal.
Capt. E. B. Anding, Merrick, N. Y.
Capt. M. J. Wetzel, Jamesburg, N. J.
Capt. Gerald Hull, Royal Oak, Mich.
Capt. E. Hamel, Braintree, Mass.
Capt. P. F. Lee Jr., Frederick, Md.
Flying Officer W. L. Trimble, Fort Worth, Tex.
Flying Officer E. W. Watson, Torrence, Cal.
Flight Engineer R. F. Davis, Seattle, Wash.

TIME U. S. TROOPS TAKE ON MARCH ALARMS EXPERTS

Fear Disaster if They Meet Able Foe.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Prescott, Ark., Aug. 15.—Army officers today drew disturbing comparisons between the speedy movement of troops on European battlefields and the length of time required to assemble divisions here for two weeks of field maneuvers.

"What would happen to American boys if they were compelled to fight a competent enemy in his own entrenched and fortified territory is so ghastly it staggers the imagination," a colonel commented.

Experts recalled that in Germany's conquest of France, Holland, Belgium, and Luxembourg in a month's time, 2,000,000 Nazi troops moved about 275 miles. The territory invaded was hostile, the terrain was much more rugged than this section of the United States, bridges had to be rebuilt, road blockades had to be removed, and combined forces three times greater than the Nazi army had to be defeated.

How 125,000 Traveled.

The American soldiers participating in the war games here traveled an average of slightly more than 275 miles, the mean between the shortest distance, 105 miles from Camp Robinson, Ark., and the longest 700 miles from Camp Custer, Mich. The force involved numbers 125,000, one-sixteenth the size of the German army of 2,000,000.

Highways traversed are not only in good condition, but the movement of military traffic is facilitated by state and local police. No enemy or other obstacles bar the way; every one encountered is friendly and helpful. Yet a total of 42 days will have passed from the time the first troops arrived on July 5 until the arrival of the final units Sunday.

Altho the United States soldiers were not on a forced march, such as were the Germans, it is considered doubtful if the physical condition of the Americans would permit them greatly to increase the length of their daily marches.

Difference in Training.

The difference is purely a matter of training and equipment, experts said. They observed also that there is little to be gained from a training standpoint by marching men along a highway or riding them around the country in trucks.

Another important element to be considered, they said, is the time wasted in the process of concentration. After supposedly being hardened by 13 weeks of intensive training in their camps, the troops already in bivouac here are finding time hanging heavy, while they wait for the arrival of other participants and the beginning of the field exercises.

COURT TO LAUNCH BRIBERY QUIZ IN ASSEMBLY ROW

Jefferson City, Mo., Aug. 15 (AP).—Circuit Judge Sam Blair today said he will call a grand jury to investigate widespread rumors of bribery and corruption in Missouri's 61st general assembly.

Blair, who as assistant United States attorney in 1939 helped prosecute Kansas City's one-time Democratic boss, T. J. Pendergast, on income tax evasion charges, made the announcement after conferring with Republican Gov. Forrest C. Donnell, Attorney General Roy McKittrick, Cole county [Jefferson City] Prosecutor Carl F. Wymore.

The bribery rumors were touched off in the closing days of the recent assembly by Charles M. Hay, lawyer lobbyist for a group of St. Louis teachers. Speaking from the steps of the capitol, Hay charged that his refusal to "put out money to some of the boys" helped defeat a teachers' pension bill for St. Louis.

Mrs. Alice Temple, Suicide, Leaves Estate of $90,000

A petition accompanying the will filed yesterday with Frank Lyman, clerk of the Probate court, estimated the estate of Mrs. Alice Richardson Temple at $90,000. She shot and killed herself July 27 on her estate in Woodstock. Half the estate is left to her widower, William, and the remainder is divided between a brother, Harry A. Bentley, and a sister, Mrs. Louise Spengler, of San Francisco, Cal. Mrs. Temple was 54 years old. Her suicide was attributed to worry over Federal court litigation for a $125,000 estate left by the mother of her first husband.

Washington State Collects 4 Million for Bridge's Fall

Olympia, Wash., Aug. 15 (AP).—Settlement of the state's insurance claims arising from collapse of the Tacoma narrows bridge for $4,000,000 and other considerations was disclosed today by Gov. Arthur B. Langlie. The suspension span broke up during a high wind last November. In addition to the $4,000,000 the state will retain $250,000 worth of salvage and keep its interest in piers and anchorages, valued at $3,000,000. The settlement ends litigation in which the state sought to recover $5,200,000 from 23 insurance companies.

ILLINOIS RELIEF ROLLS DECLINE FOR 11TH MONTH

The 100 per cent turnover in home relief cases in Illinois for the 12 month period ending May 31, previously announced, was maintained during June, Russell L. Peters, executive secretary of the Illinois Public Aid commission, said yesterday. June was the 11th consecutive month during which Illinois relief rolls showed a decline.

During the month 8,297 cases were opened, but 20,435 were closed, Peters said. One-third of the cases checked off the rolls, or 7,368, were closed because clients obtained private employment. Only one-fourth of the cases closed during the preceding 12 month period were dropped for this reason.

"A large number of relief cases were closed for reasons presumably related to employment," Peters said. "For example, 1,690 cases were closed because the clients no longer called for relief. In many of these cases it is probable that the reason was private employment."

During June 1,554 new cases were opened because of the loss of private employment, Peters added. Ninety-one of the 102 counties in Illinois showed decreases in June relief rolls as compared with May.

BRITISH 'SHADOW LARDERS' READY TO THWART BLITZ

Food for 100 Areas Now Stored Away.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 15.—Britain now has a hundred "shadow larders" ready to function as food centers for as many areas of the island in the event of invasion or severe air raids, Food Minister Lord Woolton announced today.

Each of the designated areas, he said, will have its own food hoard to assure supplies for all of its people if they become isolated. The arrangements to deal with future war conditions also included cooking depots outside large towns, enrollment of 2,500 voluntary organizers to superintend issuance of supplies and distribution of gas resisting tarpaulins to protect food, the food minister said.

Mobile Shops Ready.

Mobile shops capable of rushing meat, vegetables, bakery goods and other foods to hard hit shopping areas also have been provided, as have convoys of mobile canteens of the Queen's Messenger service, communal kitchens to provide over 200,000 meals a day, and emergency feeding centers for all areas and towns of more than 50,000 inhabitants.

Cooking depots for a population of 7,500,000 have been established, Lord Woolton said, and new ones are being set up at the rate of 80 a week.

Food Thefts Continue.

Meanwhile, the press reported additional thefts of food and rationed commodities while courts over the country imposed sentences and fines for stealing, profiteering and racketeering. A truckload of bacon and other goods valued at $800 was stolen last night in the Camdentown district of London. Among those sentenced were three policemen who admitted stealing from unoccupied houses. Their sentences ranged from six to 12 months in jail.

A Liverpool court fined a violator of the "limitation of supplies order," $1,024 for "supplying an excessive quantity of controled goods to four stores." For having four pounds of tea which was believed stolen, a Towerbridge resident was fined $12, and a deserter from the RAF was fined $8 for the theft of five food ration books. A Hammersmith woman who stole a skirt and underwear worth $2 was fined $12. Convicted of food profiteering, a Middlesborough merchant received a fine of $476 and a sentence of three months at hard labor.

BOY, 10, DASHES INTO STREET; HIT BY AUTO; KILLED

Robert Bond, 10 years old, 6818 North Ashland avenue, was injured fatally yesterday when he was run down by an automobile in front of 1731 Greenleaf avenue. The automobile driver, Mrs. Alta Thebaud, 27, of 7100 Sheridan road, told police that the boy ran out from between parked cars in front of her machine.

Charles Steinger, 58, of 2117 Clarence avenue, Berwyn, a laborer employed by the suburb, was injured fatally last night when he was struck by an automobile at Cermak road and East avenue in Berwyn. The driver was Maurice Morrison, 31, of 5724 South May street.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 570 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 402 were killed in Chicago, where 15,226 were injured in traffic accidents during the same period.

BIRTH OF BABY IN THEATER GIVES AUDIENCE THRILL

Dozens of patrons in the Windsor theater, 1225 North Clark street, forsook watching the double feature last night for a more exciting event—the birth of a baby—right in the theater.

The mother, Mrs. Bertha Densmore, 30 years old, 127 Maple street, and her husband, Douglas, were watching the pictures like any other movie fans when the stork arrived. Mrs. Densmore kept to her seat while nearest patrons huddled around, and assisted.

Graham Giles, assistant theater manager, sent Mrs. Densmore and the baby by ambulance to the Henrotin hospital. It was suggested that the baby, a boy, might be named Windsor.

Photographic equipment, valued at $220, was stolen yesterday from the parked car of Stanley Kwiatt, 4419 South Roman avenue, at Paulina and 45th streets.

COL. M'CORMICK AND BROOKS TO SPEAK AT G. O. P. PICNIC TODAY

Former Congressman Oscar De Priest predicted yesterday that "real Republicanism" will be discussed today at one of the season's biggest picnics, an all day assemblage of colored Republicans from south side wards in Dan Ryan woods of the Cook county forest preserve at Western avenue and 87th stret.

The speaking program will be headed by United States Senator Wayland Brooks and Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE. Attorney General George F. Barrett also is expected and will be asked to speak if he is on hand.

Senator Brooks also is to speak tomorrow at a picnic in Kolze park, 6343 Irving Park road, sponsored by the Greater Chicago lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose for the benefit for the industrial school for children at Mooseheart, Ill.

JACOB D. DOYLE, RETIRED NAVAL OFFICER, IS DEAD

Jacob Dixon Doyle, retired lieutenant commander in the navy, known to thousands of men who passed thru Great Lakes Naval Training station during the world war, when he directed the navy relief and American Red Cross at the station, died yesterday in Marseilles Rest home, Waukegan.

He was born Nov. 26, 1855, at Leesburg, Va., and entered the navy in 1880 on a Presidential appointment as assistant paymaster with the rank of ensign. He served on the U. S. S. Iroquois on a two and one-half year South American cruise, was stationed at several naval bases, and was on active duty at Manila, P. I., in the Spanish American war.

He was recalled to active service in 1917 as second paymaster at Great Lakes. He was one of the organizers and a charter member of Lake Bluff post of the American Legion, and was the oldest legionnaire in Lake county. He is survived by a brother, John Hadley Doyle, of Washington, D. C.

Services will be held Monday at 2 p. m., with the legion in charge at the chapel at 408 North Sheridan road, Waukegan. Burial will be in the North Shore Garden of Memories.

CALLS MEETING TO DISCUSS 1942 G. O. P. CAMPAIGN

Werner W. Schroeder announced yesterday that he has called a meeting of the organization committee of the Republican national committee in Chicago Sept. 27.

Schroeder represents Illinois in the national committee. Chairman Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts last June appointed him chairman of a committee of 15 to plan organization for the 1942 campaign.

Committee members expected are William Stern of North Dakota; Harrison E. Spangler, Iowa; R. B. Creager, Texas; Cyrus McCormick, New Mexico; Daniel E. Pomeroy, New Jersey; Mrs. Ruth Baker Pratt, New York; Mrs. John E. Hillman, Colorado, and Mrs. Alfred B. Williams, Massachusetts.

Schroeder will give a luncheon Sept. 28 for the visitors. Gov. Dwight Green and other Republican state officials will be invited.

SHOOTS MARRIED WOMAN 3 TIMES; THEN KILLS SELF

Mrs. Helen O'Grady, 36 years old, was shot three times and seriously wounded yesterday while sitting on the steps in front of her apartment at 3839 Ellis avenue. Her assailant, William Lucht, 45, then rushed to his room at the Almo hotel, 3800 Lake Park avenue, and shot himself to death.

Mrs. O'Grady, who was taken to Michael Reese hospital, said that she quarreled with Lucht several days ago because she wished him to cease his attentions to her.

She is estranged from her husband, William O'Grady, a baker in Grand Rapids, Mich., and their son, John, 13, is now visiting there. Lucht's widow, Margaret, who lives at 1121 East 43d street, said he had been a federal alcohol agent during prohibition days.

Junior Carrs Are Beginning to Say Good-By

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE fall moving problems that face Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Carr Jr. are more serious than just returning to town from the Lake Forest home of Mr. Carr Sr., for young Mr. and Mrs. Carr are going to California next month to make their home there. So when "Bobby" and "Babby" Carr return tomorrow night from a cruise aboard their boat they will start saying goodby to their Chicago friends.

Mrs. Carr's departure is a blow to the Chicago Junior league, for she has been in charge of its public relations for the last few months, and her departure follows closely that of her predecessor in this post, Mrs. Gilbert Hill Robinson. Mr. Robinson's business has taken him to New York, and he and the former Alice May Dickinson and their little son and daughter will be living there permanently.

Mr. Robinson Undergoes Emergency Operation.

The Robinson children are with their grandparents, the Francis R. Dickinsons, in Charlevoix, Mich., until the Robinsons find a New York home. They haven't had a chance to do much house hunting, however, for Mr. Robinson was taken suddenly ill when they arrived last Monday and was rushed to a hospital for an emergency operation. He is convalescing rapidly, however, but will remain in the hospital for about 10 days more.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Magie II. went east recently on the pleasant mission of supervising remodeling plans for their new farm in Sanbornton, N. H. The property is to be their summer home, but the family won't be able to occupy it this year. The two Magie boys, Billy and Peter, who were at camp in New Hampshire, joined their parents in Sanbornton.

Mrs. Mahlon Ogden West Is Being Married Today.

Several weddings of interest will take place today, among them one a surprise, that of Mrs. Mahlon Ogden West, the former Ruth Elting, and Edwin W. Winter II., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace C. Winter of Chicago. The ceremony will take place at noon in the Lake Forest Presbyterian church with only the families present. Mrs. West is the daughter of Mrs. Philip Le Fevre Elting and the late Mr. Elting.

Ann Sheldon West, the bride's 6 year old daughter, will have plenty of experience in attending brides by the end of the summer, for she is to be her mother's only attendant today, and on Sept. 1 she will be the only attendant for Miss Jane Harper when she is married to George W. Overton Jr.

Daniel R. Winter of Greenwich, Conn., will be his brother's best man. His wife and their daughter, Diana, also are here for the wedding. A breakfast for the families will follow in the house Mr. and Mrs. Winter Sr. are occupying this summer in Lake Forest. Mr. Winter and his bride will be at home after Sept. 1 at Lake Forest. Since the death of her husband in 1936 Mrs. West has been executive secretary of the English Speaking union. Mr. Winter is one of the assistants to Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago.

I. Newton Perry Family in Oklahoma for Wedding.

The entire I. Newton Perry family is in Oklahoma City, Okla., for the marriage at 9:30 o'clock tonight of Mr. Perry Jr. and Miss Patricia Highley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mont F. Highley of that city. The ceremony will take place in the Cathedral of Our Lady of Perpetual Help with a reception following in the gardens and on the terrace of the Highley home, Redrock manor.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Kneedler [Pauline Perry] of Manila, Miss Sally Perry, and the bridegroom's brother, Sergt. Brewster Perry of Fort Riley, Kas., are in the family group. Sergt. Perry will be best man; Mr. Kneedler will be among the ushers, and Miss Perry will be a bridesmaid.

The bride's sisters, Mrs. Jack Cornelison and Mrs. Louis Wienecke of Bartlesville, Okla., will be her matrons of honor. Miss Mary Jane Anderson of Kansas City, Mo., will be maid of honor. The flower girl will be little Gretchen Wienecke, whose sister, Peggy Lou, will light the candles before the ceremony. The bride's nephew, John M. Highley Jr., will serve as ring bearer.

Burnham-Weidman Wedding Is Taking Place Today.

Miss Anne Weidman and Daniel H. Burnham III. will be married at 3 o'clock today in the Thorndike Hilton chapel of the University of Chicago. Only the two families will attend the ceremony, and a few friends have been invited to drop in later at the South Shore Country club for a small reception.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stanley Weidman, who are here from Merriweather, Mich., with their son, John Jr. Other out of town guests are Mr. and Mrs. Giddings Rogers of Waco, Tex. Mrs. Rogers is a niece of Mrs. Burnham Jr. The bridegroom will have John Nacey as his best man, and Miss Weidman will be unattended. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Burnham III. will leave for Boston, Mass., where they will make their home while he teaches at the Harvard business school.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Wing of Evanston announce the engagement of their daughter, Jacklyn, to John Vaughan Euckert, son of Mrs. Fred A. Euckert of Minneapolis, Minn. Both Miss Wing and Mr. Euckert were graduated from Carleton college in Northfield, Minn.

Richard Poole Expected Home from Honolulu Soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Poole are awaiting word from Honolulu regarding the homecoming of their son, Richard. Young Mr. Poole has been in Hawaii all summer visiting college friends from Princeton university. Latest news from the eastern branch of the Poole family is that Ralph Jr., who lives in New York with his wife and two little girls, will be an usher today in the Newport, R. I., wedding of Miss Francesca Villa and Hugo Rutherfurd.

Mr. and Mrs. John Flint Dille Jr. are being congratulated on the birth of their first child, a boy, on Thursday in the Evanston hospital. The baby probably will be named John III. Young Mrs. Dille is the former Jane Paulman, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Paulman of Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Dille Sr. reside in Evanston.

Another first son is the baby born on Thursday in the Presbyterian hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Macauley Carter of Lake Forest. The baby has two little sisters, Irene and Patricia.

Mrs. Malcolm Stevenson and her 10 weeks old daughter, Diana Dill, who are visiting here for a few days. They have been living in St. Louis, but are moving to Youngstown, O. Tiny Diana is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stevenson. Her mother is the former Dorothy Caraty.

★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★

Our chiropodist has taught us a trick or two about simple foot treatments that are well worth passing on.

At the close of the session he tops off the job with a generous application of a cream. It's a familiar cream, used for skin soothing and softening and relief of sunburn, but we'd never thought of it as a foot cream until we experienced its efficiency.

It's as cooling as can be, and it's one of the best softeners we've ever found. Just a little bit of it seems to keep the toenail cuticle under control, and we firmly believe that it does wonders in warding off those rough bumps that are such a trial when they pop up on the soles or the sides of the feet.

The cream should be applied generously and massaged in well. It's inexpensive enough to use liberally. The feet should be stroked both upward and downward. Then, to remove the cream and to make the feet feel beautifully stimulated, use alcohol.

It's a wonderful sensation. The alcohol adds to the feeling of clean coolness, and the feet are completely freed of the cream.

Next time your feet are awfully tired and achy try this. It's speedy and tidy and it's a grand pickup.

Dr. A. J. Cronin's documentary novel of the tribulations of Welsh coal miners, as it has been transformed into a British made moving picture, is strong and unrelenting. It pulls no punches; it varnishes no facts; it will scarcely appeal to those whose affections are too firmly fixed upon conventionalized Hollywood sweetness and light.

The first part of the picture is rambling and a little dull. But when the story gets under way, and we see the brave and unfortunate miners drilling and picking thru a wall of coal which is likely to break down at any moment and let thru a million gallons of flood water, a quality of tremendous suspense sets in and a great climax is finally achieved.

The exploitation of the underprivileged coal miners of Wales is an old, old story, going back, we are told, to the period of the first industrialization of Great Britain in the 18th century. Michael Redgrave, the somewhat uncertain hero of "The Stars Look Down," is fired by a desire to do something to improve the conditions under which the miners, his own people, live. The first half of the picture chronicles the manner in which Margaret Lockwood, portraying a selfish and scheming girl, manages thoroly to sidetrack Mr. Redgrave.

When the real crisis arises, however, Mr. Redgrave's good self regains command. He tries to persuade the proper officials to stop work upon the shaft, which he knows to be dangerous, but his plea goes unheeded. Tragedy follows, as several men and boys are trapped in the flooded mine. And upon this note of unresolved, and even hopeless, despair the picture comes to its conclusion with almost unprecedented grimness.

"The Stars Look Down" is well acted—uncommonly well, in the case of Mr. Redgrave's vacillating and indecisive hero, and also of Emlyn Williams' sharply drawn characterization of Joe Gowlan, a young rat and sneak who deserts his own people's cause for the sake of easy money and trifles successfully with Miss Lockwood even after she has succeeded in marrying herself to Mr. Redgrave. Other rôles are naturally and effectively presented, notably those of Nancy Price, Edward Rigby, and Desmond Tester, as the mother, father, and younger brother of Mr. Redgrave.

The photography in the coal mine sequences is exceptionally fine. An impressive air of sincerity prevails thruout the picture, which tends to minimize one's sense of dissatisfaction at the slow pace of the beginning and at the large number of plot elements which are left unresolved at the end. For those who can take it, "The Stars Look Down" will be a valuable experience.

Campaign Will Seek Public Subscriptions to Save Auditorium

Within a day or two the Auditorium Music Foundation, formed by a group of civic minded citizens, will launch a public subscription drive to save the Auditorium theater and hotel, Robert Hall McCormick, foundation chairman, said yesterday.

Burdened with over a million dollars in delinquent taxes, the historic structure was closed Aug. 1. The theater, which housed Chicago's opera for many years, was regarded as a citadel of culture.

McCormick said the building properly belongs to the public and that funds contributed by the public should save it. Mayor Kelly is honorary chairman of the board. Others associated with the rescue attempt are William Albin Dudley, executive secretary of the foundation; William F. Krahl, first vice president; Joseph K. Brittain, second vice president, and Elmer Rich, treasurer.

White Nylon Blouses Take Eye of Co-Eds

BY REA SEEGER.

One of the most fascinating new blouses arriving in time to panic the college wardrobe collectors as well as the rest of the shoppers is the new model made of shimmering sugarwhite nylon. Nothing as ethereal has been seen in weeks. It's a long sleeved model made with a shallow yoke fore and aft and gathered full sleeves banded with a deep wrist fitting cuff fastened with two clear crystal buttons to match the buttons down the center panel of the blouse itself.

This nylon is still the most ethereal mist imaginable, weighs next to nothing at all and will wear for season after season. Of course, it's an expensive creation but it will outwear a half dozen less expensive numbers. Its fragile perfection makes it an ideal blouse for dress parade, long skirt of dull crepe, velvet, broadcloth, or similar fabrics. In such a combination you have a stunning dinner costume or Sunday night supper dress.

Other new blouses feature a tweed printed silk material, a classic hound's tooth pattern in three effective color combines, such as beige with red, powder blue with wine, and brown with green. These are slick suit blouses because they, too, have long sleeves with foldover cuffs. Snowy white silks are also "in" the exquisitely beautiful affairs with dainty handwork around the collar and necklines, and vertical panels of hairline tucks and lustrous pearl buttons.

Strong contrast is featured in other stunning tailored blouses by way of half inch bands of either red, green or navy daintily fagoted onto the white of the blouse. These models feature the convertible collar with clever detail of fagoted band showing to excellent advantage either buttoned up close around the neckline or spread in a deep vee. One of the best looking pale beige colored blouses has the band of chocolate brown for contrast. And an all white model completes the assortment. Short or long sleeves are available.

Decorative stud sets are going strong, knockout oblong sets of brilliant color like cerise, ruby, sapphire, emerald, and topaz, or the amusing hunter's horn design for "toot your own" smart ideas. You can establish your reputation as an imaginative color mixer with stud sets such as the new finds now on display. You'll find the newest sets featured with these new blouses.

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 15—It seems, somehow, that the stage and the movies can never get together. Tyrone Power and Annabella have two nights in "Liliom" at Westport, Conn.—and Hollywood suddenly decides that it must have Ty back immediately for retakes on "A Yank in the RAF." So, despite sellout audiences for a two-week engagement, the Westport theater has to close and Ty flies back here to patch up a picture everybody thought was finished. Power will return late this week and resume his barn theater stage run on Monday.

The Powers, Tyrone and Annabella, had played only two nights when the hurry call for retakes came in. The notices had been good and the business was marvelous. When I heard about 20th-Fox sending for its head boy and thus temporarily folding the legitimate playhouse, I got mad. It was another instance, I said to myself, of the movies showing a supreme and foolhardy contempt for the stage. "Any kind of ticket buyer," I said to myself, "should not be brushed off that way. If a ticket buyer gets sore enough he won't go to shows any more, and then show business, whether it be movies or stage, will be in a pretty fix."

So I yelped at the 20th-Fox studio—and they had a pretty good answer. To begin with, "A Yank in the RAF" has taken much care and a lot of money—enough to finance most of the summer theaters in New England. Last week it was sneak previewed. Audiences seemed to like all but the ending, in which Power gets killed and poor Betty Grable loses a boy friend. The customers wrote on preview cards that they wanted Ty to live, instead of dying in a crash; and they wrote so insistently that the studio decided it must pay heed and shoot a happy ending.

I was told that, on the basis of the preview reactions, the difference between Ty dying and Ty living in the picture might mean a difference of $500,000 in the picture's gross. When that much is at stake, a studio spokesman said, it's just too bad about a summer theater engagement.

"And anyhow," the spokesman continued, "what is the stage doing or what has it done for Power? We've made him a star and we've made him rich. I don't know what he is getting in Westport, but it's peanuts compared to his yearly take here. He hung around Broadway and starved and nobody would give him a tumble, even tho he was the son of a great actor. It wasn't until he quit Broadway and went into the movies that he got anywhere.

"Now he goes back to the stage—as a trick attraction because he's a movie star and married to a glamor girl. They don't want him because he's a good actor, because they don't know; they want him because he's a name and he'll be good at the box office. . . . And what do they put him in? Something new and good? No, they put him in a broken down old play like 'Liliom.'"

Having put in my beef about Power and having got a double portion of beef in return, I drove out to the 20th-Fox back lot to encounter John Kimbrough, the Texas football star, who's getting ready to start his movie career Monday in Zane Grey's "Lone Star Ranger."

Kimbrough belongs to Douglas G. Hertz, New York promoter, and is bound to the New York Yankees pro football team at fine pay. Hertz and Everett Crosby, Bing's agent brother, brought John out here to sell him for a quick shot at the movies before the football season begins. John was sold to Fox and yesterday he was out on the back lot practicing riding.

For a Texan like Kimbrough to have to practice riding sounds silly, for he's been on horses since he was a kid. But he was the first to admit that the notion was okay. . . . Coaching him was one Herman Nolan, who dates back to the Buffalo Bill show and who has taught many movie stars how to behave in a saddle. Kimbrough, big, handsome, friendly, and possessed of a lovely Texas drawl, says "Yes, sir" all the time. He said "Yes, sir" to Nolan. He even said "Yes, sir" to me in answer to questions. Kimbroughs and Texans are just naturally gentlespoken and polite—and the studio thinks that it has in John a much better bet than a one picture shot.

John was riding on the back lot to get used to the fine horse the studio had given him for "Lone Star Ranger" and to pick up from Nolan some tips on how to mount and dismount. Many a genuine plainsman, says Nolan, wouldn't be any good in a movie closeup because he wouldn't be graceful getting aboard or getting off. He was teaching Kimbrough how to mount and dismount with his weight under him so he'd always be in balance and look graceful.

The instruction was being held on one of the back lot western streets, with the saloon fronts, hitching rails and board sidewalks we western fans are familiar with. "Is this," I asked Kimbrough, "something like your home town of Haskell, Tex?"

"No, sir," he said. "There's too many houses. At home we have one sto', two windmills and a waterin' trough."

Back o' Yards Has Its Annual Family Party

Back of the Yards families gathered last night under a clear sky, to cheer and applaud a patriotic program presented in Davis Square park, 45th street and Marshfield avenue. The community night climaxed the activities for 25,000 children in four Catholic Youth Organization summer schools in the neighborhood.

Packed five rows deep around the platform, more than 5,000 persons heard Bishop Bernard J. Sheil and Michael Howlett, National Youth administrator in the Chicago area, compliment the democratic work of the Back of the Yards Neighborhood council in providing free hot lunches for 700 to 1,200 children daily. The service will be resumed when school opens Sept. 3.

Fifty of these children, dressed in colorful costumes, presented a melting pot pageant of folk songs and dances belonging to 10 nationalities. The NYA symphony orchestra, directed by Irwin Fischer, gave the opening concert and the NYA Negro choral group sang southern melodies, with Miss Frankye Browne directing.

As a feature of the program, NYA girls gave a dramatic interpretation of the part women are playing in the production of national defense material. Joseph Meeghan, park director, pointed out that 5,000 young men and girls from the neighborhood had been given jobs in private industries thru the NYA.

Inside the fieldhouse was a display of some of the articles that the school children had made during the summer from material donated by merchants and friends. The exhibit included knitting bags, pot holders, embroidered dresser scarfs, rag rugs, aprons, and wooden articles such as magazine racks, book ends, and knickknack shelves.

Directors of the summer schools, who were special guests, are the Rev. Joseph Kelly, St. Rose of Lima church; the Rev. Ambrose Ombrak, Cornell school; the Rev. Edward Plawinski, Sherman Park school, and the Rev. Edward McGovern, McKinley Park school.

"A Debt Is Paid"

SYNOPSIS.

Kathleen Murray inherits an income and a home in an actor's colony in California and goes there to live. She and Hugo Lang, whose play is being produced in a local summer theater, fall in love, but Hugo refuses to marry until he earns more money. A rich girl, Carol Keyes, is backing his production and insists that she and Maurice Reed play the lead rôles. Hugo's foster mother, Ellen Mount, embittered veteran actress, who gave up a chance on Broadway to care for Hugo, has a minor rôle and Jeanie Payson, daughter of the local hotel keeper, and Toby Allen, Kathleen's 16 year old protégé, are also in the cast. It is a murder play and promises to be a hit, but Kathleen has an uncomfortable presentiment when Wilkie Stokes, another member of the colony, discusses the fascinations of killing. One evening Hugo and Jeanie go for a drive and the next morning Jeanie is found murdered and Hugo traced to a mountain hideout. He refuses to talk and is tried and convicted of murder and gets a life sentence. Kathleen, still believing him innocent, hires Detective William Greer, hoping to find evidence to free Hugo. Carol and Maurice marry and the show goes on even after Hugo goes to prison. Kathleen remembers Stokes' odd remarks about murder and is convinced he is the guilty one. She learns that Greer often psychoanalyses persons by word association games and Kathleen decides to try one out on Stokes. The murdered girl's mother tries to make Kathleen pay for her loss in hotel guests, due, she says, to the publicity given the murder. Greer finds a box of money hidden in the cabin where Hugo was hiding and all the finger prints on it turn out to be Jeanie's.

INSTALMENT XXX.

CHARMING HOST.

Kathleen's skin prickled as if a dirty hand touched her. Out of the darkness of the unknown was emerging some vile reality. It might be something hard to face.

Her conviction that Wilkie Stokes had written a living mystery story for his own macabre pleasure doubled in strength. She hated the police for their shoddy work. If only they'd found Hugo bound and helpless how different the history of the case would have been.

"Toby, how could the police miss that cellar?" she cried passionately.

"It isn't a cellar, Kathleen. It's just a kind of cubby hole in the center of the foundations. You're breast deep in the living room when you stand up in it."

"But Hugo could have made some noise—something—"

"Remember the wound that wouldn't heal, Kathleen."

"Horrible! Horrible!" She began to walk up and down the floor. "And that's nothing to what he's suffering now. Shut up like a felon for a crime he couldn't commit. How I'd like to get my hands on the fiendish murderer!"

"That reminds me," said Toby. "I told Bill about your date and he doesn't like it. He says please don't go. He's positive Stokes had nothing to do with it. He says the case has no marks of an intellectual murder. But he still thinks he's a queer guy. Not fit to be trusted with a sweet adorable girl." Toby flushed scarlet. "That's what Bill said about you. So pass it up, Kathleen. Let me call him on the phone and say you can't go."

But Kathleen would get no peace until she had made at least an attempt to probe the mind behind that smugly malevolent grin. Her own mind burned with her list of indifferent and critical words. She could hardly wait to see if she held a key that would fit and turn.

"I thought we settled that this morning, Toby."

"But you could change your mind."

"I won't."

The boy looked at her with troubled despair. "I wish I were old enough to have some influence over you. You take no notice of me because you think of me as a child."

She smiled at him with affection. "I don't. Being older would make no difference. I'd still like my date if you were."

"Very well," he sighed. "I'll drop you on my way to Bill's hotel. And your story will have to be good at 9:30."

* * *

The housekeeper opened the front door of Wilkie Stokes' modest sized but expensive looking house. She was a woman in her late 30s with a fresh plump face and a refined pleasant manner. Toby gave a honk on the horn to attract Kathleen's attention, nodded as if to say "Well, she's all right," waved his hand and drove away.

The woman, acting as if it were nothing unusual for a beautiful girl to dine with her employer alone, conducted Kathleen to a powder room on the ground floor to remove her evening coat and comb her ruffled hair. Airy, modern, luxurious—was Kathleen's mental comment on the interior of the house. At sight of the large living room where cocktail shaker and glasses were set on a low table before a blond leather couch, she added the words—exquisite, original, exciting.

The room was furnished for sybaritic comfort and also to enchant the eye with its relation to the exotic paintings on the walls. It showed cultivated and also highly individual taste.

It was still daylight outside, but night in here, illuminated with silvery concealed light. The hand blocked linen curtains drawn across an entire wall covered the windows.

The housekeeper conducted her into the room and left her there, closing the door on her. Kathleen stood on the thick pale carpet looking about her, her mind churning with this jolt to her preconceived ideas. She had earned her living competently as a confidential secretary to George Cassell's father, Wall street lawyer, but she had natural good taste and inborn appreciation of the arts. Color and beauty had a tremendous influence on her. She was one of those home gifted women who could create out of almost nothing expensive looking and artistic surroundings. With money at her disposal, she had made a show place of domestic comfort allied with visual beauty of the house she had inherited on the lake.

But here she recognized the work of a talent superior to her own—a master.

Prepared to find something sinister in the atmosphere in keeping with owner's tastes and personality, she was taken by surprise. The pictures were erotic in quality, but the color symphonies were wonderful. And powerful to evoke a mood. The room was vibrant with optimism and mental health. Kathleen clung to her suspicions because she would have so much less hope without them.

The heavy door opened and her host entered looking almost handsome in crisp white dinner jacket.

"So you're here, Miss Murray."

"Didn't you think I would be?"

He came forward smiling.

"Frankly, no. I thought you would change your mind."

She took his proffered hand and felt the hard, bony strength of it.

"Cocktail? You can have anything you like if this isn't it. This is a dry Martini."

"I'm no connoisseur," she said, "I drink so little."

"But that's the method of the epicure—in all things. And he is the connoisseur."

He picked up the shaker—and poured the chill golden fluid into the glasses.

"Here's to a charming new friendship," he said with his tight secret smile.

Kathleen raised her glass and sipped without speaking.

She felt him looking at her in his sly, amused way, and she felt forced to make conversation.

"I had no idea you had such a gorgeous home here."

"Few people have. I prefer solitude to the wrong company. Too bad it took a murder to bring you into it."

The aura of his chief interest had dispelled the cheerful air of the room and now her suspicions rushed back like unseen shadows gathering round her. She put her half empty glass down.

"I thought I knew all there was about making a house sing with charm and color. But you make me feel an amateur."

"I'd like to see Lakes End made over. I've heard about it."

This surprised her.

"So few people have seen it finished. I wonder—"

"Servants talk, you know. They have their own ideas. Your Susan thinks she's living in a motion picture set. She told it to a friend who told it to a friend of my housekeeper."

That cheerful, matter of fact, pleasant woman who was in the house somewhere. Kathleen laughed with Stokes and the shadow of violent death retreated a little. Curious, too, what a peculiar charm he had when he laughed outright. It wiped out that queer, half-mad smile and made him quite a different person.

The door opened again and a quiet, refined voice said—"Dinner is served, sir."

Stokes offered Kathleen his arm. Feeling slightly ridiculous with this exaggerated formality, she took it. He led her across the spacious hall and down two steps into a remarkable dining room. It contained nothing but the long narrow dining table, the chairs, and the four walls. But the walls were painted with allegorical landscapes in astounding perspective, and they seemed to be sitting on a terrace surrounded on all sides by open country extending into infinite distances. Such country, too. Trees, fruit, animals, and flowers which had neither blossomed nor lived anywhere save in the brain of a vividly imaginative man. The concealed light illumined the colors without destroying them and the illusion was the mellow sunlight of the fabulous landscapes.

"This in Willow Lake!" Kathleen exclaimed. "Why, the man is a genius."

"He was." Stokes pulled out a chair for her. "But I couldn't keep him going all his life, nor persuade any one else to see it. Poor fellow! He's now in the asylum."

"That's shocking. Isn't there any hope?"

He waited for her to begin the fruit cup in crystal set in ice.

"Maybe. He's painting the walls of his room with an excellent portrayal of hell. I'm keeping him supplied with the paints for it."

Here's Advice in Controling Little Child

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.

Beginning with the time he is able to walk and circulate actively about the house and outdoors, a baby takes a different part in home life and requires, in many ways, a sort of handling different from that of babyhood. From the age of 15 or 18 months your baby may become, if you aren't aware of his rapid development and his needs, a problem. And, oddly enough to my mind, the fact that his young mother may herself have been most understandingly treated in her turn at this age, doesn't necessarily give her the intuitive skill and understanding you might expect.

"I'm getting such frantic letters from my daughter who is living in the East Indies," suddenly said a woman with whom I'd been discussing things such as war and the draft the other day. "Her baby's 14 months old, and she writes that all she's said since the baby could walk has been, 'No! No! No!' She has even, in desperation, slapped the baby's hands a little. She says that Debby is plain naughty and so mischievous, and that right now she has a mania for opening bureau drawers and emptying them. My daughter seems to be completely at a loss. Now I know all that isn't the right way. I wish I could be there."

All that's the matter with this twinkling eyed Debby is that she's thrilled to be able to go where she wants, filled with the curiosity which is necessary for her to have in order to learn about this fascinating world, and so full of energy that she must be doing something all the time.

Instead of "No!" her attention must be directed to the many things she can do. And she must be allowed to do anything that is within reason. Her need for touching, pulling, emptying and filling, seeing, building, "helping" and sharing with her mother must be satisfied, not checked. This method, intelligently pursued, leads not to wilfulness and destructiveness, but to obedience and deftness with her young hands.

There's a good, informative section on food, diet, and weight reduction in a new book called "Doctor's Don't Believe it, Why Should You?" by August Thomen, M. D., published by Simon & Schuster, selling at $2.50 the copy.

The book explodes a good many commonly held theories about diet and disease, and contains much practical information valuable in any home.

We are lax about providing sufficient vitamin D [viosterol, fish liver oils being best sources] in the diets of children, we realize upon reading in this book that from 50 to 80 per cent of all children in the United States are afflected with rickets. In the milder forms there are no apparent abnormalities of the bones, but anemia, nervousness, susceptibility to colds may be present.

The vitamin D manufactured in the body by the action of sunlight isn't sufficient protection for children in our climate. They need supplementary sources, such as those mentioned. Vitamin D milk is advisable, too. There are several kinds, that irradiated by ultra violet light, that obtained by feeding irradiated yeast to the cow that gives the milk, and a fortified milk obtained by adding concentrates.

Want to know what nutritionists consider the almost perfect school lunch? Peanut butter and whole wheat bread sandwiches, a pint of milk [vitamin D, preferably], and an orange or a tomato. Simple, isn't it?

Ever try honey butter for pancakes, waffles, sandwiches? Make it by blending ½ cup warm butter and 1 cup warm honey. Beat together well. Store what you don't use in a covered jar in the refrigerator. It's a good spread for tea sandwiches.

Speaking of honey, here's that honey French dressing you've tasted and wondered about.

Honey French Dressing.
⅓ cup salad oil
⅓ cup honey
⅓ cup lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
¾ teaspoon mustard
few grains cayenne pepper

Combine all ingredients and beat thoroly, or shake in a bottle or covered jar. Half an onion may be grated and added. This dressing, with or without the onion, is better for fruits than for vegetables.

The marriage of Miss Frances Gerling, daughter of Mrs. Florence Gerling of Pine Grove avenue, to Paul Julius Spiegel of Lake Shore drive will take place on Monday in the home of Dr. Abraham Hirschberg. A reception will follow at 3 o'clock in the Ambassador East hotel.

Sitting Too Much Ruinous to Loveliness

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.
Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.

Babies don't have to be taught to exercise. In their cribs they kick with a vigor that would shame an adult in a gymnasium. Young children run and jump and skip and climb, like animals, with the sheer joy of physical activity. It's too bad so many adults lose their joy in physical play.

It is not until children go to school that they must have exercise drills. It is not until they grow up to office jobs that they need setting up exercises. It's the chairs and desks of civilization, the automobiles and trains, the sitting down pleasure of movies and theaters, reading and bridge that steal away man's natural love of bodily activity.

If women want to have good circulation, healthy and beautiful bodies, they should cultivate a pleasure in motion.

Instead of jumping into a car to drive three blocks, women will go farther in the direction of health and beauty if they walk. We don't expect bridge addicts to give up their games, but at least they can balance it by badminton, folk dancing, or golf.

We enjoy ourselves too much, sitting down. There's plenty of outdoors everywhere in the coming fall. Let's rise from our chairs and enjoy the beauty-bringing thrills of physical activity.

Household Forum
By Louise Bargelt

Mrs. Elmer Corson, Chicago: Having just finished buying some summer clothes for my four children, the idea has occurred to me—why not sell the clothing of all children according to their height and their weight, instead of their age? The age of a child is so often no guide to the needed garment size.

Mrs. T. C. B., Aurora, Ill: I have made several "horseshoe shaped" pillows for my family and we keep these handy when any one wants solid comfort, reading or napping in a chair. Wear the pillow like a neckpiece and you'll find your head is supported at a natural angle.

Elinor D——, Evanston, Ill.: We keep a shallow pan at the bottom of our fireplace and find it very handy when it comes to removing ashes.

Mrs. Gilbert L——, Chicago: Attach a cork to a vacuum cup and you'll have a convenient pincushion which can be "stuck" on your sewing machine and in easy reach—when you want it. When you no longer need it, it's just as easy to remove.

Mrs. R—— May, Milwaukee, Wis.: At canning time I always test my rubbers before putting them on jars; I bend and stretch them and then keep them in a pan of boiling water for 10 or 12 minutes.

Slippers in Moss Stitch

BY JEAN MACDONALD.

Knitted bedroom slippers of the sneaker variety are such an ease to tired feet that no one, either masculine or feminine, should ever be without a pair. These slippers are knitted in a moss stitch and attached to a leather or composition sole. These comfortable sandals are the perfect going-away gift for the freshman college student, and may be made at a nominal cost in either cotton or wool.

For instructions in knitting the bedroom slippers of moss stitch, No. 830, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 230 5th avenue, New York City.

Universal Day—Smile—it helps to lighten the day for those who have to look at you!

Keywords—Number 5 is a rather stimulating number and can be very exciting if you don't let the excitement throw you off balance. This is the number of activity. Whatever it is, it isn't dull. It might be distracting and restless, but it doesn't stand still. On the 5 days you can look for things to pop up unexpectedly. There is always an element of surprise in this number. Things never turn out just the way they are planned. You must keep mentally alert to keep up with this number. It brings ideas, changes, and upsets. Humor and entertainment are the high lights of this number, and sometimes a dash of romance flavors one's adventures under the vibrations of 5. It is a highly intuitive number, but, of course, it can be superficial and too erratic.

Sally's Guests Are Picked for Baseball Party

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.
[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

After reading a lot of fine letters from boys and girls who want to come to our baseball party next week, I know which youngsters have been selected as winners, and after 24 short little hours, all you children will know, too!

The news will be in your Sunday TRIBUNE, and the 50 boys and 50 girls who've been selected can feel pretty good about it, too, because the competition was stiff. Judging by the size of the mail, just about every boy and girl in the city wants to see the White Sox play Boston on Aug. 21.

I'm sorry I couldn't take all of the eager children who wrote in, but one hundred are all I can manage for one afternoon, and those who weren't winners will have a chance to try for another party.

I think it's a pretty nice one—but I won't tell you any more about it until tomorrow. After you read about it, let me know if you don't agree with me.

Forgetting Is Made Easy by New Interests

BY DORIS BLAKE.
Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.

How can I forget him?

Almost every woman, at one time or other, is faced with the problem of getting over a romance. The man has married, fallen in love with some one else, or simply stopped paying court.

"I can't forget him," the girl protests, but often forget him she must. The sooner the better, in most cases.

It isn't easy. She keeps thinking about him, going over and over the reasons, or the lack of reason, that parted them. If another woman has cut her out, she spends hours building up a case against her rival.

Her instinct is to stay away from her friends and mope. The more people she sees the better. If she can go on a trip or even an excursion and see new faces and new scenes, splendid. If she can't actually go away, she should make a point of discovering new streets, new shops, new friends, a new routine. Now is the time she should entertain the old friends and new friends she neglected while her romance was flourishing.

If she has been promising herself to study music, take up handicraft of some kind, or cultivate a hobby, here is her chance. A new man, of course, will cure her heartbreak more quickly than anything else, but until she forgets the old love, she won't be in the mood for a new romance. Meanwhile she needs to build up her life with new interests and activities.

If she finds happiness by herself, she will attract happiness and a happier romance to her.

Have you a perplexing problem on which you need friendly counsel? Write to Doris Blake in care of the Chicago Tribune, Tribune Tower, Chicago, Ill. If you wish a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Accept His Love.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am 18. I have been going with a boy of 24. He tells me he loves me and says he won't be angry if I go out with other boys. Should I do this? PERPLEXED."

His is not the possessive kind of love, so take his advice. Time alone will tell how seriously he feels toward you. In the meantime, be smart. Go out with others, too.

Time to Speak Up.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am well acquainted with a pretty girl, but I just can't dig up the nerve to ask her for a date. Please advise. PERPLEXED."

Has it occurred to you that she might be hoping you'll ask her out? Don't disappoint her. She might get tired of waiting for you to ask her for a date and accept one from another fellow.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

Since the number of bids that either partner can have on a given hand is limited, it is vital to discriminate among the facts that can be expressed. In today's hand North thought that he was transmitting an accurate picture of his own holding, but he left out the most vital feature.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	Pass	2 hearts	Pass
3 clubs	Pass	3 spades	Pass
4 clubs	Pass	4 no trump	Pass
6 clubs	Pass	Pass	Pass

The six club contract [against which West opened a low diamond] would have been made if South had been able to guess the club situation. Not being second-sighted, however, he laid down the club ace and then the queen, with the reasonable hope that he could capture the club ten either on the second or third round of the suit. Unfortunately, the adverse distribution made this impossible, and the contract was down one. But even if it had been fulfilled the contract still would have been very bad by comparison to what it should have been.

North's bidding had made it impossible to reach the correct contract, namely, seven hearts. He had bid two hearts over South's one club, and while this was quite justified, despite his club void, because of his tremendous strength, he could certainly not expect his partner to realize that he had made this jump take-out and his later four no trump bid without a single club. South's extreme club length made it appear that no support in the suit would be required. But "no support" is one thing, and a void quite another.

If North had proceeded as he obviously should have, namely, rebid his excellent heart suit, the partnership might well have reached the laydown grand slam in hearts. The bidding should have been:

South	North
1 club	2 hearts
3 clubs	3 hearts
4 hearts	7 hearts

After North gets even delayed heart support from South, 13 tricks appear an overwhelming probability, and there is no point in "fooling around" with spades or no trump.

SENATE PASSES MILITARY ROADS BILL AFTER CUT

Measure Calls for Fund of 175 Million Dollars.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—The senate today passed a drastically revised edition of the so-called defense highway bill. As it goes to the house, the measure calls for expenditure of 175 million dollars for highway improvements and construction of access roads to army and naval posts, manufacturing plants and raw material sources.

Fifty million dollars would be allocated to the states under the federal aid formula which is based on population and other considerations, while another 25 million would be distributed to the states on the basis of military needs to supplement other funds.

The balance of 100 million dollars would be used for the construction of access roads ordered by the military or naval authorities. Another provision of the bill reduces from one-half to one-third the amount of matching funds each state must put up to secure the federal aid.

Total Cut 75 Million.

Today's bill is a substitute for a highway measure which was vetoed by President Roosevelt on Aug. 2. The original bill called for an expenditure of 250 million, the bulk of which was to be turned over to the states on the basis of the established federal highway aid formula.

In his message to congress, Mr. Roosevelt asserted that the ordinary considerations for dealing out federal funds for road building, such as population and number of postoffices, had no connection with possible military needs. Other opponents of the bill described it as a pork barrel measure designed primarily to give members of congress money to spend back home.

State Aid Item Slashed.

However, the veto was overridden in the senate and was sustained only by a narrow margin in the house. Congressional leaders sought in the new bill to eliminate the objections by providing the 25 million dollar fund to be distributed to the states on the basis of highway needs rather than on the old considerations plus 100 million for the access roads. At the same time, the leaders set up another 100 millions for regular state aid.

An amendment offered by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.] cutting the 100 million sum to 50 million finally was accepted. Vandenberg had stood with the President and voted to sustain the veto of the first bill.

TWO SUSPENDED POLICEMEN FACE BRIBERY CHARGE

Police Commissioner Allman ordered yesterday that charges of accepting bribes be filed with the police trial board against Lieut. Arthur F. Patten and Patrolman John J. McDermott of the South Chicago district. Both men were suspended on Tuesday.

V. F. Johnson, 5724 Chappel avenue, owner of an interstate trucking business, told investigators for the police department that he paid McDermott $40 after the patrolman suggested he had better "play ball" with him or be arrested for not having city license stickers on this trucks. He added that McDermott told him $25 of the money was for the lieutenant.

Another trucker, Thomas Carey of 8316 Ingleside avenue, asserted that Patten and McDermott had demanded bribes from him. Carey was with the patrolman when he was arrested by an investigator at 95th street and South Chicago avenue. Capt. John Prendergast, chief of the uniform rank, was with the investigator. Both the lieutenant, who has been on the force since 1908, and McDermott have denied taking or demanding bribes.

FIGHTS FOR SON AFTER 15 YEARS; WINS 1ST ROUND

Mother, Once Held Dead, Reappears.

A mother fighting for custody of the son she placed to board with a south side family 15 years ago charged before Judge Oscar F. Nelson yesterday that the youth's custodians, wishing to adopt him, refused to return him to her. She asserted that two years ago they possessed themselves of her $5,362 bank account by stating in Probate court that she was presumed to be dead.

The strange story was told by Mrs. Josephine Glynn, 34 years old, of 5711 South Bishop street, who appeared on habeas corpus proceedings directed against George Hartnett and his wife, Elizabeth, of 7942 South Wood street, to regain possession of her son, Martin, now 17 and a senior at St. Rita's High school.

Paid $5 a Week Board.

Mrs. Glynn related that, after her divorce, she placed her 2 year old son with the Hartnetts in 1926, agreeing to pay them $5 a week board. She held a job and was unable to maintain a home for the infant.

In 1937, Mrs. Glynn said, she had a nervous breakdown and went to Florida to recover. While she was there, the Hartnetts wrote asking her permission to adopt her son. Mrs. Glynn refused and in turn asked that the boy be sent to her in Florida.

The Hartnetts, she continued, responded by saying that Martin did not wish to join her. Mrs. Glynn discontinued the weekly payments upon their refusal to send him to her, and about this time the boy began to be known as Martin Hartnett.

Given Access to Funds.

Two years ago, Mrs. Glynn asserted, the Hartnetts went into Probate court and, upon representation that she had not been heard from in three years and was presumed to be dead, obtained an order giving them access to her savings, presumably to be applied to Martin's support.

Mrs. Glynn's attorney, Joseph T. Harrington, said that the Hartnetts had full knowledge that Mrs. Glynn was not dead, because she had written to them periodically.

"We have brought suit to recover the money," Harrington stated.

"It is unfortunate that this boy and his mother have been separated," Judge Nelson said in directing that Martin be returned to his mother until a full hearing is held Sept. 4. The boy, reluctant to comply, said:

"Recently, when my mother called, she told me she had gone away to forget me."

Mr. and Mrs. Hartnett have no children of their own.

Veterans on Wheels

After cycling thru a four year courtship, Miss Estelle Tomaschoff, 4406 North Wolcott avenue, and Dr. Graydon McK. Powell, national president of the League of American Wheelmen, will start a lifelong trip today. The couple will be married at 4 p. m. in the Church of the Atonement, 5749 Kenmore avenue, before a crowd of friends, most of whom are bicycling enthusiasts.

Dr. Powell, 45 years old, a chiropodist at 952 North Michigan avenue, has ridden more than 12,000 miles in the last five years. During the last two winters, he toured the islands of Nassau and Cuba. Miss Tomaschoff, who used to cycle with Miss Dorothy Rutz of Winnetka, her maid of honor, has far outdistanced her friend since she met Dr. Powell. Her record for three years is betwen 8,000 and 10,000 miles.

Miss Tomaschoff will be given away by another 10,000 mile man, her brother, Paul. Every club in the Wheelmen's league in 15 states and 5 foreign countries has received an invitation to the wedding. Members of the Sprocket Cycle club, which they helped to organize, gave the couple a silver sprocket with 16 teeth, one to represent each charter member.

Tho Miss Tomaschoff said Dr. Powell did not propose on a bicycle, they made all their plans on wheels, which include a week-end bicycle trip and a honeymoon on wheels thru Florida next January.

CIO AUTO UNION RENAMES THOMAS TO PRESIDENCY

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 15 (AP).—R. J. Thomas, a former welder who has guided the UAW-CIO for two and a half years, was reëlected president of the organization today after he pleaded for unity and an end to factional strife.

With only a few delegates dissenting, the United Automobile, Aircraft and Agricultural Implement workers at their sixth national convention adopted a motion electing Thomas to the post he has held since January, 1939, when Homer Martin was ousted by the executive board. George F. Addes of Detroit, secretary-treasurer since 1936, also was reelected, defeating Richard T. Leonard, Detroit regional director.

Food Eaten at State Fair Makes Thirty Persons Ill

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15 (AP).—Thirty persons became ill tonight after they had eaten tainted food at a concession at the Illinois State Fair grounds. Seven were taken to hospitals, while the others were treated at the emergency hospital on the fair grounds. The food which caused the illness was traced to one concession.

NEW FAIR POLICY SAVING $200,000 A YEAR IN TAXES

Expect Gate Fee to Solve Deficit Problem.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15.—William V. [Jake] Ward, general manager of the 89th Illinois state fair, this afternoon predicted that policies inaugurated by Gov. Dwight Green will save taxpayers about $200,000 a year and may end an annual deficit that last year amounted to $280,000.

W. V. Ward.

Paid attendance for four days, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, totaled 247,750. Last Saturday and Sunday admission was free, with the counters tallying 187,113 visitors. The fair closes Sunday night.

Under former Democratic administrations, hundreds of thousands of passes were distributed. Total paid admissions last year were 8,904.

Parking Swells Revenue.

Another source of revenue for the state treasury this year is the fee of 25 cents for parking within the 366 acre enclosure. Parking was covered by passes in Democratic times.

In four days this year, 53,723 motorists have paid parking fees. The total is expected to be swelled by 50,000 more in the final three days.

"If this fair, with its agricultural exhibits and its entertainment, isn't worth a quarter at the gate, I don't know values," said Gov. Green, who has paid admission for himself and his driver on each of his many visits to the grounds. "Every one tells me it's the greatest fair we ever had, and we've always had one of the biggest fairs in America."

Capital Residents Grumble.

Springfield residents, accustomed to much free entertainment at the expense of taxpayers in former years, have grumbled about the 25 cent gate fee this year, while visitors from outside this county have accepted the innovation on the theory that those who patronize the fair should pay for it.

Concessionaires also have grumbled, saying that attendance has been reduced by the gate fee. There are no comparable figures on attendance, but sales tax reports for the concessionaires show that their business is better than last year. Receipts by carnival attractions are 25 per cent above 1940.

Chicago's Irish Queen

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

GENEVIEVE CONROY.

A pretty Irish girl with Irish dimples, Irish red hair, and an Irish smile is Chicago's 1941 Irish queen. She was chosen late last night at the end of the Irish day celebration in Harms park, 4203 North Western avenue, which drew more than 9,000 persons.

She is Miss Genevieve Conroy, 18 years old, 1024 Oakdale avenue. Second and third places were won, respectively, by Miss Kathleen Sullivan, 17, of 4632 Monroe street, and Miss Eileen Rogers, 16, of 6338 Lakewood avenue.

Other contests in the day long program included best babies and most representative Irish names. Patrick Cummings, 2½ years old, 918 Oakdale avenue, won in the age group below 3 years and Dennis McGuire, 3½, 704 Aldine avenue, won in the age group from 3 to 6. O'Connor was chosen as the most representative name, defeating Kelly, the runner-up, which won the honor last year. Sullivan, Murphy, Ryan, Gallagher, and Walsh were next in that order. Principal speakers of the day were Bishop Bernard J. Sheil and Judge John P. McGoorty.

GREEN SIGNS 23 BILLS, VETOES 6, TO CLEAR DESK

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15 (AP).—Gov. Dwight Green today completed action on bills passed by the legislature when he signed 23 measures and vetoed six. The bills had been awaiting executive action during his vacation.

The principal bill signed was the municipal code act, which codifies the numerous laws pertaining to cities and villages and repeals 194 obsolescent and conflicting statutes. Most of the other bills acted upon were companion bills.

Included among measures signed was the Barr bill authorizing payment for water main extensions in 30 special assessment instalments. Two others sponsored by Senator Charles Carpentier [R., East Moline] were companion measures to a bill already signed by the governor permitting cities to issue bonds without referendum to pay back salaries of firemen and policemen.

Among the bills vetoed were two by Senator Thomas Keane [D., Chicago] permitting cities to license dealers in second hand automobiles and giving Chicago the right to condemn land near the municipal airport for automobile parking.

Red Army Paper Cites Son of Stalin for Heroism

MOSCOW, Aug. 16, Saturday (AP).—The army journal Red Star cited Premier Joseph Stalin's son, Jacob Djugashivili, today for heroic action against the Germans by staying at his post "until he used his last shell." [The Germans announced recently the capture of Stalin's son, a lieutenant of artillery.]

10 OPPOSE ALSAB TODAY IN WASHINGTON PARK FUTURITY

CHICAGO COLT 3-5 FAVORITE IN $46,000 RACE

Contradiction Chief Rival.

Futurity Field

ELEVEN 2 year olds were named in the overnight entries for today's Washington Park Futurity. If all start, the gross value of the stake will be $46,420. The field in order of post positions follows:

Horse.	Wt.	Jockey.	Probable odds.
Wise Colonel	114	W. Yarberry	25-1
Alsab	119	R. L. Vedder	3-5
First of All	117	No boy	12-1
Cortege	117	No boy	25-1
Valdina Orphan	117	J. G. Wilson	8-1
Great Occasion	114	A. Craig	15-1
†Insocoon	114	No boy	5-1
†Contradiction	117	J. Richard	3-1
Putitthere	117	A. Shelhamer	15-1
†Topnard	117	No boy	8-1
Chicago Dr.	117	No boy	30-1

†Woolford Farms entry.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Alsab, the colt which was auctioned for $700 before the eyes of the smartest horsemen in America, will race today at odds of 3 to 5 in the $46,000 Washington Park Futurity. If he wins, he will have a stronger claim than any horse in the country to the championship of the juvenile division.

This handsome, free striding colt, owned by Mrs. Al Sabath of Chicago, has galloped to five stake victories on Chicago and New England tracks. Another successful effort today would add $33,575 to his earnings and would run his total to the neighborhood of $68,000, which would make him the leading money winner of all the nation's 2 year olds.

Eleven Entries Named.

Eleven horses were named in the overnight entries for this 6 furlong dash. If all start, the gross value of the purse will be $46,420.

Alsab will be meeting quite a few new rivals, the most formidable of which is believed to be Woolford farm's Contradiction. Dixiana farm's First of All and W. C. Stroube's Great Occasion also are expected to run well. Valdina Orphan and Putitthere are the only ones in the field which have encountered Alsab before, the former having been a strong second in last Saturday's Juvenile and the latter having been far back in the Primer stakes at Arlington before reaching his present good condition.

Chicago racing fans, who have watched many strong favorites fall in important stakes of the last few seasons, will gather at Washington Park today to see what happens to Alsab. This horse is one standout which has consistently lived up to the expectations of his backers as he swept thru the Joliet, Primer, Hyde Park, Mayflower and Juvenile stakes at Lincoln Fields, Arlington Park, Suffolk Downs and Washington Park under the expert supervision of Trainer Sarge Swenke.

He's Not Fastidious.

Many of the favorites which have failed have been pretty fastidious about the conditions under which they would do their best. There's nothing like that about Alsab, however. He has repeatedly shown the ability to overcome any kind of hard luck and win. He can take the lead early and draw away in the stretch or he can come from far back to get to the front in the later stages. If he can't find racing room on the rail, he's just as willing to go wide and win anyway. If the quarters are close, he'll ram his way into any opening that it's physically possible to get thru.

The distance of six furlongs will be just to his liking. In the five and a half furlong events in which he has scored his previous victories, he has indicated that the farther he could have gone on those occasions the larger would have been his margin of victory. The unusually long Washington Park stretch will suit him perfectly, too. It will take a sturdy finisher to withstand the long hard drive which Alsab may turn on if the going gets tough. Bobby Vedder, who has handled the colt very capably in previous engagements, will be aboard him again today.

Contradiction Chief Challenger.

Contradiction earned the prestige of being Alsab's most highly regarded challenger by coming back from a vacation to score impressively in a preparatory race last Tuesday. He was considered an exceptionally promising youngster last spring. In the second start of his career he beat a field which included Calumet Farm's Sun Again. In his next effort he incurred bucked shins and this was followed by a slight illness. Trainer Ross Higdon didn't bring him out again until last Tuesday—and he ran brilliantly then.

First of All has started only once, due to a coughing ailment in the spring. In his debut on Thursday he showed considerable class in beating a field of fast and experienced rivals. Great Occasion, a filly, has been unbeaten in the only two starts of her career.

This is Alsab, Al Sabath's amazing colt, the 3-5 favorite in today's $46,420 Futurity at Washington Park. Purchased for $700, the 2 year old has been winning consistently all season. Jockey Bob Vedder, who will ride Alsab today, is up.

Robinson Leads All-Star Drive; Bears Hold 1st Contact Drill

BY WILFRID SMITH.

In a surprise scrimmage yesterday afternoon between the All-Star teams now in training at Northwestern university for their battle with the Chicago Bears in Soldiers' field Aug. 28, the college coaches served notice that every day might be game day.

The last hour of yesterday's double drill established a new star, Jackie Robinson of U. C. L. A. This same period also sent four men to the sidelines with injuries. One of them, Marion Asa, Bradley Tech guard, who sustained a badly sprained ankle, has been lost to the squad indefinitely.

Allerdice's Knee Hurt.

Dave Allerdice, Princeton half back, and one of the best forward passers in eastern football history, injured his right knee. Ray Apolskis, Marquette university center, suffered a similar injury, while Ted Pavelev, Detroit university, who had been steadily advancing to first team rating as a tackle, received a cut over an eye. This will not keep him on the sidelines except for these intra-squad games.

Robinson's 60 yard sprint around left end for a touchdown was the feature of the scrimmage. The lithe, twisting half back, shot past the end and then plotted his own path around the would-be tacklers. That Robinson ran from scrimmage was more startling than if he had returned with an opponent's punt for under the latter circumstance he always has been a threat.

Playing in the same back field at the time of Jackie's run were Marion Pugh, Texas A. and M., right half; Jap Davis, Duke university, full back, and Bob Morrow, Illinois Wesleyan, quarter back.

McAdams' Passing Deadly.

Dean McAdams, University of Washington half back, later had his opportunity to show how deadly is his passing. McAdams' 35 yard toss to Hugh Gallarneau, right half from Stanford university, sent his Pacific coast compatriot on for a touchdown run of 15 yards. The 1941 All-Star squad has several smart forward passers and McAdams is one of the best. Then there also is Charles O'Rourke, of Boston college, who lacks the weight many believe a running back should have but whose determination and skill will earn him a chance against the pro champions.

McAdams' pass yesterday, duplicated later by others of the All-Stars, may be warning to the Bears that they are headed for the same kind of a surprise Green Bay received four years ago. Then, you will recall, Sammy Baugh, of Texas Christian,

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Delafield, Wis., Aug. 15—Theory gave away to cold reality today in the preparation process of the Chicago Bears for that little gridiron matter the night of Aug. 28 involving them and the College All-Stars in Soldiers' field, Chicago.

The coaching staff this afternoon picked the plays which will be used against the collegians. In effect this meant today actually was the beginning of drill for their battle with the All-Stars. In the previous five days, the 42 players were given individual instruction as back field, line and end units. But today the three departments functioned as one as the first contact work started.

A Scrimmage Compromise.

It was a compromise between real and dummy scrimmage. Defensive men held blocking dummies in front of them, which absorbed the shock as the backs came charging through the line. Rain the night before softened the sandy field and there was a cooling breeze. The first full-fledged scrimmage will be held Sunday.

Jack Manders, who was shifted from full back to guard at his own request, drew praise for his blocking ability and felt compensated for a small cut on the right cheekbone and a jammed finger on his right hand.

George Musso was the only right guard available today because of minor leg injuries to Harold Lahar and Al Forte. So George was worked at guard on all three squads, which are designated as the red, white and blue.

"What do the coaches think I am—an American flag?" he grumbled

SO. CALIFORNIA NAMES BARRY FOOTBALL COACH

Promotes Late Howard Jones' Assistant.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 15 (AP).—Sam Barry will carry on where the late Howard Jones left off at the University of Southern California. Barry, christened Justin McCarthy Barry 48 years ago in Aberdeen, S. D., was named head football coach today.

A youngish looking veteran of a quarter century in major college athletics—the last 12 years as chief assistant to Jones and head coach of basketball and baseball — Barry stepped into his old master's shoes with the same length contract Jones worked under—a year to year agreement.

Salary Believed $7,000.

The salary was not disclosed, but best gueses placed the figure at between $7,000 and $10,000. Jones was believed to have received between $12,000 and $15,000 a year during his long tenure at U. S. C.

"I consider it a great honor to be selected for the job," Barry said. "I'll certainly do my best and try not to let down those who have had the confidence in me to give me this appointment.

"Howard Jones and the Trojan varsity squad over a long period of years established a tradition of clean, hard fighting football that I will make every effort to maintain."

Keeps Basket, Baseball Jobs.

Barry, under the present setup, will continue as basketball and baseball coach. The assistant football staff, Bob McNeish as back field coach, Julie Bescos for the ends, and Gus Shaver in charge of the freshman team, will remain intact.

A line coach will be engaged to replace Jeff Cravath, who left U. S. C. for the San Francisco university head coaching position.

Barry will begin active football plans Aug. 23. Practice opens Sept. 8.

He indicated little change would be made in Trojan tactics. Jones and Barry worked together in spring training and plans were virtually set for the 1941 campaign. Jones died on July 24.

Coached at Iowa.

Barry attended Madison, Wis., High school, later coached there and at Lawrence college. In 1918 he took over the athletic directorship at Knox college, Illinois, coaching the major sports. In 1922 he went to Iowa as basketball and baseball coach—and assistant to Jones.

It was there that he and Jones formed a steadfast friendship. Jones came to U. S. C. in 1925, and when, in 1929, an opening developed, he sent for Barry. Jones ranked Barry as one of the best scouts in football and leaned heavily upon him in the actual coaching chores.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Buck Ross and a valiant supporting cast of White Sox regaled a crowd of 34,879 in Comiskey park last night by whipping the sadly disillusioned Cleveland Indians, 5 to 2. It was the 5th straight Sox victory over the Indians, their 11th in 16 matches over a team they were able to trim only 6 times in 22 tries last season, and it moved the Chicagoans to within a half game of the third place Red Sox and within two games of the second place Indians.

Ross, in achieving his third victory as a member of the Sox and his second under lights, yielded only seven hits. Three of them in a row gave the Indians the first run of the game in the fourth inning and a triple by Gee Walker and a single by Jeff Heath after two were out in the eighth and the Sox were ahead, 5 to 1, gave the visitors a consolation run.

They Go Ahead in Sixth.

The Sox struggled in vain thru the first five innings, during which they made only four hits off Al Smith, all singles, and no two in the same inning.

Dykes' boys went ahead with two runs scored thusly in the sixth: With one down, Luke Appling was safe on the only error of the evening, a low throw by Lou Boudreau. Solters drew his second pass, then Bob Kennedy lined a single to right, Appling scoring and Solters racing to third, whence he scored on a single by Mike Tresh.

And this is the way the Sox scored the winning run and two they didn't need in the seventh: With one down, Myril Hoag singled to center, then Taft Wright doubled along the right foul line, tho he did not immediately get to second. As Taft rounded first he was knocked down by Hal Trosky and was waved to second by Umpire Carl Hubbard as Hoag pulled up at third.

Roger Is Sent Away.

Manager Roger Pekinpaugh argued that Trosky, being a sick man, more or less, couldn't possibly have flattened a big strong fellow like Wright and was so insistent on the subject he was ordered to vacate the premises.

When play was resumed, Appling was given an intentional pass, loading the bases. Solters followed with a double to left, Hoag and Wright scoring and Appling stopping at third. Clint Brown replaced Smith and gave an intentional pass to Kennedy. Appling then scored while Tresh was forcing Kennedy.

Solters Makes a Nice Try.

With one out in the fourth, Heath beat out an infield single and went to third on Trosky's single to left

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 15—The Cubs' two game winning streak, of which they were justly proud, was wrapped up by the world champion Reds today and thrown rudely on the memory shelf. The Cubs, not at all aroused by the fact that Vallie Eaves, their latest acquisition, was making his starting debut, were rendered impotent by Johnny Vander Meer's southpawing, whereas the weak hitting titleholders turned on enough power to whip Jim Wilson's sixth placers, 3 to 1, in the opener. The victory gave the Reds a tie for third place with Pittsburgh.

The slat like Eaves was given consideration by his pals in only one instance. Lou Stringer, the first man to face Vander Meer, sailed his fourth homer of the season over the left field wall and for three innings Eaves was able to make the run look important.

Gleeson Hits Homer.

But in the fourth Eaves threw a home run ball to Frank McCormick, the Reds' first hit, and he threw another round tripper to Jim Gleeson, ex-Cub, in the fifth for the champs' second hit. This was Eaves' total yield until the seventh, when he gave up three more, two of which promoted the Reds' extra run.

The affair was another unhappy experience for Bill Nicholson, who continues to be the cleanup hitter without doing any cleaning. Bill walked once in four appearances today. The one time he was up with a man on base, in the first inning, he fanned. So the young man now stands charged with going thru four and a fraction games without producing a base hit. However, he didn't have to feel badly about his lone strikeout on this occasion. Eight such were recorded by Vander Meer, three of them in the seventh after an error had put Stringer on second with one out.

Get Flying Start.

The failure of the Cubs to register more than six hits off Vander Meer is emphasized by the fact that they got a flying start with three in the opening inning. After Stringer's homer, Phil Cavarretta fanned, Stan Hack singled, Nicholson took his three strikes, and Hank Leiber singled, but Babe Dahlgren lined to Eddie Lukon.

Eaves singled with two out in the second, and Stringer and Cavarretta walked, but with the bags loaded, Hack tapped to the pitcher. Lieber singled in the third and Eaves again in the fourth, both with one out, and that concluded the Cubs' assault.

Middleweights Meet in Milwaukee Tonight.

BY FRANK MASTRO.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 15.—Tony Zale of Gary, Ind., middleweight champion, will meet Billy Pryor of Boise, Idaho, in a 10 round nontitle bout in Juneau park tomorrow night. It will be the Gary slugger's fourth appearance here, once since he won the championship by stopping Al Hostak in Seattle a year ago. In that appearance he was awarded a technical knockout over Tony [Cianciola] Martin, state 160 pound champion, in the Auditorium last Jan. 1, when Martin suffered an eye injury.

Altho Zale, who spends most of his time fighting in Chicago, is expected to win tomorrow, an overflow crowd of more than 40,000 will attend. The champion's appearance is one reason for this unusually high interest in a fight in this vicinity. Another important item is that Jack Dempsey will referee the main event, but the chief reason is that admittance will be free. Andy Frain will import a number of ushers from Chicago to handle the record crowd.

It's for the Eagles.

Billy Mitchell is nominal promoter of the show for a brewery, which is sponsoring the card in conjunction with the national Eagles' convention.

Pryor will be making his first start in this town, but he is no stranger to the fans. They recall that he holds two decisions over Tony Bruno, once a favorite in Milwaukee, scored in Houston, Tex., in 1939 and 1940. In one of his last starts, Bill lost in 10 rounds to Nate Bolden in Marigold Gardens, Chicago, March 3, after having Nate down for a one count in the second round.

Both Are Over Limit.

When the boxers weigh in at noon tomorrow in the Wisconsin Athletic commission offices in the Plankinton Arcade building Zale expects to scale 161 pounds and his opponent 164.

Promoter Mitchell's main aids in the show, which costs $7,500, are Harry Chesley, promotion sales manager of the sponsor; Robert Hansen, chairman of the Eagles convention committee; Arthur Ehrmann, president of the Milwaukee Eagle aerie, and William R. Rand, Chicago Stadium promoter. Rand today received word from his matchmaker, John Strachan, in Chicago, that Paul Damski, manager of Johnny Colan, has agreed to have his protége meet Zale in a 10 round overweight match in the opening indoor show in Chicago Stadium in October.

Supporting contests:

Johnny McCoy Hale, East Prairie, Mo., vs. Jimmy Pierce, West Allis [6], 156.

Doll Rafferty, Milwaukee, vs. Robert Earl, Chicago [6], 137.

Don Wallenfang, West Allis, vs. Bill Reardon, Chicago [4], 138.

Frank Pintiere, Cudahy, vs. Jerry Pietro, Chicago [4], 140.

PORTLAND GIRL SETS RECORD IN AAU SWIM MEET

High Point, N. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—Fourteen year old Nancy Merki, who was a cripple the first eight years of her life, set an American record for the 1,500 meters today as she sent her Portland, Ore., team into the lead in the AAU'S national women's swimming meet.

Nancy swam the approximate mile in 22:12.2, trimming 17 seconds off the five year old mark of Lenore Kight Wingard.

Ann Hardin of Indianapolis, 17 years old, matched her stroke for stroke over the full distance and also shattered the old record. Her time was 22:12.3. Miss Merki's performance was still shy of the world record of 21:45.7.

Multnomah club of Portland led the first day's scoring with 10 points, followed by Riviera club of Indianapolis, 8; Alexander Home, Maui, Hawaii, 5; New York City Women's Swimming association, 5; Fairmont hotel, San Francisco, 5; Worchester, Mass., Women's Swimming association, 4; Bath club, Columbus, O., 3; Detroit A. C., 2; Hopedale, Mass., 1.

200 METERS—Won by Chieko Miyamoto, Hawaii; June Fogle, Indianapolis, second; Helen Rains, New York, third; Ruth Haworth, Whitinsville, Mass., fourth.

PLATFORM DIVING—Won by Helen Crienkovich, San Francisco; Margaret Reinhold, Columbus, O., second; Shirley Condit, Detroit, Mich., third.

100 METERS—Won by Brenda Helser, Portland, Ore.; Marylin Sahner, New York, second; Dorothy Leonard, Worcester, Mass., third; Betty Bemis, Indianapolis, Ind., fourth. Time, 1:08.9.

1,500 METERS—Won by Nancy Merki, Portland, Ore.; Ann Hardin, Indianapolis, Ind., second; Dorothy Leonard, Worcester, Mass., third; Mary Ann Walter, Indianapolis, fourth. Time, 22:12.2.

Pro Elevens to Play 16 Game Practice Card

Elmer Layden, commissioner of professional football, yesterday approved a schedule of 16 exhibition games for National league teams. Five of the games involve the Kenosha, Wis., Cardinals, a strong independent team coached by Johnny Blood, a former National league star.

The champion Bears will open the exhibition schedule in Kenosha next Tuesday after the All-Star game on Aug. 28. The Bears will embark on an ambitious program which calls for three games in six days. They will meet the New York Giants in Chicago on Sept. 7, the Brooklyn Dodgers in Brooklyn on Sept. 9 and a team of All-Stars in Boston on Sept. 11.

In addition to the Bears, the Kenosha Cardinals will play the Giants, Chicago Cardinals, Philadelphia Eagles, and Cleveland Rams. Only games between National league teams which do not meet in the championship season were approved by Commissioner Layden.

The schedule:

Aug. 19—Chicago Bears at Kenosha.
Aug. 23—New York at Green Bay.
Aug. 26—Philadelphia at Kenosha.
Aug. 31—New York vs. Kenosha at St. Paul.
Aug. 31—Brooklyn vs. Stamford Bears at Stamford, Conn.
Sept. 1—Detroit at Pittsburgh.
Sept. 6—Washington intrasquad game at San Diego.
Sept. 7—New York at Chicago Bears.
Sept. 7—Philadelphia vs. Green Bay at Milwaukee.
Sept. 9—Chicago Bears at Brooklyn.
Sept. 9—Chicago Cardinals at Kenosha.
Sept. 11—Chicago Bears vs. All-Stars at Boston.
Sept. 14—Washington vs. Pinckert All-Stars at Los Angeles.
Sept. 14—Brooklyn vs. Churchill at Springfield, Mass.
Sept. 20—Washington intrasquad game at Colorado Springs.
Sept. 23—Cleveland at Kenosha.

WHIRLAWAY HAS TWO RIVALS IN TRAVERS TODAY

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 15 (AP).—Only two horses were named today to oppose Warren Wright's Whirlaway in the 72d running of the Travers over a mile and a quarter tomorrow.

Whirlaway, with Alfred Robertson handling the reins, will give away 12 pounds to his two opponents — Samuel Riddle's Lord Kitchener and William du Pont's Fairyman. Wright's Speedster has been assigned 130 pounds, the other two, 118 each.

In the 50th Spinaway for 2 year old fillies, Alfred Vanderbilt's unbeaten Petrify will oppose nine others at six furlongs with a disadvantage of from six to nine pounds in the weight allowances.

1ST GREAT LAKES TOURNEY TO DRAW FAST GOLF FIELD

Preview of U. S. Amateur Starts Monday.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Those golf loving citizens of our town who will be unable to attend the National amateur, opening in Omaha on Aug. 25, or the National Women's, teeing off in Brookline, Mass., on Sept. 8, need go no farther than Chicago's north shore next week to see two previews of same that may well outrank both. These are the inaugural Great Lakes Amateur conducted by the Chicago District Golf association and starting at the Knollwood club Monday, the day that will see the opening of the 41st Women's Western Amateur at the Exmoor club in Highland Park.

Yesterday's arrivals and entries assure both tournaments of the best fields ever presented to Chicago galleries in the same week. First on the ground was Marvin [Bud] Ward of Spokane, Wash., one of the game's greatest competitors. Ward, national champion in 1939 and winner of the Western Amateurs of 1940 and 1941, had no sooner landed than he headed for a practice round at Knollwood.

Moreland Will Play.

Other certain entries in the Great Lakes are Frank Stranahan of Toledo, 8 year old Trans-Mississippi champion from Toledo, O.; Gus Moreland of Peoria, leading qualifier in Chicago's qualifying test for this year's national; John Barnum of Elmhurst, Mexican amateur title holder for two years; Wilford Wehrle of Tam o' Shanter, national semi-finalist last year and former western winner; Walter Burkemo of Evanston, Chicago district runnerup last year, and Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., a national finalist in two of the last four tournaments.

Latest entry to be received by CDGA officials yesterday was that of red-headed, bespectacled Earl Stewart, the Texan who brought the national intercollegiate medal and championship to Louisiana State university in June. Stewart wired from his home in Dallas that he would be on the tee at Knollwood Monday.

Stars Crowd Women's Field.

The Women's Western Amateur at Exmoor, which will continue thru Saturday, Aug. 23, two days beyond the Great Lakes final, promises to be the outstanding show of an outstanding record of tournaments. Mrs. Frank Newell of Long Beach, Cal., who, as Elizabeth Hicks, won two of the Western Derbies, has notified her rivals of her presence by shooting a 74, two under par, at Exmoor. Top favorite in the event should be Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., runnerup last year and winner of a number of the WWGA's events. Other stars include Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich.; Virginia Ingram, Ellamae Williams and Eleanor Dudley of Chicago, and Mrs. Russell Mann of Omaha.

Grim Cards a 75; Leads in Glen Oak Golf

R. R. Grim of Edgewood Valley paced the field of more than 225 members and guests by one stroke after the first day of competition in the 26th annual Roundup yesterday at Glen Oak Country club with 37—38—75, three strokes over par. The final 18 holes will be played today.

On shot behind Grim was Johnny Dawson of Glen Oak, who put together nines of 38 for a 76. Tied with Johnny Dawson were Don Armstrong of Aurora, and C. R. Eichenberger of Edgewood Valley. Eichenberger was out in 41, five strokes over par, but recovered nicely on the back nine for a one under par 35.

Novotny Finishes with 78.

Finishing just before dark, Gus Novotny of Memphis, a former Chicagoan, posted two nine hole scores of 39 for a 78 to wind up in a two way tie with Bud Brown, home club champion, who scored a 41—37—78.

Seven contestants were deadlocked with 79s. They included Warren Dawson, of Glen Oak, H. F. [Hank] Bowbeer of Riverside, Dr. E. Edgerton of Wichita, Kas., Fred Wright of Glen Oak, Earl Drechsler, of the home club, Pete Bullis of Glen Oak and Bill Powell of Kansas City.

Orr Leads Net Scorers.

Harry E. Orr of Midlothian finished in the darkness to lead the net scorers with 91—23—68.

Leading scores:
Harry E. Orr, Midlothian, 91—23—68; C. R. Eichenberger, Edgewood Valley, 76—6—70; Joe Kettlestrings, Glen Oak, 81—11—70; B. H. Smith, unattached, 83—13—70; W. J. Defer McCoy in Draft; He'll Continue with A's

Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 15 (AP).—Benny McCoy can keep right on playing second base with the Philadelphia Athletics with no immediate worries from the army, the chief clerk of his draft board said tonight. Frank Wierenga of Kent county board No. 2 said he received an order signed by Deputy Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey placing McCoy in class 3-A following an appeal from a 1-A classification.

SETTLE 3 GOLF TITLES.

Three club golf championships will be settled today and tomorrow at Lincolnshire, with finals scheduled in the husband-and-wife, left handers, and junior tournaments.

White Sox and Ross Defeat Indians, 5 to 2

center. Solters made a spirited try for a diving catch of Clarence Campbell's line drive but missed and it went for a double, Heath scoring and Trosky stopping at third. Kuhel speared Mack's foul over a box customer's lid and Hemsley was given an intentional pass, loading the bases. Then Don Kolloway threw out Smith.

The Sox loaded the bases in the fourth, but couldn't tie the score and they were thwarted again in the fifth. Ross, first up, beat out a roller to Smith, but never got beyond second. Then came the sixth inning and the seventh and victory in a shower of straw hats. Nobody paid any attention to the run Walker and Heath produced in the eighth.

FORT WAYNE MAN CAPTURES SHOOT ON FLIP OF COIN

Vandalia, O., Aug. 15 (AP).—E. L. Hawkins of Fort Wayne, Ind., broke 100 targets in a row today to capture first place in the opening 16 yard event on the 42d annual Grand American Trapshoot program. Hawkins, tied with A. F. Jones of Thief River Falls, Minn., and then won the honors on the flip of a coin.

The 25 pair doubles affair wound up in a tie between Rudy Etchen of Kansas City, Mo., and P. A. Romig, veteran from Uhrichsville, O., who crashed 48 clays.

In the 50 target handicap shoot the title went to Ed Moler of Brookville, O., who broke 50 straight from the 21 yard line. Second place was split by Charles Hopkins of Alton, Ill., and E. H. Schmidt of Xenia, O., with 48.

The same preliminary program will be shot tomorrow, with the Vandalia open handicap and world championship open 16 yard event scheduled Sunday.

SHOSTROM WINS, CLARK LOSES IN PARKS TOURNEY

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 15 (AP). — The two favorites in the National Public Parks tennis tournament, Charles Shostrom, Chicago, and Willis Anderson of Los Angeles, gained the semi-finals today.

Anderson, seeded No. 2, eliminated John Clark of Chicago, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1. Shostrom, seeded No. 1, beat Norman MacDonald of Minneapolis, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4.

Phyllis Hunter, the 17 year old Watertown, C. D., schoolgirl, who yesterday eliminated Helen Germaine of New York, the defending champion, lost today to Muriel Magnuson of Minneapolis, 5-7, 6-4, 6-1. Shirley Postel of Burbank, Cal., defeated Merceina Parker of St. Louis, Mo., 6-3, 6-3.

MIDGET CARS ROAR TONIGHT AT RACEWAY

Tony Bettenhausen, Tony Willman and Emil Andres, three-A big car drivers, will meet the challenge of five outstanding midget auto racing pilots tonight in Raceway park, 129th street and Ashland avenue. The midget drivers are Ted Duncan, Jimmy Caris, Ray Richards, Mike O'Halloran and Pete Romcevich. Bettenhausen is leading in the point standing.

Twelve will qualify in four reverse order eliminations at 10 laps each for the 30 lap main event. Nonqualifiers will compete in a 15 lap consolation. The eight fastest cars in the trials will be eligible for a 15 lap handicap.

Time trials are set for 7:30 and the first race for 8:30.

Senators Beat Red Sox, 6-3, in 7 Innings

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—Alejandro Carrasquel won his sixth victory of the year against no defeats for the Senators today by turning back the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 3.

The game was called in the eighth after 40 minutes of delay due to rain. Manager Joe Cronin of the Red Sox said that he would protest because the field was not covered during the rain. He said play could have been resumed had canvas been spread.

BROWNS BEAT TIGERS.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 15 (AP).—Rookie Bob Muncrief checked the Detroit Tigers on six hits tonight while the St. Louis Browns made a like number good for a 6 to 1 triumph, largely because of Outfielder Joe Grace's third inning homer with two on base. Score:

SAILING YACHTS RACE TODAY IN ORR MEMORIAL

Sailing yachts of all Lake Michigan clubs have been invited to compete today and tomorrow in the Columbia Yacht club's second annual regatta in memory of the late Commodore W. G. D. Orr. Co-chairmen of the regatta are Commodores David C. Zimmerman and Fred W. Weston. Race Committee Chairman R. F. Hatfield will start the yachts with the aid of William J. Moore, Byron Willis, John Stieber, Brooke W. George, and Herbert Marsh, representing the Jackson Park, Chicago, Chicago Corinthian, and Chicago Yacht clubs, respectively.

A 12 mile triangular course off Grant Park harbor will be sailed today by all classes except the Stars.

Justin M. (Sam) Barry (right), newly appointed head football coach at the University of Southern California, receives the congratulations of Willis O. Hunter, director of athletics. Barry, who has been Trojan basketball coach for years, succeeds the late Howard Jones.

Rigney, Veteran of Draft, Tries Again for No. 9 Today

The Sox and Indians will play a single game this afternoon. John Rigney will make his sixth try for his ninth victory. John, hailed during his draft troubles as a "potential 20-game winner" hasn't pitched well since he beat the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 3, in Comiskey Park on July 8. Since that date he has lost four and was knocked out in his last start. He will be opposed by Jim Bagby, who was shaded by Thornton Lee, 2 to 1, in Cleveland last Sunday.

The Sox and Indians will conclude their series with a double header tomorrow. Ted Lyons and Eddie Smith will pitch for the Sox. Bob Feller and Al Milnar have been nominated by the Indians.

The Athletics, who supplanted the Sox in fourth place when the Sox were in Philadelphia on July 31, will open the final invasion by eastern teams in Comiskey Park Tuesday afternoon.

Industrial Upheaval Ends Publication of Golf Journal

New York, Aug. 15 [Special].—Fanshawe Lindsley, editor and publisher of Golf magazine, announced today that due to impossible conditions existing in the golf field, he had been forced to cease publication. Rubber and steel priorities have thrown the golf industry into confusion, he said, with the result that the 1942 advertising outlook is so bad that it would require at least $75,000 in additional working capital to see Golf magazine thru the crisis. Up to July the magazine showed a 78 per cent gain in advertising over last year.

Olsen to Face Riddle Today in Cincinnati

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 15.—Vern [Lefty] Olsen, who was blasted loose from his last two starts for the Cubs, will make another bid tomorrow in the second of the series. The Reds will turn loose their Elmer Riddle, who owns a record of 12 victories and 2 defeats.

Bill Lee, who was cut on the side of the instep by Babe Dahlgren when the two of them were trying to field a ball in last Tuesday's game in St. Louis, was in such a bad way today that one leg was useless for navigating purposes. So he was sent away for x-ray pictures which showed no fracture. However, the foot is infected and he was ordered to bed for 48 hours.

Sam Snead's 67 Leads $5,000 Times Union Open

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 15 (AP).—Sammy Snead of Hot Springs, Va., posted a 67 today to lead a field of 140 over Oak Hill's rain-sodden course in the first 18 holes of the $5,000 Times-Union open. In second place came pro Frank Commisso of nearby Irondequoit with 34—35—69. Snead posted 33—34.

STOCKS TUMBLE IN LIGHT SELLING AFTER WEAK RISE

Attempt to Extend Rally of Thursday Fizzles.

New York, Aug. 15 (AP).—Light selling put the stock market on the down grade today after an early attempt to extend Thursday's feeble rally encountered opposition.

The half-hearted upturn of the preceding session, while it was the first on average since July 28, failed to impress analysts who had expected more of a technical rebound. Offerings, consequently, increased.

The Associated Press 60 stock composite lost .4 of a point at 42.7 where it was back to around the levels of early July. The day's drop duplicated that of last Saturday.

Sales Fewest Since July 1.

Transfers of 385,470 shares were the smallest for any 5 hour stretch since July 1. They compared with 415,260 the day before.

Wall street still found scant speculative motivation in the Roosevelt-Churchill accord. A little bearishness was thought to have cropped up on the recommendation of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to the senate finance committee that the present tax bill be boosted 1,000 million dollars to 4,500 millions. Some pessimism was attributed to persistent war worries.

CHICAGO PRICES SINK.

Stock prices were sharply lower on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday with transactions totaling 17,000 shares. Of the 94 issues traded 8 finished higher, 56 lower, and 30 unchanged.

Volume leaders were Chicago corporation, 2,050 shares, unchanged at ¾, and General Motors, 600 shares, down ⅝ at 37¾. Of the dually traded stocks, Consolidated Oil closed at 6 in New York and at 5⅞ in Chicago.

CUDAHY PACKING VOTES DIVIDENDS ON SENIOR STOCK

Cudahy Packing company, Chicago, yesterday declared dividends of $3.50 and $3 toward arrears on the 7 per cent and 6 per cent preferred shares, respectively. Reynolds Spring company voted 25 cents, its first distribution since September, 1937.

Masonite corporation, manufacturer of pressed wood and insulation board products with offices in Chicago, declared an extra dividend of 25 cents on its common stock in addition to regular quarterly payments on the issue and on the preferred.

LACK OF STEEL RETARDS WORK ON CARGO SHIPS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—Inability to obtain steel fast enough to meet needs is retarding work on emergency cargo ships, the maritime commission said today. While work is "well ahead of schedule" in six of seven new yards, the commission said more keels would have been laid had steel companies been able to supply sufficient material.

Six of the seven yards building the emergency "ugly duckling" ships have laid a total of 31 keels and launchings are expected to start in October if not earlier, the commission reported.

The commission announced that it had acquired six Great Lakes cargo vessels. Five ships, averaging 2,000 gross tons each, will go to the navy for use by the coast guard. One is the Aetna, owned by the Mid-West Transportation company, Bay City, Mich. The army will receive the sixth freighter.

TAXING OF PAY, DIVIDENDS AT SOURCE URGED

Trade Group Offers Revenue Plan.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—The Chamber of Commerce of the United States proposed today revision of the pending 3,236 million dollar tax bill to provide a revenue yield of 4,500 millions and asked a 2,000 million slash in non-armament expenditures.

Ellsworth C. Alvord.

The chamber's formula, designed to improve the treasury's position by 6,500 millions annually, was contained in a statement prepared for submission to the senate finance committee by Ellsworth C. Alvord, chairman of the chamber's committee on federal finance.

Suggests Several Sources.

Contending that the bill as it passed the house would place too great a burden on present income tax payers, Alvord proposed that 1,000 millions of new revenue be obtained thru additional sales, excise, or miscellaneous taxes; 2,000 millions by means of a "withholding tax upon all compensation, dividends, and interest paid to individuals," to be collected at the source, and 1,500 millions in addition to present corporate and individual income taxes.

A member of Alvord's committee, Prof. Fred R. Fairchild of Yale, also urged adoption of the withholding tax on the ground that the pending measure placed the heaviest burden of new taxation on some seven million persons who already pay the bulk of federal taxes. Fairchild said that two-thirds of the presently estimated revenue yield from the bill would come from income taxes.

Sees Danger in Program.

"Having in mind," he told the committee, "the great heights to which the federal taxes upon incomes, corporate and individual, have already attained, there is grave danger to the government and to the economy of the nation in any such reliance upon income taxation.

"Taxation of incomes as heavy as this has a profound effect in reducing the supply of capital available for production, checking savings, and discouraging investment and business enterprise."

Fairchild said that a "very large portion" of increased national income expected from the arms program would go to some 85 per cent of the population which does not bear the burden of income and similar taxes.

Wants Tax at Source.

"It should be apparent," he declared, "that any real emergency tax program must be composed of taxes that place reasonable burdens upon all recipients of the national income. New incomes and new increases in income flowing to the great mass of non-income taxpayers should be considered, with provision for some form of collection at the source, much along the lines of a withholding tax, such as is in force in Canada, with or without devices for credits against income tax."

Urging reduction in non-armament expenditures of the government, Fairchild expressed the opinion that about 2,000 millions per year could be saved in that manner.

The witness also asked that the legislation be "devoted strictly to the primary purpose of obtaining revenue to meet the costs of defense," contending that "there is grave danger in the proposal to use the tax system as a means for controling inflation."

CALL AUTO MEN TO MEETING ON PRODUCTION CUT

Washington, D. C., Aug. 16 (AP).—Defense agencies today summoned automobile manufacturers to the capital next Thursday to decide on the curtailment of new car production.

The invitation to 18 car and parts manufacturers was sent out jointly by the Office of Production Management and the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply.

After the two agencies disagreed recently on plans for curtailment, William S. Knudsen, OPM director general, and Leon Henderson, OPACS chief, said that a program would be worked out jointly.

Car makers already have agreed to cut production of 1942 models about 20 per cent below last year's totals, but defense officials have agreed that a far greater curtailment is probable.

Files Bonds for Proposed San Francisco Bay Bridge

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (Special).—T. A. Tomasini of San Francisco today filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange commission covering a prospective $20,000,000 issue of 3 per cent Tomasini bridge revenue bonds. The proceeds would be used for the construction, operation, and maintenance of a tube and toll bridge across part of San Francisco bay from Alameda county, near Point Fleming, to Marin county, near Bluff Point.

Western Electric Lets 40% of U.S. Jobs to Other Firms

New York, Aug. 15 (AP).—The Western Electric company said today it was letting subcontracts at an approximate average rate of 40 per cent of its government orders. The company's specialty products division has farmed out 16 million dollars in purchase orders on 37 millions of government contracts.

Disclose Plan for Collection of Steel Scrap

Armament officials announced plans yesterday for obtaining scrap iron from rails and equipment no longer being used by street car and railroad lines. It also was reported that officials of many steel companies favor a country-wide scrap collection campaign, similar to that recently conducted for aluminum.

Among other industrial developments was a report formal priorities orders calling for a 50 per cent cut in production of refrigerators and a 30 per cent cut in production of washing machines will be forthcoming within the next four or five days.

WPA May Dig Up Rails.

Ralph Budd, transportation commissioner, said a proposal for removal of abandoned car line rails by WPA workers is being considered as one method of alleviating the shortage of scrap, which is important in production of steel.

Railroads, which normally supply 23 per cent of commercial scrap, will be asked to take the following steps:

1. Remove railroad sidings and tracks not actually needed for present or prospective business.
2. Dismantle promptly cars and locomotives not to be repaired.
3. Check junk tools, bridges and buildings so that those no longer needed may be utilized for scrap.

Many Tons Are Needed.

Charles Gordon, consultant on Budd's staff, estimated 232,000 tons of scrap iron are imbedded in city streets in the form of railroad or street car tracks.

Authorities admitted the proposed nation-wide scrap iron collection campaign would not be as easy as was the aluminum drive. Iron and steel scrap must be taken by tons, where aluminum was collected in pounds.

Household appliance manufacturers were told of the refrigerator and washing machine priorities earlier in the week at a conference in Washington, they said. They understood the order now being prepared will cover the three months ended October 31. The curtailments will be worked out on a quarterly basis, with an additional cut anticipated for November.

Let 17 Million Sub-Contract.

The war department announced that a $17,661,925 sub-contract had been given to Foley Brothers, Inc., St. Paul, Minn., and Walbridge-Aldinger company, Detroit, Mich., for construction of an ordnance plant near St. Paul. It is under an $86,058,331 contract with the Federal Cartridge corporation, Minneapolis, for operation and management of the plant, which will turn out .30 and .50 caliber ammunition.

Among other large armament projects announced were: Storage depot, Marietta, Pa., $5,044,600; Ferro Concrete Construction company, Cincinnati, O., construction of airplane test stands, Wright Field, Dayton, O., $1,100,000; Salt Lake City, Utah, small arms ammunition plant, $2,400,000, and six contracts totaling $2,306,608 for construction of 850 armament workers' dwellings in Ohio and Indiana.

COURT ASSAILS TVA PLANS FOR TENNESSEE DAM

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 15 [Special].—The Jefferson County court has joined in a fight against reported plans of the Tennessee Valley authority to build a dam on the French Broad river near Dandridge, about 25 miles east of here, it was learned today.

The court, in a special session at Dandridge, unanimously passed a resolution opposing any such project. The resolution asserted that the dam would flood thousands of acres of rich land, make many tenant farmers homeless, and would back water into Dandridge, historic county seat of Jefferson county. The court also asserted that a steam power plant would be more economical than the waterpower project.

Opposition to the project has become strong in the area which would be affected. It is estimated that 55,000 acres of some of the finest land in east Tennessee would be flooded if the dam were built.

Farmers Smoking Cigars Now, with Income Rising

New York, Aug. 15 (AP).—Altho many farmers stick to their corncob pipes, the Cigar Institute of America reported today it had found 5,000,000 who now smoke cigars and credited the switch to increased agricultural income.

BORDEN PROFIT RISES DESPITE BOOST IN TAXES

Other Firms Report Income Gains.

Several companies whose earnings range above the million dollar mark reported yesterday that they have fared better so far in 1941 than a year earlier.

Borden company, milk distributor and manufacturer of ice cream malted milk, cheese, and other products, announced it had a net income of $3,510,581, equal to 80 cents a share. Profit in the first half of 1940 was less at $3,302,322, or 75 cents a share.

The company said earnings on the fluid milk operations, particularly in Chicago and New York City, "continue to be unsatisfactory." Accompanying the report was a statement by the Borden-Wieland division, Borden's Chicago fluid milk unit, that the division lost 97/100ths of a cent on every dollar of sales in the six months ended June 30.

Locomotive Profit Rises.

American Locomotive company, which is $42.75 a share in arrears on preferred dividends as a result of several lean years in the engine building industry after 1930, reported a gain of nearly a million dollars in its 1941 first half profit.

Net income was $2,141,520, equal to $1.18 a common share after provision for a half year's dividends on the preferred stock, compared with $1,178,470, or nothing on the common stock, in the first six months of 1940.

Standard Oil Company of California reported June quarter net income of $7,970,883, equal to 61 cents a share, compared with $5,834,872, or 44 cents a share, in the 1940 period.

Willys Reports a Profit.

A profit for the June quarter, in contrast with a net loss a year earlier, was reported by Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., automobile manufacturing company which has large armament orders. Joseph W. Frazer, president, announced that the company's net income for the three months was $111,442. In the 1940 June quarter Willys had a net loss of $182,047.

Frazer said consolidated net sales rose to $5,853,960, from $3,658,767 in the 1940 period, a gain of 60 per cent. He said the unfilled armament order backlog was $30,335,000 on Aug. 12.

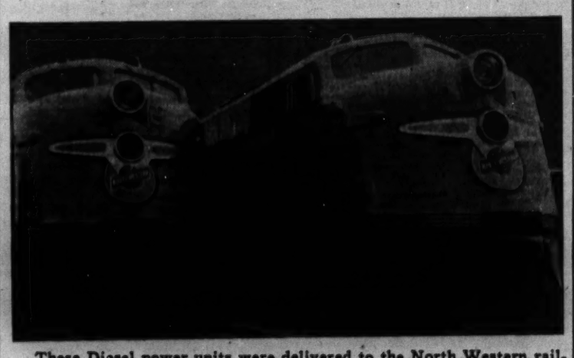
Additions to Streamlined Fleet

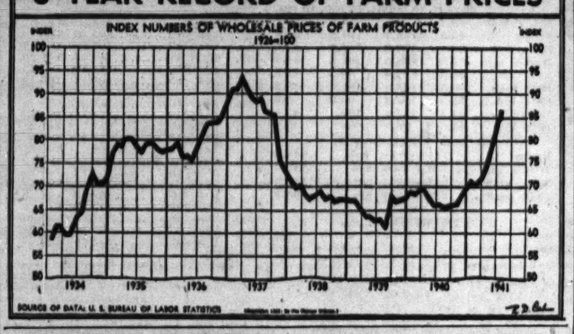


These Diesel power units were delivered to the North Western railroad yesterday as the first of five purchased for $900,000.

Two new streamlined diesel power units, each built at an approximate cost of $175,000, were delivered yesterday to the North Western railroad at its Chicago yards. They will be assigned temporarily to test runs on trains to north Wisconsin.

Three other units under a $900,000 order are to be delivered within the next few days. Each unit has 2,000 horse power and includes two Diesel motors. Four of the units were built at La Grange, Ill., by the Electro-Motive corporation and the fifth at Schenectady, N. Y., by the American Locomotive company.

8 YEAR RECORD OF FARM PRICES



HENDERSON ASKS FULL DATA ON STEEL TRADE, RETURNABLE SEPT. 2

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—Leon Henderson, price administrator, called on the steel industry today to submit complete data on its production and profits as a basis for decisions on any adjustments which might be made in the ceiling prices imposed on iron and steel products.

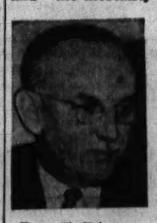
Questionnaires, which must be returned by Sept. 2, asked data on steel production by tonnage and forms, raw materials consumed, sales by products, income and expense accounts, financial position and pay rolls from each of the producers.

Henderson informed steel producers that completion of the questionnaire would be regarded as a "part of the defense program."

"All information submitted will be for the use of defense agencies only," he said. "It will not be published in any form that would reveal the identity of any individual producer."

Warns Harder Times Await Little Business

Harder times await small businesses and "the mortality rate among them will be great," the National Association of Credit Men warned its 20,000 members yesterday.



Henry H. Heimann.

In a statement issued by Henry H. Heimann, executive manager, the association cited several problems which it said imperil small manufacturers, retailers, service companies, and other little businesses handling nonmilitary goods.

Listed were these: The maze of governmental rules and regulations requiring numerous reports that work hardship on businesses too small to hire experts and clerks for such tasks; raw material priority rules which choke off supplies for making many civilian goods; lack of armament orders to offset loss of business in civilian items, and rising taxes.

Regulatory Laws Boomerang.

"Altho the road of the small business man has been hard in the last decade, it will be even tougher in the years ahead," Heimann said.

Asserting that laws aimed at helping little business by regulating big business often are boomerangs which eventually damage small enterprises, Heimann added: "One certain way to make small business smaller, less attractive, is to establish more rules to control big business.

"Congress passes laws aimed at big business. Regulatory departments of government issue rules to control big business. A tax bill is enacted to reach the earnings of big business. But in their wide scope these moves ensnare the small business man."

Raps U. S. "Haste and Waste."

Small businesses, he said, do not get many government orders under the arms program, "not because the government doesn't care to give them orders, but simply because there is haste and waste in an 'emergency' and small enterprises are overlooked."

Heimann's warning followed other recent predictions that the increasing shift to armament production will close many plants and cause unemployment in industries not adaptable to arms work.

Leon Henderson, federal price administrator, a few days ago told a house committee that the "condition exists" which could cause thousands of plants to close. He said 2 million persons may lose their jobs temporarily.

MEXICAN OUTPUT OF MERCURY ALL BOUGHT BY U. S.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—Leon Henderson, price administrator, said today that the United States was buying the entire Mexican output of more than 2,000 flasks of mercury a month and adding them to its stock pile. He predicted a decline in the present price of about $192 a flask and said the increased supplies would make more available for civilian users.

"Prices quoted currently are completely out of line," Henderson said. "In my opinion there is no reason for any private buyer to pay present prices. They should be readjusted to substantially lower levels, reflecting the new supply situation."

Name U.S. Advisory Group on Nonmetallic Minerals

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—E. R. Stettinius Jr., priorities director, appointed a technical committee today to advise the Office of Production Management on nonmetallic minerals. The new group, to prepare reports on graphite, mica, asbestos, and other strategic minerals, will function under the general advisory committee on metals and minerals.

Seek to Avert Vast Tieup of Wire Service

New York, Aug. 15 (AP).—A United States conciliator sought today to avert a threatened strike of telephone installation men which union leaders asserted might eventually tie up every Bell telephone system in the nation.

After meeting with executives of Western Electric, Inc., and leaders of the Association of Communication Equipment Workers, James W. Fitzpatrick, commissioner of the conciliation service, said he believed progress toward agreement on a contract had been made.

Vast Tieup Reported Possible.

Ernest Weaver, association president, said failure of labor and management to agree on four principal points would cause a work stoppage of 8,000 telephone installation men thruout the country and would lead to sympathy moves on the part of other telephone groups affiliated with the general federation.

Weaver said the points upon which negotiations broke down last week related to a master working agreement providing automatic progression of wages in place of the present merit system, maintenance of a union membership clause, seniority, and holiday pay for all observed holidays. He said he had received strike vote authorizations from a majority of locals in 13 cities.

OTHER LABOR NEWS

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

A two day dispute in the Briggs Manufacturing company's press department which made idle a maximum of 17,000 men there and at Chrysler corporation's Plymouth division at Detroit was settled with the return of last night's shifts to both plants.

The settlement was reached at a conference of Briggs representatives and officials of the United Automobile Workers [CIO], during which the union demanded reinstatement of three union shop stewards. Union spokesmen said they were rehired.

The CIO asked that the government, before taking any action in the Kearny, N. J., shipbuilding strike, hold a joint conference with management and union representatives "so that there can be no misunderstanding in the future on the fundamental issues and policies involved."

Wage increases for 25,000 employés of the American Woolen company, amounting to approximately $4,000,000 annually, were announced last night by Emil Rieve, general president of the Textile Workers' Union of America [CIO], in Boston, Mass. Workers in nine mills, Rieve said, would benefit. The boosts in some instances range as high as 17½ per cent for lower brackets.

MASONITE FILES NEW PREFERRED STOCK OFFERING

Masonite corporation, manufacturer of pressed wood and insulation board products with offices in Chicago, filed yesterday with the Securities and Exchange commission a registration statement covering a proposed issue of 35,000 shares of 4½ per cent cumulative preferred stock, $100 par.

According to the statement, the company plans to use the proceeds to redeem 18,419 shares of 5 per cent preferred stock now outstanding and to reimburse the corporation's treasury for expenditures in connection with an improvement program under way at its Laurel, Miss., plant. The remainder would be added to working capital. Principal underwriters of the proposed issue include Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane, New York, and Central Republic company, Chicago.

SWIFT AND CUDAHY BOOST HOURLY PAY OF 15,000 EMPLOYES

Wage increases of 5 cents an hour for approximately 15,000 employés of two major meat packing companies—Swift and Cudahy—were announced yesterday. The increase is retroactive to Aug. 11.

Approximately 5,000 hourly wage employés of Swift & Co. in Chicago will benefit. Swift has about 32,000 employés in its 42 United States plants that are paid by the hour. Yesterday's announcement affects only Chicago workers and the question of increases in its other plants will be handled locally, officials said.

The Cudahy Packing company does not have a plant in Chicago, but wages of 450 to 500 employés of the East Chicago, Ind., plant where it makes a cleanser, glue, and soap, will be hiked. All unskilled women workers paid by the hour by Cudahy will get a 6 cents an hour increase.

Officials of both companies said they could not tell how much the increase would add to their yearly payrolls. Armour & Co. and Wilson & Co. had announced wage increases for their employés earlier in the week.

18 MONTH LIMIT IS PROPOSED ON TIME PAYMENTS

Would Cover Autos and Small Loans.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—As a first and tentative step in combatting inflation by tightening up on credit, the federal reserve board proposed today that the maximum spread on numerous characteristic instalment payments be fixed at 18 months.

This would include cash loans of less than $1,000, and purchases of such items as automobiles, both used and new, radios, airplanes, power-driven boats, outboard motors, motorcycles, refrigerators, washing machines, ironers, vacuum cleaners, stoves and ranges, dishwashers, air conditioning units, radios, oil burners, furnaces, water heaters, plumbing and sanitary fixtures, and small residential repair contracts.

One-Third Down on Autos.

To supplement this restriction, it suggested, too, that a minimum down payment of one-third be exacted on automobiles, airplanes, boats, and motorcycles; 20 per cent on radios, refrigerators, and similar household appliances, and 15 per cent on plumbing and air conditioning units.

The board's chairman, Marriner S. Eccles, explained that these restrictions were intended for discussion purposes, as the board swings into the new inflation control assignment given it early this week by President Roosevelt.

The purpose is two fold: To keep prices down by eliminating a part of the present instalment buying and thus reducing the volume of purchasing power; and to curb the manufacture of products which eat up materials needed for the production of armaments.

Basis for Future Control.

"It is proposed," Eccles said, "in the initial regulations covering only a limited number of articles and applying only moderate terms to lay a basis for such subsequent coverage and adjustment of terms as experience in this field and economic development may indicate to be necessary."

The proposal was presented during the day to a meeting of leading dealers, bankers, and other interested business men for their approval and discussion. On the basis of their suggestions and further conversations within the board it is expected that a revised draft and revised regulations will be issued next week. These regulations will be compulsory.

To enforce the new system, the board suggested that licenses be issued to all banks, stores, and other agencies which give instalment credit. The licenses of violators would be revoked and they would be forbidden to make any further sales on an instalment payment basis.

Will Be Ordered by Roosevelt.

When issued, the regulations will be put into effect by an executive order of President Roosevelt directing the federal reserve board to use World war powers to restrict credit. As promised previously, the proposed regulations dealt only with instalment credit, and not regular charge accounts or straight loans payable in lump sums. Cash transactions also are not affected, nor instalment contracts made before the regulations go into effect.

The proposals provided that dealers and bankers may give more liberal credit to persons signing statements of "necessity to prevent undue hardship." Creditors also were promised immunity from punishment for "honest mistakes" which violate regulations, and also were excused for relying on any false statements made by their customers in writing.

Duplan Silk Corporation to Vote on Change in Name

Because its use of silk has declined in recent years, Duplan Silk corporation will change its name to Duplan corporation if stockholders approve the step at a meeting Sept. 9.

OPM Pushing Efforts to Halt Plant Closings

Efforts to prevent the spread of plant closings and unemployment in the aluminumware and silk processing industries were pushed on several fronts yesterday.

At Cleveland, O., representatives of the aluminumware manufacturers met with spokesmen for the motor and aircraft industries at a conference called by the Office of Production Management. The motor and aircraft makers are receiving much of the aluminum which formerly went into kitchenware, and the aim of the parley was to find ways to use the ware makers' men and machines in production of armament items.

Discuss Plane Parts Work.

Officials of the Aluminum Wares association, representing 23 companies, were among the 21 conferees. After a morning session at which possibility of making airplane parts, shell fuses, soldiers' equipment, and battleship furniture in aluminumware plants was discussed, the group visited two such plants in the afternoon.

SAVINGS IN SHOE LACES!

Wilmington, Del., Aug. 15 (AP).—Half a million pounds of metal, mostly tin, may be saved for defense this year thru substitution of plastic in those tiny metal tips on shoe laces, E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. reported today. It said more than 500 million laces would use plastic instead of metal for the tips.

The discussions were limited to technical questions. One of these was the ability of such plants to meet standards of accuracy required for aircraft parts work. One of the officials said: "There is no doubt that we can use the men. What we have to determine is whether we can use the machines."

In Washington, D. C., Sidney Hillman, associate director of OPM, called a conference aimed at finding jobs in armament industries for workers laid off by silk mills following the government ban on use of silk in civilian goods.

Calls Silk Meeting Tuesday.

Hillman asked 15 labor leaders from the Philadelphia area, center of the industry, and representatives of 15 companies holding armament contracts to meet with government officials in Washington Tuesday.

It was disclosed in Washington that a plan for the sale of 3 per cent of the daily production of rayon to manufacturers of nonhosiery products formerly made from silk has been drawn up by government officials. The plan was formulated by a committee representing the OPM and the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supplies. Approval of the program is expected shortly.

DEADLINE TODAY FOR REGISTERING FIRMS' OWNERS

The owners of an estimated 11,000 unincorporated businesses operating in Cook county under names other than their own had complied with a new state law by last night and registered their names and addresses with County Clerk Michael J. Flynn. An estimated 150,000 firms will be affected by the law in Cook county and thousands more thruout Illinois.

The deadline for registering is today. A filing fee of $2 is required. A member of Flynn's staff said registrations would be received until late tonight.

Lawyers and businessmen said yesterday they were puzzled concerning certain provisions of the law. One, they noted, makes it unlawful to transact business, without filing, under any "style, corporate or otherwise." Another section, however, states that the act shall not apply to any corporation duly organized under state laws. Another exempts testamentary or express trusts in which business is carried out in the name of the trust, with title vested in a designated trustee. Attorneys said, for example, reorganized buildings usually have the title in some form of trusteeship, but seldom bear the names of the trustee as part of the official title.

Chicago Fall Market Opening Sets Sales, Attendance Marks

Orders for approximately 30 million dollars in apparel and general merchandise were booked during Chicago's three week Fall Market Opening, which closed yesterday, the Chicago Association of Commerce estimated.

The volume of orders, largest since 1929 and possibly an all-time high, constitute about a 50 per cent increase over the 18 to 20 million dollars in orders booked during the Fall Market Opening last year.

Attendance Tops 25,000.

Leverett S. Lyon, chief executive officer of the association, said the attendance exceeded 25,000 merchants and store buyers, an all-time record.

The estimates, Lyon said, are based on information from members of the association's special market committee, which met yesterday noon.

The increases were due, the association said, principally to 18 per cent better retail business in the Chicago trade area; the hosiery rush Aug. 2, which encouraged buyers, and the fact the market offered more merchandise for sale and more entertainment for visiting buyers.

Wide Variety Offered.

During the market, 2,100 local manufacturers and 900 out of town companies offered merchandise in the following fields: Women's, children's, and infants' apparel; dry goods, general merchandise, specialties, gifts, artware, novelties, 5 cents to $1 merchandise, variety goods, china, glassware, and pottery.

Lyon estimated that last week, second week of the market, 60 per cent of the market's business was transacted and attendance was 70 per cent of the total.

Nation's Sales Up

New York, Aug. 15. (AP).—This week has been an exceptionally active period for retailers, wholesalers, and general business, Dun & Bradstreet said today.

"As sales gains surpassed those of recent weeks in such lines as cotton goods, blankets, furs, refrigerators, and silverware," the agency said, "some retailers reported the rush on women's hosiery touched off a wave of 'scare buying' in a number of staples.

"All sections of the country were having their lightest summer lull in years. Wholesale purchasing continued at record breaking proportions. Manufacturers and wholesalers had already resorted to allotment schemes to restrict overbuying. In several lines retailers, too, were now beginning to set limits to the quantity each consumer might purchase."

REVEAL PROXY BATTLE TO RULE ALLIED MILLS

Atwood Asks Ouster of 3 Directors.

The start of a proxy battle for control of Allied Mills, Inc., big Chicago feed and distillery products manufacturer, was disclosed yesterday. The annual meeting at which the issue will be decided will be held Sept. 3.

Harry G. Atwood, son of Allied's chairman and president who died last June, has been soliciting proxies to unseat three of the present directors, it was learned. He charges in a letter accompanying the proxy statements that these three members of the board are neither actively engaged in company business nor are they large stockholders, yet they constitute a majority of the board.

On the other side of the battle, it was learned last night, the management will mail today to stockholders the slate for which it seeks support. The names of these candidates will be disclosed Monday.

Members Atwood Opposes.

The board members Atwood opposes are Harris Perlstein, president of the Pabst Brewing company; J. D. Buhrer, vice president of Corn Products

Refining company, and Carl S. Miner, owner of laboratories in Chicago bearing his name.

Atwood is vice president of Allied's subsidiary, Century Distilling company, Peoria. His proposed directorate includes himself, J. B. DeHaven, Allied president, and T. G. Lovelace, present board members; H. J. Buist, Allied vice president and treasurer, and Guy A. Thomas, chairman of Commander-Larabee Milling company, Minneapolis.

In his letter to the shareholders, Atwood asserted that Perlstein, Buhrer, and Miner together own less than one-half of 1 per cent of outstanding stock, but that together they are a majority of the board. He listed their total holdings as 3,206 shares, of which Perlstein holds 2,904. In 1940, the company had 812,220 shares outstanding.

Argument of Atwood.

"The stockholders should not permit this company, with its great resources, to become a financial football in a field of directors whose stock ownership is only nominal, and hence have little to gain or lose in the success or failure of the company," Atwood declared in his letter.

But later developments indicated some confusion over the lineups. President De Haven issued the following statement last night:

"The Atwood letter was sent out without even waiting to learn the details of the management slate which was filed with the Securities and Exchange commission 10 days ago. At the insistence of Harris Perlstein who has served as a board member for eight years, and Carl S. Miner, who has served four years, their names were omitted from the management's slate. Both became members of the board at the request of Hinckley G. Atwood, president, and after his death both insisted on being relieved of their duties because of the pressure of personal affairs."

Lists 79,323 Shares.

Stock holdings listed for Atwood and the other members of his slate totaled 79,323 shares, with Atwood and his family owning 56,532 of these.

Allied Mills was incorporated in 1929 as a holding and operating company to acquire the entire capital stock of the American Milling company and the McMillen company. The senior Atwood was president of American Milling.

ORDER PRICE TOP ON BURLAP 20% BELOW MARKET

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—The Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply tonight ordered price ceilings on burlap approximately 20 per cent lower than recent spot market quotations, effective tomorrow.

Noting that burlap prices had risen more than 100 per cent in the last 12 months, OPACS said that "these increases have added unjustifiable costs to American agriculture as well as to industry and the ultimate consumer."

PRICE CEILINGS WILL NOT WORK, BANK DECLARES

Asserts Wages and Ocean Rates Cause Rise.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 15 (AP).—Freezing of commodity prices is "impracticable" unless wages also are fixed as of the corresponding date, the Cleveland Trust company asserted today in its monthly business review.

The banking firm made this observation in connection with advances in ocean freight rates, said to be an important element in commodity price increases.

"At the end of July of this year the average of 11 imported commodities in the price index compiled by the Bureau of Labor Statistics had reached 160 [taking the August, 1939, average as equal to 100], while the figures of domestic goods advanced to only 146," the bulletin reported.

Can't Control Cargo Rates.

"The price administrator cannot control price advances that result from increased cargo rates. There has been much advocacy of plans to fix or freeze all commodity prices by imposing a ceiling as of some given date. Of course, that is impracticable unless we also fix wages of a corresponding date, and it is also impossible with respect to imported goods."

Adaptation of existing industrial facilities for production of munitions instead of normal peacetime goods was reported to have become really important to the nation's economy only recently.

Arming Effects to Grow.

"From now on and until the end of the emergency, it will be progressively important," the bank asserted. "It is most conspicuous in the automobile industry, but it will profoundly affect others, necessitating adjustments, impairing corporate earnings, and causing temporary and vexatious unemployment. One of its chief features will be shortage of materials.

"In the long run these forced changes will probably prove helpful rather than harmful. They will impel us to develop new materials, improve productive methods, develop new kinds of mass production procedures, and increase our faith in national capacities to cope with difficult industrial problems."

PROFIT MARGIN WIDENS.

I noticed in a recent market letter that Quaker State Oil Refining corporation had a 475 per cent boost in profit in the first six months. Was this accounted for by larger sales? What has been the recent trend in earnings?—K. C. H.

Answer: The Quaker State Oil Refining corporation, Oil City, Pa., retained net profit of $916,847 out of net sales of $12,037,555 in the first half of this year, or a profit margin of approximately 7.6 per cent.

This compared with net profit of $159,245 from net sales of $13,458,056, or a profit margin of 1.2 per cent, in the first half of 1940.

Altho sales declined in the 1941 period, the wider profit margin resulted in larger net income. Earnings in the first half were equal to 99 cents a share on 927,305 shares of $10 par capital stock, against 17 cents a share in the corresponding 1940 period.

Results in the last five years follow:

	Net income.	Earned per share.	Dividends per share.
1936	$1,041,034	$1.12	$1.10
1937	1,029,250	1.11	1.10
1938	515,116	0.56	0.50
1939	1,584,026	1.71	1.10
1940	347,832	0.38	0.80

The company has paid dividends continuously since the present company was formed in 1931. This year two dividends of 15 cents each were distributed, and a third of 25 cents a share will be paid Sept. 15 to holders of record Aug. 29.

A refiner of Pennsylvania crude petroleum, the company markets various brands of motor oil, lubricants, and greases.

RAIL EARNINGS.

Have railroad earnings registered any marked gain from the effects of the armament program?—P. B.

Answer: Earnings of Class I railroads of the country in the first half of this year were at an annual rate of 4.07 per cent on their investment. This rate compared with 2.32 per cent in 1940 and 3.46 per cent in the first half of 1930.

CONTROLED BY READING.

What railroad controls the Gettysburg & Harrisburg railroad?—J. W.

Answer: The road is controled by the Reading company.

TOP LIGHT HOGS RISE BRISKLY IN BETTER DEMAND

The market for light new crop hogs rose 10 to 15 cents yesterday, with some stock showing even more gain. Top loads were 10 cents higher at $11.70 a hundred pounds. Recent declines in lard prices curtailed the demand for heavier hogs.

Prices for the majority of good slaughter lambs remained unchanged for the fifth consecutive session. All classes of cattle sold steady.

RAILS PRESENT ARGUMENTS IN WAGE RULE CASE

Railroad representatives presented their arguments yesterday before the National Mediation board at the Drake hotel in the controversy between railroad management and labor over wages and rules. They will continue their presentation this morning.

On Monday the board is scheduled to meet with representatives of the "Big Five" operating brotherhoods and in the afternoon with representatives of the 14 nonoperating brotherhoods.

The railroad workers have asked for wage increases which the railroads have estimated would add 900 million dollars annually to operating costs and which the unions estimate would total about 600 millions. The railroads have asked for revision of rules covering working arrangements.

SOY BEAN UPTURN LIFTS MARKETS FOR ALL GRAINS

Wheat Closes Higher After Wide Fluctuations.

Persistent buying of soy beans futures by commission houses advanced prices about 3 cents a bushel over the early low point on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. Closing sales were at gains of 2¾ to 2½ cents with October at $1.45⅝.

Reports that fairly large sales of bean meal were bing made for deferred shipment led to a belief that some mills might be protecting themselves against an advance in prices by purchassing futures.

Grain Markets Advance.

Strength in soy beans affected the grain markets and caused numerous sharp rallies. Wheat had a range of around 1⅜ cents and finished ⅝ to ¾ cent higher at $1.12⅛ for September. Corn showed stubborn resistance to selling and closed ⅝ to ¾ cent higher. Processors were good buyers of oats with the close ⅜ to ½ cent higher. Rye advanced ⅛ to ¾ cent. Lard futures gained 5 to 10 cents per hundred pounds.

Rains Help Crop Outlook.

Rains covering a considerable part of central and northern Illinois and Indiana brought much needed moisture for growing soy bean and corn crops.

Reports from the southwest indicated that farmers showed more disposition to sell cash wheat as prices there were within a few cents of the government loan basis. There was some commission house buying of futures in Chicago.

RAILROADS SHOW PROFIT UPTURN FOR SIX MONTHS

Increase in railroad business was reflected in earnings reported yesterday by railroads for the first six months of the year. The Santa Fe railroad reported net income for the first six months of $7,701,498 against a net loss of $1,672,562 for the same period last year. The Pennsylvania had net profit in the first six months of $17,110,378 compared with a revised net income of $13,443,637 for the corresponding period last year.

Throng in the grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel yesterday during the annual Chicagoland Music Festival luncheon, held each year on the day before the festival and attended by festival participants and other guests. Preparations have been made for 85,000 persons who are expected to attend the music festival in Soldiers' field at 7:30 o'clock tonight. An evening of music and other entertainment has been arranged. The festival is sponsored by The Tribune. (Story on page 3.)
